WORK TO START WITHIN MONTH

Shopping Center Planned for East End

By FRED C. SELBY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Pottstown's East End will get a new shopping center with eight stores, including that fast-growing section's first grocery.

Charles S. Nagle, veteran East End automobile dealer, who will build the center, announced yesterday that construction is expected to start within a month and that, weather permitting, the center should be ready for occupancy within four or five months.

The center will be along the west side of Moser road, just south of High street.

The shopping center will have off-street parking space for 50 cars, with exits to the surrounding streets, Nagle reported.

The tract on which he'll build the center has a frontage on Moser road of 284 feet. He owns the land. The grocery, Nagle reported, will be "a modern, self-service grocery with approximately 6000 square feet of floor space."

In addition, he said, he has planned for "seven other stores—rooms of various sizes which will accommodate a hardware store, delicatessen store, dress shop, haberdashery shop, gift shop and professional offices."

PLANS AND specifications for the center have been drawn up by architects of Sanders and Thomas, incorporated, High and Hanover streets. Contract for the construction job has been let to Tighman K. Hausman, Pottstown RD 3.

Nagle, whose Nagle Motors incorporated is at 1340 High street, two blocks west of Moser road, and whose home is also in the East End, at Wilson road and Burdard drive, said that for several years, he had been urged by many fellow-East Enders to build a modern grocery store there.

He conceded that a grocery store was needed badly but added, "A grocery isn't the only store we need."

There will be a streamlined canopy, ten feet wide, extending from the top of each store-front, so that shoppers can be protected while entering and leaving the stores in bad weather.

Each store also will have an

COURT ASKED FOR ADVICE ON SOBRIETY TEST

Knause Seeks to Install Device to Crack Down On Tippy Driving

By ROBERT E. HOYER
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Borough officials have asked the Montgomery county district attorney's office whether the county would accept testimony on drunken driving cases based on a scientific, chemical test.

J. Wayne Knause, Seventh ward's veteran GOP chairman of council's finance committee, last night, said, "We're checking with the DA's office and if we get a favorable reply I think I'll recommend this test."

Knause was referring to the test initiated by Reading city police this past month.

It includes a balloon and canister and measures the alcoholic content of the motorist's blood from a sample of breath.

SOLICITOR C. Edmund Wells has reported the device is legal, but he explained the borough should get an indication from the DA's office or the Montgomery county bench whether evidence from the mechanical tester would be accepted in court.

Knause has called a meeting of his finance committee prior to council next Monday night.

He will review the need for some positive way to charge and convict drunken drivers in the borough.

For the past five years, the borough has not had a police physician.

Burgess William A. Griffith finally submitted a plan to Knause for the hiring of a police physician at $1000 a year.

Knause opposed the salary and supported his views with figures on drunken driving cases in the past few years.

In 1950 there were only 14 drunken driving cases in Pottstown. In 1949 there was one less.

THE BALLOON and canister tester now being used by Reading is considered not expensive by officials there.

Each tester can be purchased for $4.50. The manufacturer will refund $1.70 for each used canister.

Samples of the offender's breath are checked in Reading hospitals.

Reading got the idea from Eric, which has used the sys-

Continuing Fight On Hot-Rodding Set After Hearing

Boyetown officials last night promised a continuing war on "hot-rod-rod" after a hearing for a Pottstown RD 3 motorist, charged with a series of traffic violations.

Karl Klutschkowski, 18, pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving and horn-blowing before Justice of the peace Earl H. Keim while Burgess James A. Fritz, Chief Henry E. Groff and members of council looked on.

After the hearing Groff, who arrested nine motorists for reckless driving the past month, asserted, "We will stop at nothing to break up hot-rod-rod here in town."

"It is not our intention to operate a fine-and-cost mill. We're interested in the welfare of our citizens and wild driving in the borough must stop."

BURGESS Fritz asserted, "I'm backing up the chief 100 percent on that. Hot-rod-rod has become a menace in the borough, and we must break it up once and for all time."

Council has endorsed the crack-down on violators and two members, Merrill Swinehart and Clifford Levensong, attended last night's meeting.

Representing the borough at the hearing was Solicitor H. Leon Breidenbach.

Klutschkowski, who was arrested for a series of traffic violations on the night of this past Sept. 18, admitted to the two charges, but denied he was driving several hours later (the following morning) when Groff charged the car owned by the RD 3 youth, "tried to run me down on South Reading avenue."

Members of the three Pottsgrove school boards, and other school officials, met with the county superintendent of schools last night in an unpublished meeting.

When the school officials were finished for the evening, three decisions had been reached:

1. The three townships would work out a plan for three-district consolidation.

2. The school administrators would work out a thorough study on the costs of a three-district jointure.

3. The three districts would continue to co-operate with Pottstown on planning a program for the four districts.

Only a month ago, the Pottstown school board started afresh the talk of consolidation and suggested that two representatives from each of the Pottsgroves and Pottstown meet to study the facts concerning a possible jointure.

One meeting was held about two weeks ago, at which the representatives sat down together and discussed the various problems facing each community.

Prankster Sounds Alarm Despite Fire Week Drive

Fire Prevention Week was hit a foul blow below the belt last night. A prankster with a strange sense of humor turned in a false alarm about 9 p. m. that sent equipment from two fire companies rushing to Walnut and Franklin streets.

many Pottstonians for their apathy towards the fire prevention efforts, was glib last night as he told The Mercury about the false alarm.

"Whoever did it sure has a strange sense of humor," he said.

However, the fire companies' week-long campaign to stop fires resulted yesterday afternoon in the inspection of five Pottstown business establishments.

The names of the five firms were chosen from a hat, in which names of all business establishments were placed.

Chief Lindauer and representatives of the borough's four fire companies then made thorough inspections of the premises.

"We found violations in one of them," the chief said. "That one had defective wiring and no fire extinguishers."

The firm was served a notice and the condition must be rectified within a certain number of days, the chief said.

No other firms will be inspected, according to the chief. The rest of the week will be devoted to the inspection of schools.

"Today we inspected St. Clair and Jefferson schools," he said. Tomorrow we'll go through Rupert and St. Peter's."

The inspection of the business firms lasted from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m.

But throughout the day two fire trucks were on display on High street, between Hanover and Penn streets, to make Pottstonians more aware of the significance of this week.

Then there are the men who run the public address system and the ones who look after team equipment.

Good didn't include the bands that play at the games.

Some people would say the playing in a band is work; others would disagree. It's not paid work, anyway.

The Scouts wrote to governors of all the States, asking for samples of each kind of rock and mineral found there.
U. S. production of coke last year was four times that of England and twice as much as the estimated Soviet production.

RUMLER REPORTS ON PLANS TO INCREASE STAFF

Limerick Board Hears Recommendations On Boosts

President Frank Rumler reported to fellow-members of Limerick school board last night on recommendations made by a county committee concerning the Montgomery county superintendent's office.

A committee of the county directors' association this past Sept. 29 recommended salary and personnel increases of the county superintendent's staff.

The committee favored the recommendations by a 12 to 5 vote, and they will be brought up at the county convention of school directors next month.

A report on the proceedings of the committee meeting will be mailed to all directors who serve under the county superintendent, all directors representing fourth class districts.

RUMLER spoke out against the increase. He asserted, "I think the money should be retained on the local level."

Ernest Leidenberger, president of the school league, asked directors to send one member to the league's monthly meeting to make progress reports.

Supervising Principal Howard A. Michener reported an enrollment of 458 in the six grades, a figure officials did not expect to reach until 1956.

The new school has just about reached its capacity enrollment with the 458 figure.

Tax collector Franklin Roth reported $2072 collected in taxes for the month. Total collections now have reached $104,870.

DIRECTORS Rumler, Harry Y. Leopold, Dr. Ivan W. Hess, J. Edward Wood Sr., and Earl Schlichter were present.

The property committee reported the completion of resurfacing of a playground and parking area.

J. A. Sisto Is Invited To Federal Conference

J. A. Sisto, board chairman of Barium Steel corporation, of which Pottstown's Jacobs Aircraft Engine company is a subsidiary, is one of a group of industrial leaders invited by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson to attend the joint civilian orientation conference, it was announced yesterday.

The conference will be held Oct. 29 through Nov. 6 in Washington D. C.

Holy Name Society Completes Plans for Philadelphia Rally

Final preparations were made last night for the participation of Pottstown's Holy Name society in the Philadelphia Archdiocesan Holy Name Union Quinquennial demonstration this Sunday.

About 185 Pottstown area men will leave from the rear of the St. Aloysius school Sunday at 4 p. m.

Four buses will take the men to Philadelphia. Assembly time will be at 6 p. m. on the east side of South Broad street, between Walnut and Locust streets.

The parade will start at 7 p. m. and the solemn Pontifical mass will be held at 9 p. m. at the Washington monument on the parkway.

Each man will be given a medal of Our Lady of Fatima and a prayer book before leaving Pottstown.

Those present at the meeting last night were Angelo Palladino, William Roberts, Frank Koir, Daniel Churach, Thomas Kassell, Eugene Stofko, Stephen Vagasky, Sylvester Peterka, George Parvenski.

The meeting was in charge of Charles Palladino.

1900 Persons Visit 3-Day Antique Show

Over 1900 persons attended the three-day antique show that ended last night at Sunnybrook ballroom.

Total paid admissions were 1909, with opening day drawing 790 of them.

Paid attendance on Tuesday and yesterday were 638 and 481, respectively.

"It was the most successful show we've had so far," said Silas Stahl, co-chairman of the show sponsored by Montgomery county antique dealers association.

He called it best both from the standpoint of sales and interest shown by visitors.

The show was open from 11 a. m. to 11 p. m. each day.

An added attraction yesterday was a quilting demonstration by women of Skippack Brethren church.

Pottstown Teachers association yesterday donated $1000 to the United Fund.

The contribution was made during discussion on the 1953-54 budget presented by budget committee chairman, Karl Schumacher.

President Mrs. Elisabeth Stevenson and Miriam Ludwig were named delegates to the Pennsylvania State Educational association convention in Harrisburg in December.

Frances Lachman and Esther Seeders were named delegates to the conference of classroom teachers at Bedford Springs next month. The budget report included gifts to the retired in membership in the PSEA and the National Educational association (NEA).

Marion Giles, past president, and A. Edna Hutt, reported on meetings of the Montgomery County Educational conference.

Dorothy Barkel read a complete revision of association by-laws.

The afternoon session was conducted in the Junior High school.

Mrs. Stevenson presided.

were on exhibit as part of the hobby show held by the members.

Henry Rahn and Harry Brant assembled the collections from those they turned up while plowing on their farms.

Robert E. Meloy contributed one of the tomahawks from his farm. Rahn and Brant also had one each.

Of the 25 hobby exhibits, one contained 200 salt and pepper shakers. It was displayed by Mrs. Ruth Levegood.

Other exhibits included rabbits, chickens, stuffed animals and rugs. Elsie Shaner displayed the biggest rug, Marcus Barrett the biggest rabbit and Mrs. Francis Shott the most rugs.

Fifty-seven members attended the meeting.

Pottstown's Prides

The shrubs and trees that spruce up this home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Miller at 1466 Cherry Lane were put in the past summer by the Millers.

Downstairs, a feature is the bedroom converted into a television room. Also downstairs are the living room, about 13 by 16 feet; kitchen, bedroom and bath.

Upstairs are two more bedrooms which the Millers painted and papered themselves.

The house was finished in 1949 by Stanley Swinehart, Pottstown builder.

Miller is an appliance serviceman for Levitz Furniture company.

His wife, Arlene, formerly was a secretary for the late Richard H. Cadmus.

Sewer, Road Jobs Reported Complete

The completion of sewer and road improvements was reported by West Pottsgrove commissioners last night.

A 900-foot sewer line along Old Reading pike and a rebuilt Elm street from East Vine to Howard streets for 900 feet were among summer improvements.

Elm street was completely rebuilt with a six-inch base and two-inch top.

President Peter Dori presided at the brief session. Commissioners present were Elmer Hampton, William Regan, Charles Frech and Charles Endy.

Postoffice Clerks Elect

Officers for the coming year were elected by Pottstown postoffice clerks at their meeting last night.

Brower Knaster was made president of the group.

Other officers for the year are Dawson Reynolds, vice president; and Leonard Moser, secretary-treasurer.

Fifteen attended the meeting at the home of Leonard Rhoads.

Refreshments were furnished by the sponsors of the meeting—Harold, Leonard and Norman C. Rhoads, Donald Wanner and Harry Yohn.

The next meeting will be held on Jan. 6, Secretary Moser said.

STREET PROGRAM NEARS FINISH

Three-Quarters Of Rebuilding Complete

Seventy-five percent of the more than two-mile, $82,000 street rebuilding program, under construction by E. J. Breneman, Warwick Settlement, will be completed by early next week.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden last night said Breneman will lay approximately 1200 tons of blacktop on North Franklin street, Mervine to Prospect streets, and Grace street, Evans to Washington streets, today, tomorrow and Monday.

When these two projects are completed, 75 percent of Breneman's contract, let this past June, will be fulfilled.

Initial construction began on streets late in June.

GULDEN ANNOUNCED the finishing touches are being applied to a 17,000-foot storm sewer along Spruce street.

Contractor J. R. Christ, Boyertown, is installing the 36-inch reinforced concrete pipe along Spruce street.

The new sewer, which will eliminate knee-deep water along Spruce street after heavy rains, will include inlets at Grace, Maplewood and Mineral streets.

For a number of years Spruce street, a natural draining source for water which flows from the hilly section, has been flooded after heavy downpours.

Flagg Union, Company Negotiators Hope for Settlement at Session Today

Union and company negotiators will make a fresh start toward settlement of the nine-week-old Stanley G. Flagg company strike today.

Hopes for a settlement of the prolonged shutdown will flicker a little higher when rival representatives meet at the Valley Forge hotel, Norristown.

Neither side last night would wager a guess on the outcome of this third meeting since the strike began this past Aug. 1.

Last night there was only hope, no indication of what may happen when officials of Local 2326, United Steel Workers (CIO), and the firm get together.

PREVIOUS UNsuccessful sessions were held on Sept. 3 and 16.

At the last meeting, the company offered a general 8½-cent hourly wage increase, and for the first time offered a pension plan which would go into effect in 1954.

The company offer included a provision the contract run until August, 1955, without a wage reopening clause.

The union rejected the proposal.

The union has demanded a

16-cent hourly boost, a pension plan and a co-operative wage study program similar to plans in other firms of the industry.

Representing the union at today's conference will be President Clarence Matz, Vice President Raymond Wilkinson, Leonard Harp, Willard Richards, Steve Kloplosky, William Ludy and International Representative William Robbins.

Attending for the company will be Ralph A. Lind, labor consultant; Stanley P. Elliott, assistant general superintendent and personnel director; and Alden J. Ramsdell, assistant to Elliott.

Charles Schmidt of the State Mediation bureau also will attend.

GROUP EXPECTS TO CUT MILLAGE

Colebrookdale Board Awaits Figures on Assessment

Colebrookdale township supervisors last night spoke out in favor of lowering the millage on property taxes when final official assessment figures for the township are released.

The new unofficial assessment figure for township properties is $2,213,775, an increase from $1,294,125.

The reassessment job was handled by the county. Supervisor William Shane pledged with others his support of a cut in millage by 1954.

A township representative will be present at a Public Utilities commission hearing on the reconstruction of Legislative Route 06026, which ultimately will be linked to reconstructed Route 100. Supervisors John Hartman, Shane and George Bechtel and Secretary Henry Wersler attended the session in the township building.

200 Employees Of Firestone Plant To Travel to Game

Two hundred salaried employees of Firestone Tire and Rubber company's Pottstown plant will take a special Reading company train Saturday to attend the Navy-Cornell football game in Baltimore, Md., as guests of the company.

E. T. Handley, plant manager, reported that the deluxe train, with two diners, three coaches and a club car will leave the Reading's Pottstown station at 9:55 a. m. and reach Baltimore at 2 p. m.

The 200 men will leave at 6 p. m. and be back in Pottstown about 9 p. m. They'll eat lunch and dinner on the train.

The Firestone special will consist of cars taken from the Reading company's "Wall Streeter." The cars can be spared because New York city commuter traffic is at a low ebb on Saturday.

For the Firestone employees, it will be the fifth year they've gone to a football game as the company's guests. In previous years, they've seen both professional and inter-collegiate games in Philadelphia, Princeton, N. J., and New York city.

Bus travel was tried once, Handley noted, but "nobody liked the bus."

The 200 men include office, technical and supervisory employees.

Handley added, "It looks like a nice trip, and it looks like we should have some real football weather."

Do You Remember?

Those grand old days when Pottstown and area was in its infancy—Here's another photo that may recapture a few moments of eternity for you, a picture to stir your memory and let you catch a glimpse of the past.

Little Beth Kelley with the hairbow poses with a group of young women who attended Pottstown Business college in the late 1890's, at a gathering in Sanatoga park.

The child has died, as has her father, Frederick E. Kelley, who headed the school for more than 50 years, while Mr. Kelley's widow, who lives at 245 Chestnut street, was not in close contact with classes of that era.

So, help will be needed to identify the young women. The school was founded in 1895 by Mr. Kelley and C. W. Farrar, and was in the Security building, then at 258 High street.

After Mr. Kelley's death in 1948, Pottstown Business college moved to its present location, 18 North Hanover street. The photograph was found among school records and loaned by the school's present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse A. Begel, 340 Oak street.

Hallowe'en Parade Scheduled Oct. 28; Prizes Are in Store

The Pottstown Recreation commission announced yesterday that the 1953 annual Community Hallowe'en parade will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 28. Rain night will be Oct. 29.

The parade will be held in the evening and will proceed along High street.

The Hallowe'en parade committee will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Pottstown Recreation commission office, borough hall.

On the committee will be representatives from the various local service and fraternal clubs which help to sponsor and conduct the parade. Anyone else interested in helping with the parade will be welcome at the meeting.

The parade will be open to all youngsters of school age and under, and all participants must be in costume. There will be several costume divisions, with prizes for winners in each division.

The past year over 1000 costumed youngsters took part in the parade and over $200 worth of prizes were awarded the winners. Five local school bands participated in the parade which required over 50 volunteers, from local clubs, to run.

Antarctic waters now supply about two-thirds of the world's whale catch.

Business and Press Club Sponsors Assembly Held at Junior High School

By DIANE SANDQUIST

Pottstown Junior High's third week of school was a very colorful one. It all began with an assembly put on by the Echo Business and Press club. A skit was the main part of the show. Participating in it were Sara Jane Binder, Allen Quackenbos, Janet Cote, Barbara Hill and Rebecca Clary. The varsity cheerleaders gave a few cheers and a small group of choir girls sang some songs followed by a small skit put on by Judy Dotterer and Diane Sandquist.

Next on the agenda was three professional musicians, the Wallace Chimes, performed for the student body on swiss bells, accordion, xylophone, electrified marimba and piano. Color guard and cheerleaders were also chosen. Color guard members are: guns, Joann Smith, Phyllis Breuninger, Connie Hill and Judy Rosendale; flags, Pat Peterman and Ruth Moyer. Varsity cheerleaders; captain, Judy Lambert, Margaret Daniels, Betty Bolton, Barbara Galloway, Helen Grille, Sandra Kellar, Barbara Kidon, Nancy Kurtz, Leona Pionowski, Barbara Simms and Paul Wanger.

The PJHS band, directed by William Schinstine and varsity cheerleaders presided over the first pep rally. Immediately after this the Cubs scored their first victory over Phoenixville, 26-18.

Father Permitted To Greet Son, Wife

WOKING, England, Oct. 7 (AP)—Henry T. Beaver agreed today to heed a court injunction ordering him to stay away from his wife and son but then posed this puzzle:

"Working is a very small place and if I happen to see my boy whom I love and who loves me, it puts me in a very awkward predicament. Could any man pass his own child in the street without speaking to him?"

Ruled the judge: "If you meet your wife and child by accident in the street you can say 'good morning' and 'good afternoon' and pass on but there must be nothing more than that."

The ruling was made in connection with Mrs. Elsie Beaver's divorce petition.

Rotary Club Will Meet At Elks Home Tonight

The Rotary club will hold its regular weekly meeting today at 6:30 p. m. at the Elks home.

The program for the evening will be under the direction of Joe Prince, program chairman. Charles Rohland, president, will preside at the meeting.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Not the Public, But Officials

RICHARD E. Lindauer, chief of the Pottstown fire department, is worried about the public's apathy toward fire prevention work.

"The public is not taking it seriously. Probably we'll have to prosecute some persons for violation before they will awake to the danger."

Chief Lindauer is one of Pottstown's most conscientious public officials. He is sincere, hard-working, so earnest in prosecution of his duty that he'll knock himself out to do it.

If Pottstown had more public officials of the Lindauer ilk, Pottstown would be a better, safer, cleaner place in which to live.

We have no criticism of Chief Lindauer's sincerity. But we feel the apathy does not lie with the public entirely. It is Pottstown's lack of law enforcement that causes public laziness.

Chief Lindauer indicates this himself in his statement when he declares: "We'll have to prosecute some persons before they awake to the danger."

Go ahead and prosecute them! That's the only way to obtain respect for the law.

Pottstown has one of the finest fire ordinances in the State. It is well written, has plenty of sharp teeth in it.

The Mercury is proud of this ordinance, because The Mercury campaigned hard for its passage. The fact is, The Mercury's fire prevention campaign, culminated by the writing and passage of the ordinance, won this newspaper a national fire prevention gold medal award in competition with much larger metropolitan newspapers.

All this ordinance needs is enforcement. Chief Lindauer is the man who can enforce it!

Pottstown officialdom, and this includes police and firemen, know there are too many fire law violations here. They know where they exist.

They know where junk and refuse is piled in store cellars.

They know where lives are endangered in garages, where gasoline and other inflammables are not guarded safely.

They know where lives are endangered in rickety "apartments" over garages and stables and shanties.

THEN WHY DON'T THEY CRACK DOWN ON THEM?

Because there's a sad disregard to sworn duty from the burgess right down through the building inspector's office, through the health officer's office and into the police department.

Pottstown has been treated to a most ridiculous, yet laughable attempt by the borough to clean up an alleged junkyard in a residential district. Citizens complained fire-hazardous, rotting lumber was thrown willy nilly adjacent to costly and beautiful homes. They said rats, snakes and insects infested the lot. They asked borough authorities to have the lot cleaned.

Although the alleged violator was a close relation to the commander-in-chief of the police department, the burgess could not prevail upon the alleged violator to listen to reason. He ignored pleas to rid the lot of weeds, so the health bureau could get no action over a period of years! No other borough enforcement agency got anywhere, if it tried, to gain cooperation.

So it is with other violations. Who's job to crack down? Call the police about them and you're likely to get a surly retort like: "Swear out a warrant yourself. We got nothin' to do with it!"

It is an open secret that the approach to fire ordinance compliance in the past was to frighten violators into obedience. That was done by having a policeman accompany Chief Lindauer on his tours. When Chief Lindauer pointed out violations, the cop would back him up with "Yes, you gotta do that to comply with the law."

Whereupon, all was forgotten usually by the lawbreaker and by the police. Nobody but Chief Lindauer worried about the fire hazards. He'd most likely go back in succeeding years to find the same hazardous conditions existing.

Why, Chief Lindauer, don't you crack down? You have the authority, and Pottstown knows you have the spirit and the courage. Surely, you'll tread on some toes, but what's a little illwill compared to saving some lives, much property.

Pottstown would give you its blessing and would praise you as a conscientious public official if you'd do this.

Grampaw Oakley

Editor, The Mercury, Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by The Mercury where long distance telephone calls are going up in price. The thirty no doubt will prefer "Hi" to "hello" as a greeting. It's 50 percent cheaper.

A Pottstown High school teacher says debating is a lost art. The prof, apparently, never has seen two football players trying to figure football pool selections!

And say: The pessimist is the guy who sees only the frost on the pumpkin. The optimist visualizes the pie crust under it.

Hopin' you air the same, GRAMPAW NED OAKLEY

READERS SAY:

Jointure Study by Stowe Board Urged

Put Away Fears To the Editor: I wonder when West Pottsgrove township school board is going to name a committee to study jointure with the Pottstown and Lower and Upper Pottsgrove boards.

I hope board members put aside their personal fears in handling this delicate problem.

It is, I believe, their duty to look far in the future and do what they consider wisest for the district, even though this may result in a decision unpopular to many voters.

It will take courage for the board to come to the proper decision and indeed it will take courage for all board members in the three districts to stick to the job and come out with the proper decision.

It may very well be that the solution will be different than any previously suggested or discussed.

But I believe it is the obligation of every director in each of the four districts to carefully consider all aspects of jointure and merger.

I think directors should cast aside traditional feelings. Basking in the sunshine and glory of the past will get them nowhere. They must think of the future and especially of the children, whose education and well being are at stake.

West Pottsgrove A NEW RESIDENT

Book on Burgess To the Editor: "What Makes Billy Run?" This would be an excellent title to a book on our borough chief executive.

I mean by that why is he running for re-election? Especially when he knows he's going to get rolled up at the polls, when he knows in his heart he's done nothing but delay and straddle in his two terms in office.

I wonder who he's trying to spite. Is it that he's trying to shove the rotten schedule down the throats of police for another four years?

Does he think the people are unaware of the ill feeling on our force created by his inept administration?

I saw in the paper he admitted he's in charge of only the police department. Well, why doesn't he do something about the inequalities of the force? You know why. He's so deeply indebted to certain guys he can't move.

Pottstown FORMER FOLLOWER

Happy Over Accord To the Editor: I want to congratulate both sides at Spicer's for settling their differences without a strike.

I hope the employment picture there will gradually improve.

I hope that now the union and firm will run along on the same track toward better labor relations, higher production and a long-range operation in the borough.

Throughout the years Spicer's has meant a lot to Pottstown. When the Dana corporation announced it was leaving the borough more than a year ago, it was a bitter blow.

Then when the union and firm came to terms this past October there was general rejoicing in both camps.

This past Summer the clouds of dissection darkened the picture again, but this past week the union came up with a strong "no-strike" vote and it looks like both sides are now willing to sacrifice for the survival and indeed the revitalizing of this strong industry.

Pottstown RD 3 RETIRED EMPLOYEE

Poor Patching To the Editor: I'd like to know just what good came of sloshing a lot of tar and stones around on Route 100 a few miles north of town.

I have enough of the tar on my car to pave my driveway at home, and enough stones stuck to the undercarriage to fill somebody's swimming pool, if somebody should want to fill his swimming pool with stones.

Route 100 is now quite smooth—in between the chuck holes, that is. And just what 'till the next time it rains. There are some patches, especially on curves, where the tar is so smooth a car can't get traction.

And what about the sharp dips and rolls in the road? Tossing stones and a messy adhesive didn't help that situation one bit.

Then they have the audacity to post 50-mile speed limit signs. Ha!

Pottstown BEDEVILED DRIVER

Hornblowers—Bah! To the Editor: To me the hornblower is the most inconsiderate and uncultured form of animal on this earth.

When a motorist climbs on my gas tank and blasts away like a child with a new Christmas bugle, I could scream and pull out my fingernails with my false teeth.

Pottstown is filled with this unmanly breed.

Someday I'm going to rip up the upholstery and chew on the gear shift handle when a hornblower blasts in back of me.

Honestly, they drive me crazy. Pottstown OLDTIME DRIVER

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7—Fantastic, slightly ironic, but true—That more than nine-tenths of Hollywood's top productions for this year, have opened within the past two weeks or are still playing in local theaters!

Why studios see fit to present one whopper on the heels of another, and even to open them simultaneously instead of spreading out "the cream of the crop," we dunno.

Before this week is over, Film-towners have the choice of "From Here to Eternity," "The Robe," "Little Boy Lost," "Roman Holiday," "Shane," "Bandwagon," "Mogambo," the off-beat "Five Thousand Fingers of Dr. T." If these eight don't represent as great an entertainment list as any combined talents could hope for any year anywhere — we'll eat fried celluloid for supper!

RITA GAM is the gal wanted for the lead with Martin and Lewis in "Living It Up," formerly "Hazel Flagg," formerly "Nothing Sacred." Fred Clark, Sherree North (the B-way dancer) and "Morgan," the sad-faced TV pooch are already signed up. Picture starts next week, with Carole Lombard's old role re-written for Jer' Lewis! . . . Global Gab: Deborah Kerr, with a B-way stage smash in her lovely hands, and spouse Tony Bartley have rented a house in Westchester, N. Y.—but still retain their Beverly Hills manse. Bartley leaves soon for Africa to produce a new flicker . . . Elizabeth Taylor (well mended) and Mike Wilding have "done" Italy and Spain the past week . . . Roman censors are raising youknowwhat with "Streetcar Named Desire."

IT HAPPENED TODAY 1779—Opening of the Battle of Savannah in the American Revolution. 1838—John Hay, American statesman, diplomat and author, born. 1941 — Driving toward Moscow in World War II, Germans captured Orel in Russia, Russia.

Van Johnson, a beat boy after doing six in a row, gets five days off before starting "Panther Squadron 8" Oct. 19. Walter Pidgeon, Dewey Martin, Keenan Wynn and Frank Lovejoy are in it too. . . . Personal Pifflings:—Listened to a soap commercial by Joan Weldon and think she read those lines just like Luella! . . . We like Pete King's line about the TV queen's little dotter who piped, "Mama, what's a shoulder strap?"

PLANT ENLARGES—The new brick building of the Light Cycle company on Queen street near Union has been occupied. The former aluminum casting department of the company in a building in an alley near York street between Beech and Walnut streets has been closed.

UNDERTAKERS GALORE—A special train carrying several hundred undertakers startled residents along the Colebrookdale branch of the Reading company. The State convention of the mortuary artists is being held at Reading and the morticians were entertained by the Boyertown Casket company.

25 Years Ago Oct. 8, 1928 FATAL HIT-RUN—Elwood Wiand, 57, of Monaca, was fatally injured by a hit-run car. He was struck in front of the Samuel Happel coal yard in the village. He was found dying by Earl Scheetz. The victim was for years janitor of the West Monaca school building.

BIG ENROLMENT—The East Coventry township consolidated school has an enrolment this term of 225, the largest in its history. Wilfred Stauffer is supervising principal. Other members of the faculty are Ida Wiand, Charlotte Rhoades, Mrs. Ruth Sellers and Marian Maule.

10 Years Ago Oct. 8, 1943 MEMORIAL TABLET—One hundred and three men and women of Linfield and vicinity were honored when a memorial plaque was unveiled in the village.

WORKMEN INJURED—Two workmen were injured seriously when they fell from the roof of the home of Claude Rhoades, 448 Chestnut street, when a ladder slipped. The injured are Thomas Miller, 418 May street, and Richard Shupe, 564 Jefferson avenue.

PROMOTED—Robert N. Hilkert, a former Hill school instructor, has been named assistant vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia. He was formerly personnel director of the bank.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Allentown & Back in Day... Famous Name Back...

★ TIME FLIES—The talk got around to automobiles, as if it wouldn't when Charley Nagle was the other half of the conversation. Nagle has been one of Pottstown's leading automobile mag-nates for 30 years, so he's well versed in that business. His first ride? He remembered the incident with clarity. "I'll never forget the day," he said, looking dreamily into the distance. "It was in 1913. That morning I'd gotten a postcard from a friend in Allentown. It pictured the Allentown public library. Being young and impressionable, I admired the beautiful picture of the imposing structure. I inspected the picture time after time. That afternoon I was invited to take my first trip in an automobile. My friend drove to Allentown, and one of the buildings we passed was the public library. I remember how awed I was. To think that I'd get a postcard in the morning and that same day I'd see the pictured edifice in a town 30 miles away! What a wonder!" What an age when distances were annihilated! . . .

NAGLE glowed over that reminiscence. Then he beamed over the wonders of his lifetime (he's 57). "HENRY FORD just observed his 50th anniversary of his famous automobile. In a little while we'll be celebrating the 50th anniversary of the airplane. Think of all that in the space of 50 years, not to mention radio, television and all our other blessings. We of this generation surely have been fortunate! A few years ago I was astonished by the airplane's speed when I made a two-hour flight. I thought the airplane couldn't be improved. This year I flew twice as far in the same amount of time. This is the age of wonders!"

★ OLD NAME BACK—Keek, a name famous in Pottstown political circles, is back in the ring. Oldtimers will recall the long length of service John and Wilmer Keek put in as Pottstown borough treasurers. They were stalwarts in the Democratic party that ruled Pottstown for many, many years. Then there was David J. Keek, who was Ninth Ward Democratic councilman for a long period when his brothers were treasurers. Now another Keek has his hat in the ring. He's not exactly a newcomer, for he has had a taste of politics. He's Elmer C. Keek, 19 West Third street, who's running for tax collector. Elmer Keek was a borough councilman in 1927 when he was named to finish the unexpired term of his father. He was elected to a full four-year term in 1928, re-elected in 1932. He wouldn't run in 1936, the year the Republicans swept into power after a long period of Democratic domination.

CONVALESCENT CORNER—CLARENCE "JIM" SMALE, Pleasantview road, Sanatoga, owner of Pottstown Hardware store, 141 High street, is recovering at home from an emergency operation on a ruptured stomach ulcer performed in Memorial hospital. He never knew he had the ulcer until the operation was required. He expects to be back at work within a few days. . . . Pottstown postoffice is getting 10,000 of the new 3c stamps commemorating the 25th anniversary of the Future Farmers of America, it was reported yesterday by NEAL R. BURTER, North Coventry High school agriculture teacher. The stamps go on sale Tuesday, and the local post-office may need all 10,000 for the FFA has six chapters in the Pottstown area—Norco, Spring City, Warwick, Boyertown, Schwenksville and Upper Perkiomen.

★ OPERATION BIRTHDAY—Army Pvt. Paul R. Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Ray Henry, Pottstown RD 3, near Halfway House, was one area GI who was well remembered on his birthday. The past Sept. 18, when he became 21, he was flooded with birthday cards. "It really boosted his morale," his mother reported. He's been in Germany—between Ulm and New Ulm—for the past two months. His mother reminded close friends of his impending birthday, and they in turn passed the word around still further. Pvt. Henry now is taking a six-month course in handling provisions. Before entering the Army the past Feb. 17, he was a mechanic for Kaiser Chevrolet incorporated . . . GIVE AWAY DEPT.—Six-months-old black puppy, mixed cocker and beagle. YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

OVER-EAGERNESS in self-treatment of skin conditions probably causes more headaches than the original disease ever could.

Too much treatment may further aggravate the disorder and make it even more difficult to clear up.

The different drugs used in treating skin diseases have probably caused more visits to skin specialists than any single skin disease by itself. Frequent culprits are substances which people apply to minor scratches, cuts or burns.

An even greater offender is athlete's foot. In fact, it has been said that the majority of all cases of athlete's foot are complicated by a skin inflammation due to irritation of the skin by the drugs people put on to cure the condition without medical advice.

Skin diseases of the hands resulting from over-treatment are now four times as frequent in occurrence as acne.

Drugs that usually do not hurt normal skin may have a disturbing effect on the abnormal skin. Thus, the ointments or drugs applied to skin that is cut, scratched, or diseased may have a further disastrous effect.

A major drug causing skin rashes is the sulfa drug. Others are local anesthetic agents such as penicillin, mercury, phenol and camphor.

Police Manhunt Continues for Ex-Convict Named by Couple As Accomplice in Kidnaping Death of Bobby Greenlease

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7 (AP)—A manhunt continued tonight in the $600,000 kidnaping of little Bobby Greenlease, whose body was found in a shallow grave today.

The search was for Thomas John Marsh, 37-year-old ex-convict, named by the FBI as the accomplice of two persons arrested in St. Louis as the kidnapers.

Body Found Near Honeysuckle Bushes

ST JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 7 (AP)—The body of Bobby Greenlease was uncovered today in a blue plastic bag buried beside the back porch of a small white bungalow surrounded by a hedge of honeysuckle bushes.

The slain 6-year-old Kansas City kidnap victim had been covered with a foot-deep layer of lime and about three feet of earth.

Flowers had been planted on top of the grave to obscure it. The mail box in front of the little white home identified the owner as Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady.

SHE IS the woman now being held by the FBI at St. Louis, and who said she got the boy out of a Kansas City private school on the pretext that his mother was ill.

No one was admitted to the yard today except FBI agents and police, but hundreds of curious pressed against the honeysuckle hedge and ropes stretched by Missouri state highway police.

Some persons brought ladders in an effort to peer over the hedge.

Neighbors commented on the quietness of the home through the years. The house has a homey atmosphere with its blue shutters and red brick chimney covered with ivy.

They knew little about the occupant, however.

"Mrs. Heady kept pretty much to herself," one neighbor said. "She seemed to want it that way. So we kept pretty much away."

'TALKED ABOUT GETTING A DOG AND ICE CREAM'

'He Was Such a Sweet Child,' Woman Who Lured Bobby to His Death Tells Police

ST LOUIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—The woman who lured Bobby Greenlease from his school in Kansas City on the start of a trip that was to lead to a shallow grave said today the 6-year-old boy wasn't frightened.

"He was such a sweet child," said Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady. "He came so nice. He talked about getting a dog and ice cream."

Both Mrs. Heady, 41, a childless widow, and Carl Austin Hall, 34, an ex-convict, admitted the kidnaping, but both insisted they did not kill the child.

THE balding, chunky Hall told of negotiating for $600,000 ransom by mail and telephone, after the boy was dead, and collecting the ransom the past Sunday.

Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41, a woman with a long police record, led quickly to discovery of the 6-year-old boy's body. Thus ended with sickening tragedy ten desperate days of waiting by the boy's wealthy parents, who had paid the record ransom.

The FBI said Hall named Marsh as the slayer.

Hall, an ex-rich boy turned bandit, admitted the little boy was shot even before a ransom note was mailed to the father, multi-millionaire Robert C. Greenlease Sr., 71-year-old automobile dealer, and his wife.

Hall said he had planned for three years the kidnaping "that ended in Bobby's body being found encased in a blue plastic bag and buried beside the bungalow in which Mrs. Heady had lived for several years."

MRS. HEADY, who had knelt in prayer at the Notre Dame de Sion school before taking Bobby away to his death, denied all knowledge of the slaying.

Hall, who had met her in a St. Joseph tavern several months ago, said Mrs. Heady did not know he was planning the kidnaping even when she called for the child. He said he told her the boy was his son in custody of a former wife.

The tragic turn in the kidnaping case came as the family had renewed hope Bobby would be returned safely.

The ransom money stuffed in an Army duffel bag, had been dumped out of a car by a Greenlease representative Sunday night about 7:15 o'clock.

The family had complied with a letter, demanding $600,000 ransom in 10 and 20 dollar bills. The money had been demanded in a letter received the night of the kidnaping. THE bag was dropped over a bridge in Jackson county a few miles from Kansas City. Shortly afterwards a telephone call at the big red-brick house of the 71-year-old millionaire father of Bobby told the family it would learn through a telegram Monday, Oct. 5, where to find the boy.

The telegram never came but spokesmen of the family still held a faint hope until the FBI called at 11 a. m., today, telling them little Bobby had been murdered.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 7 (AP)—Bonnie Brown Heady, held at St. Louis in the kidnap-murder of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease, was linked today by FBI records to Muskogee's most famous jail break.

It occurred in December, 1935, when Detective Chief Ben Bolton was fatally shot in the escape by several members of the so-called Irish O'Malley gang from the City-Federal jail.

A woman listed on an indictment record as Mrs. Dan T. Heady and also as Betty Johnson later was charged with aiding a Federal prisoner to escape and with murder. She never was brought to trial and the charges were dismissed in June, 1937.

She was accused of slipping a prisoner a gun as she kissed him through the cell bars on a visit to the jail.

Newspaper and police records show one of the escaped prisoners named Dan T. Heady was killed less than a week later after he resisted capture by a posse at a farmhouse in nearby Pittsburg county.

In Maryville, Mo., records at the Nodaway county courthouse show that she inherited an estate of $44,000, including a 316-acre farm, 18 miles north of here in 1949, as the sole survivor of her father, the late French P. Brown.

Kefauver Demands 'Plain Statement' on H-Bomb Menace

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said tonight it is "high time" that President Eisenhower or the National Security council made "a plain statement of the facts" about the H-bomb menace.

Russia's atomic power potential is a life and death matter, the Tennessee Democrat declared in a statement.

"The lack of coordination among high agencies and officials of the Administration in reference to dangers created by Russia's possession of the hydrogen bomb is leading to a confusion of the American public which may be disastrous," he said.

Eisenhower probably will be asked at his news conference at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow to put the people straight on the danger of hydrogen bombardment.

REPORTERS undoubtedly will seek his assessment of the recent round of statements on Russia's possession of the super-weapon and her ability to drop it on distant targets.

But whether the President will be ready to speak out on the subject is another question.

He told his last news conference Sept. 30 that he is turning over in his mind how best to approach the subject. Eventually, he said, he will be very frank in telling the people the conclusions he has reached on the relationship of world tensions to the growing destructiveness of armaments.

4th Holdup Peeves Daring Bank Cashier

ENVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 7 (AP)—A cashier whose bank has been held up three times in 14 years grabbed a holdup man with his bare hands today and disarmed him, the sheriff's office reported.

The daring cashier, 48-year old James H. Frazier, leaped on the back of the gunman after he walked into the Bank of Enville and ordered Frazier's wife, an assistant cashier, to put all the bank's money into a paper sack.

The two men struggled to the front door, then rolled down the steps of the bank into the street. There Frazier overpowered and disarmed the man just as Town Marshal Luther Emerson arrived.

Deputy Sheriff R. T. Condon said the man taken into custody identified himself as Milburn Weatherington, 35, of Lexington, Tenn.

He said another man, not immediately identified, also was taken into custody as he sat in an automobile across the street from the bank.

Both were taken to nearby Henderson to await the arrival of FBI agents.

Polio-Like Mystery Disease Which Hit Nursing Staff Baffles Doctors

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—A not been ruled out. But, said Dr. Victor H. Haas, director of the National Microbiological Institute, there is "no evidence that polio is present, as far as the laboratory is concerned."

The health service announced today that the disease, first reported the past July, has struck again among nurses and other personnel of the Chestnut Lodge sanitarium, a private mental institution in Rockville, Md.

So far, there have been 30 cases among staff members and their relatives, but not a single patient has been affected.

Of those stricken in the past three months, 24 were nurses. Sanitary engineers have checked the sanitarium itself and found no localized cause for the outbreak.

The health service said that in each case the symptoms—including muscle weakness, mostly in the limbs—"were indistinguishable from those of polio."

HOWEVER, as the pattern of the outbreak unfolded, the health service said, "other factors such as a high attack rate, short interval between cases, and rapid recoveries suggested the presence of some other disease."

The possibility that the disease still may prove to be polio has

First Grade Pupils Aid One Another, Help Plan Autumn Nature Study Table

By Mrs. Esther B. Diener, faculty. The children in our Grade 1 room are busy little helpers. They are not only learning to take care of themselves in a new situation, but are very anxious to help each other. They all share in making our room a place where they will be happy in their work and play.

Many outdoor nature secrets are brought to school. They form part of our nature study and Autumn table arrangements. Sally Acker brought a pair of plaque pheasants. They found a place above the table. Three squirrels and a deer found their place among the acorns, beautiful colored leaves, corn and pine cones.

A horn of plenty, or cornucopia, is filled with fruit and encircled with squashes that were brought by Robert Reber and David Yost, Darlene Nace, Cheryl Howe and Nancy Sovizal. Paul Fitzcharles and Douglas Weidner brought bouquets of flowers for all of us to enjoy.

Warm and cool colors are studied in connection with the Autumn unit. The drawings on the wall are an outgrowth of this work. They too contain many warm colors.

PLANTS THAT are placed on a low table also present an opportunity to observe the growing plants and watch for flowers. Sharon Moses' African Violet has buds.

We are beginning to read and learn to do many things together that will include both home and school.

We are very thankful to the fathers and mothers who helped us win an award at our first Parent-Teacher meeting.

Local Pupils Study World Geography

By JOHN MILLER

In our Fourth grade we studied about the many places we live in. The town we live in is Pottstown. The township we live in is Lower Pottsgrove. The county we live in is Montgomery. Bigger than Montgomery county is the State we live in, and that is Pennsylvania. We found out we also live in the United States of America.

There are four oceans in the world. They are the Pacific, Atlantic, Indian, and Arctic.

There are seven continents in the world. They are North America, South America, Antarctica, Africa, Asia, Australia, and Europe.

The continent we live in is North America.

We studied the Eastern and the Western hemispheres.

Fourth Graders Design Posters on Tooth Care

By PHYLLIS NEIFFER

In Miss Bucholtz's Fourth grade we saw a movie called "Teeth are to Keep." Then we decided to draw posters about teeth. Some of the children made posters about good food to eat. Some made posters that said "Do Not Eat Too Many Sweets."

Others wrote posters that said "Birthday's Once a Year, Dentist Twice a Year". Some decided to say "Brush Your Teeth After Every Meal." Since we made the posters, we learned how to keep our teeth nice and clean and white.

Leaves Hard to Find Due to Dry Weather

By GEORGETTE KINGSTON

Our Fourth grade made a chart of Autumn selections. We have hickory nuts, walnuts, acorns, red berries, pine cones, horse chestnuts and chestnuts. We also have pictures of Autumn.

John Miller brought in a pumpkin. We have brought in many leaves even though it is hard to find them since the weather is so dry. Because of the weather it seems like we are not having a nice Fall.

Congressman Treated For Burned Wrist, Hand

RICHMOND, Calif., Oct. 7 (AP)—

Rep. Robert L. Condon (D-Calif.) was under treatment today for burns to his right wrist and hand. The congressman was burned while barbecuing steaks for his family at their home in Walnut creek. Condon was burned in his efforts to extinguish flames from grease which caught fire.

His office here said he would not be able to use the hand for several weeks.

One of Quadruplets Born To Grandmother Dies

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 7 (AP)—

One of the quadruplets born to a 38-year-old grandmother died today. The other three are doing well, according to doctors at Gilgandra hospital, 326 miles northwest of Sydney, where they were born.

The dead baby, Margaret, was the last of the four born to Mrs. Ethel Hudson, wife of a fence builder and mother of eight other children.

Slowest Airplane Given Test Flight

SINGAPORE, Oct. 7 (AP)—While

Britain and the United States are trying to outpace each other for the world's air speed record, the Royal Air Force tested the world's slowest airplane here today—the Prestwick Pioneer which can fly slower than 30 MPH.

Flight Lieutenant N. E. F. Hicknott who flew the plane for its first test flight outside Britain, said "she handled beautifully and gave no trouble."

The plane is designed for use on short landing strips and has a wingspan of 50 feet. It is capable of climbing at 700 feet a minute with a top speed of 130 MPH.

California uses about 16 percent of the hired farm labor in the United States—more than any Britain for communication and other state.

54th Year of Century Club Opens with Luncheon and Reciprocity Day

MRS. GEORGE M. Miller Jr., (standing), president of the Montgomery County Federation of Women's clubs, brings greetings from her association to members and guests at the Century club luncheon.

Flanking Mrs. Miller are Mrs. Carson C. Potter, (extreme left), president of the Past Presidents club of Montgomery county and county chairman of conservation, and Mrs. Joseph Bacher, corresponding secretary of the county federation.

Seated next to the speaker is Mrs. John A. Barlow, president of the Century club. Mrs. Harvey Miller, second vice president of the Montgomery County federation, is to the extreme right.

Brilliant arrangement of chrysanthemums, marigolds and zinnias formed a colorful background for the Century Club's opening luncheon and reciprocity day yesterday at the Brookside Country club.

Mrs. John A. Barlow, organization president, and past presidents of the club welcomed the 152 members and guests who attended the affair.

Past president serving on the reception committee were: Mrs. Francis L. Laverie, Mrs. David Todd Jones, Mrs. John B. Evans, Mrs. Frank S. Anderson, Mrs. Charles A. Baylor, Mrs. Russell Shelly, Mrs. Harry L. Christman, Mrs. Carson G. Potter and Mrs. Leon W. Swavely.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Barlow presented the guests, officers of clubs, from Berks, Chester and Montgomery counties, and also told the group that this luncheon marked the beginning of the 54th year of the organization.

The guest list included: Mrs. G. Leslie Timme, Mrs. H. Chester Radcliffe, Mrs. Richard Kline, Mrs. David B. Jeremiah, Mrs. George T. Cohee, Mrs. Alan Lake Rice.

Mrs. Clem Seay, Mrs. Charles W. Smith, Mrs. A. H. Blanc, Mrs. Harvey Rosenberger, Mrs. Fred M. Isenberg, Mrs. Harvey Frank, Mrs. J. Henry Bailey, Mrs. Edwin C. Clinefelter, Mrs. Devine, Mrs. R. Harland Horton.

Mrs. Kenneth S. Fillman, Mrs. William A. Harbison, Mrs. J. George Hoffman, Mrs. Alton Goud, Mrs. Charles Paist 3d, Mrs. Daniel Richards, Mrs. Charles R. Ludwick, Mrs. Alfred H. Chambers, Mrs. Calvin Yoh, Mrs. A. Erwin Colver, Mrs. Harry Garrett.

Mrs. John E. Wiley, Mrs. Carson C. Potter, Mrs. Edwin D. Montrose, Mrs. Joseph J. Bacher, Mrs. Harvey L. Miller and Mrs. George M. Miller Jr.

Greetings from the County Federation were brought by Mrs. George M. Miller Jr., who invited the Century Club to have a large representation at the county meeting, Oct. 29, Lansdale. Theme of the gathering will be "Americanism."

An unusual feature of the meeting was the reading of Century club minutes by Mrs. David Todd Jones, from a reciprocity meeting 50 years ago.

The notes were taken at a luncheon meeting prepared and served by the club members. At that time organization programs were usually in the form of papers, written and discussed by the members, on current topics of the day.

The project of the General Federation of Women's clubs, restoration of the first floor of Independence Hall, was presented by Mrs. Paul L. Dieffenberger, second vice president of the Century club. It is estimated that the work will cost approximately $250,000.

Following the answering of questions on this topic by Mrs. John E. Wiley, chairman of Americanism, club members unanimously adopted two resolutions.

They were: that the club contribute $100 to this project, and that organization members united with all civic, educational, religious and patriotic groups to cooperate in the raising of funds for the work.

Mrs. Kenneth Fillman, Pottstown Woman's club president, announced that her organization planned to follow similar resolutions.

Entertainment for the afternoon included several numbers by Barbara Grovak, Gerganne Jacobs and Anne Gregory, a vocal trio from the local high school, and a program entitled "Tales to the Celtic Renaissance" by Mrs. Rosalba Joy.

Introduced by Mrs. Richard Leh, program chairman, Mrs. Joy explained that her material was taken from the plays, poems and folk stories of William Butler Yeats, Fiona Macleod, Douglas Hyde and others who worked for a better understanding of the Irish people.

She and her late husband, Maurice Joy, were associated with the Celtic literary movement in Ireland for many years.

Included in her numbers was a reading from a play by William Butler Yeats and the "Legend of Deirdre," handed down orally from the 12th or 13th century. Mrs. Joy was accompanied by recorded authentic Celtic chants.

During the meeting reports were made by various club members. Mrs. Ralph H. Spare, chairman of the welfare committee, announced that the next meeting of the club would be a panel discussion on the United Fund, Oct. 21, at 2:15 in the library club room.

It was also reported by the president, that Mrs. Luther A. Krouse and Mrs. Hugh McDevitt would represent the Century Club at the Montgomery county workshop beginning Oct. 20 in Philadelphia.

At the conclusion of the activities Mrs. Barlow expressed her appreciation and thanks for the splendid work of the hospitality and decorating committees, and to Mrs. Leh and her program committee for their contributions in making the day such a success.

Chairman of the hospitality committee is Mrs. C. Raymond Eppheimer, who is assisted by co-chairmen Mrs. Arthur Kepner and Mrs. Walter Neiman.

Committee members are Mrs. Henry Ancona, Mrs. Charles Bentz, Mrs. S. Richard Brown, Mrs. Samuel Brown, Mrs. Herbert S. Eades, Mrs. William Fisher, Mrs. Harry Gingrich, Mrs. Edward Gruber, Mrs. Samuel Harner, Mrs. Leon Huber.

Mrs. Allen Irey, Mrs. S. Ernest Kulp, Mrs. Daniel Leidy, Mrs. Earl Levegood, Mrs. Ethel Moore, Mrs. J. Russel Reifsnider, Mrs. Edward Storb, Mrs. Thomas Storm, Mrs. A. K. Switzer, Mrs. S. Edwin Trout and Mrs. James I. Wendell.

Decorations are directed by co-chairmen, Mrs. Maurice Mosheim and Mrs. Howard Bartholomew. They are assisted by Mrs. Joseph Bacchi, Mrs. Roy Binder, Mrs. George Bullard, Mrs. C. C. Burdan, Mrs. Harry Gingrich, Mrs. Frank Hutt Sr., Mrs. A. LeRoy Krause, Mrs. Russell Tyson.

Mrs. Charles Lepperd, Mrs. Walter Lord, Mrs. John Ludwick, Mrs. Carson C. Potter, Mrs. William Scherfel Sr., Mrs. Raymond Schumacher and Mrs. Carl Troutman.

Polish Follows Soapsuds In Re-finishing Job

Who-dunnit fans would never leave finger prints behind! But little sticky fingers would—especially on your good dining room table.

A quick light job with a sudsy cloth will take these marks off. Then wipe with a clean cloth wrung out in clear water. Dry well and apply a fresh new coat of furniture polish. You'll be pleased with the results.

KIDNAPER IS REMEMBERED AS NE'ER-DO-WELL

Hall's Father Was Prosperous Attorney

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—Carl Austin Hall, kidnaper of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease, is remembered in Kansas City as the ne'er-do-well son of a prosperous Kansas attorney, the Post-Dispatch reported today.

The newspaper reported in a dispatch from Kansas City that Hall went through a $200,000 inheritance from his father in just four years.

The father, John Hall, made his fortune at Pleasanton, Kan., and died there in 1946. The son, having spent the inheritance by 1951, went to Kansas City from Kingman, Kan., where he had been charged with armed robbery.

The Post-Dispatch published the following account of the life of crime that was climaxed by a confession from the 34-year-old Hall today that he planned the kidnapping and collected the ransom after burying the dead boy a few hours after he was abducted 10 days ago!

Kansas City police arrested Hall on Oct. 19, 1951, on suspicion of holding up eight taxi drivers.

HALL pleaded guilty of robbing two of the drivers, saying he obtained only $33 in all, and was sentenced to five years in the Missouri State prison. The Kingman, Kan., charge was dropped.

At the time of the sentencing, Hall's attorney pleaded Hall needed a psychiatrist rather than imprisonment, but was told by Circuit Judge Thomas R. Hunt:

"This is a very poor time to come in here and ask for an examination."

Kansas City police said Hall told them he attended Kemper Military Academy at Boonville, Mo., for three years and from there went into the US Marine Corps. Police files show him as having been absent without leave from the Marines.

Hall was quoted by the Kansas City police as saying he spent much of the $200,000 in operating liquor stores and playing the stock market, "both of which ventures didn't pan out."

When arrested in Kansas City in 1951, Hall was carrying a pistol. Police quoted him as saying he had planned to rob the Plaza Bank of Commerce in Kansas City but was arrested before he could make the robbery.

'No Idea' He Was Arresting Kidnaper

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—Police Lt. Louis Shoulders, the St. Louis officer who made the original arrest in the kidnap-slaying of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease, said today he had no idea he was picking up a kidnaper when he arrested Carl Austin Hall last night.

The six-foot police officer, who has had a long and active career in the department, told newsmen he had been tipped by an informant that "a man is spending money around the Congress hotel who doesn't look the type."

"I just thought he was some crook with money to spend, probably from a holdup," Shoulders said.

Shoulders and Patrolman Elmer Donlon made the arrest. Hall, alone in his room at the Town House hotel near the Congress, offered no resistance.

Shoulders took a revolver from Hall and opened two new suitcases which contained the ransom cash in $10 and $20 bills. The money amounted to $293,992.88.

Shoulders said he questioned Hall, who appeared "mad because he had been caught so easily," about the money and Hall almost immediately admitted participating in the kidnapping.

Dorothy Davidheiser, Paul B. Razmyslowski Exchange Vows At Marriage Ceremony Performed in Baltzell Memorial Church

Dorothy V. Davidheiser became the bride of Paul G. Razmyslowski in a double ring ceremony Saturday.

They were married by the Rev. John L. Smoker in Baltzell Memorial church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. Young, 528, North Evans street. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andri Razmyslowski, 567 Howard street, Stowe.

One hundred seventy-five persons attended the afternoon wedding.

The bride wore a net covered pink satin floor length gown. Her satin shoes and hat were also pink. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Her jewelry, a present of the groom, consisted of a rhinestone necklace and bracelet.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Margaret Wentzel, was dressed in a blue net over satin gown. Her shoes were of white satin. Completing her outfit was a light blue beret. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Best man was Ernest Wentzel, Manatwary road.

A reception at St. Gabriel's lodge followed with 175 in attendance. Decorations were pink, light blue and white.

Mothers of the bride and groom wore navy blue dresses with corsages of yellow chrysanthemums.

The couple will make their home at 207 Lemon street, Stowe. The groom is employed by Firestone Tire and Rubber company. The bride is a graduate of Pottstown High school.

Guests attending the wedding were from Stowe, Reading and Pottstown.

Troop 6 Scouts Schedules Investiture Service for New Members; Election of Officers, Construction of Handicrafts Also Slated

The Girl Scouts of Troop 6 of the First Methodist Church, met Tuesday night in Fellowship Hall of the church at 6:30 p. m. The first hour of the meeting was spent making plans for the future and playing games under the leadership of Nancy Schurr and Betty Jo Leventhal.

Tuesday night there will be an Investiture Service for the five new girls who "flew-up" from Brownies yesterday afternoon. They are: Diane Houck, Janet McCullough, Barbara Brower, Ruth Renninger, and Sharon Laury.

Also next week, there will be election of officers and members will complete the handicraft that was started last night. Barbara Hackman and Joy Wilson will be in charge of the games.

The following week will be devoted to making handicraft items for display during Girl Scout week, which begins Oct. 25. That night, the girls will meet at 7:15 and attend, church en masse at 7:30. The regular meeting for Oct. 27 will be a hayride from 6:30 until 8 p. m.

The rest of Tuesday's meeting was devoted to covering custard dishes with yellow and red raffia, handicraft project for the evening. The girls will cover larger dishes for their mothers for Christmas. Girl Scout calendars for 1954 were distributed for the girls to sell.

Others attending the meeting besides the girls mentioned above were: Marlene Noll (who helped Mrs. H. M. Shellenberger, leader, in instructing the girls on the raf-

Shower Given by Mrs. Gerald Swartley Surprises Mrs. Arlen Bechtel, Royersford

Mrs. Arlene Bechtel, 739 Walnut street, Royersford, was guest of honor recently at a surprise stork shower given by Mrs. Gerald Swartley, 177 Main street, Trappe.

Refreshments were served from a table appropriately decorated with a large cake topped with a stork and a baby.

Shower guests included: Mrs. Irvin Bechtel, Mrs. Lloyd Bechtel, Mrs. Norman Overdorf, Mrs. Charles Hessler, Mrs. Robert Bechtel, Mary Bechtel, Mrs. Russell Harner, Mrs. Howard Musselman, Mrs. Marvin Hagenbuch, Mrs. Arnold Garner, Jeri Lynn Swartley and the honored guest, Mrs. Bechtel. Mrs. Swartley was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Harner and Mrs. Musselman.

If your family enjoys unusually tender fried chicken, cut the bird into serving portions and then steam it until tender. Now dip it into any preferred batter and fry in deep fat until golden-brown.

BIRTH OF SON HAD FULFILLED FATHER'S DREAM

Greenlease as Boy Swept School for
Nickel a Day

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7 (AP)—A boy earning a nickel a day sweeping out a country schoolhouse—a multi-millionaire whose dreams were fulfilled with the birth of a son when he was 65.

Such, in brief, is the story of Robert C. Greenlease Sr., whose kidnapped son was found slain today, ending ten days of suspense for the grief-stricken grey-haired father.

Old friends of the Kansas City motor car dealer recalled that he had hoped for a son of his own, on whom he could lavish his affection, the best of everything.

Today his once-fulfilled hopes were shattered—by kidnapers who killed six-year-old Bobby before they even collected ransom of $600,000.

Greenlease was born on a farm in Saline county, Missouri. At six—the same age as that of his son—he was sweeping out the nearby rural school. He often recalled how he looked forward to winter so he could make five cents a day extra building fire in the school stove.

BY 12 HE was doing a man's job on the farm. To augment his earning he traveled the country-side on horseback selling biographies of William Jennings Bryan.

With a turn in the family fortunes, the family moved to Kansas City where young Greenlease had to quit school in the sixth grade to go to work. He was the only boy among the six children in the family.

He began as an office boy in a packing plant, rose to mail clerk and spent his nights studying at a commercial college.

A job at an engine factory stirred his interest in horseless carriages, the field in which he made his fortune.

WITH A PARTNER he manufactured three cars, known as the Kansas City Hummer. But after making three of them they found the venture unprofitable.

He then became an agent for another motor car company, selling and renting autos. In 1907 he sold 50 Thomas cars, quite a feat of salesmanship for those days.

But the company failed. Greenlease, now 25, headed for Detroit, where he received the Cadillac franchise for Kansas City.

To show his faith in the car he was selling, he entered a five-day auto race through Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas. He won the 750-mile event and a silver trophy he received still stands in his office.

From there he went on to become one of Kansas City's richest businessmen.

Haas Plans Special Studies for Amish

HARRISBURG, Oct. 7 (AP)—The State Department of Public Instruction today pushed plans for a special study course for Amish children to overcome objections of their parents to secondary school education.

"We hope to work up a course of study in which the Amish children can do their school work at their homes," said Dr. Francis B. Haas, public instruction superintendent.

Though he declined to discuss the school plan, Haas said the course would take as much time for studies as attendance at a public school would require.

"We hope to have the curricula set up within a few days," Haas said.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Presbyterian Circles Meet at Various Homes; Association Officers to Be Elected Oct. 15

Three circle groups of the Women's association First Presbyterian church met on Monday.

Circle 1 assembled at the home of Mrs. William Ebert, Pottstown RD 4. Mrs. Robert Harleston was the hostess and Mrs. Russell Croasdale, circle leader, presided at the business session.

Deviations were in charge of Mrs. Mary Bozman. Linda Ebert entertained the group with piano solos.

The next meeting of the circle is scheduled for Nov. 3 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Simpson, Park court.

Those attending were: Mrs. Robert Harleston, Mrs. Russell Croasdale, Mrs. George Sayre, Mrs. Mary Bozman, Mrs. Horace Ludwig and Mrs. Jacob Gable.

Mrs. Wilber Patriquin, Mrs. Edwin Kurtz, Mrs. Thomas McCash Sr., Mrs. Arthur Simpson, Mrs. Walter Krause and Mrs. William Barr.

Mrs. John Lacey, Sanatoga, hosted a meeting of Circle 2. Mrs. William S. Diener, circle leader, presided over the business session while Mrs. Lacey had charge of the devotions.

Mrs. George Bullard was named chairman of the coffee hour for next Sunday morning. While the members worked on missionary sewing, Grace McGaughey reviewed "The Robe" by Lloyd Douglas.

Mrs. C. F. Stouffer, president of the association, was the guest of Circle 2.

Those present were: Mrs. William S. Diener, Mrs. John Fraser, Mrs. Fred Kelley, Mrs. Lacey, Mrs. George Bullard, Mrs. LeRoy DePrestfontaine, Mrs. George Baer, Mrs. C. S. Buehler, Mrs. Edwin Kammerzell and Grace McGaughey.

Members of Circle 3 gathered at the home of Mrs. William Starrett, 218 West Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown. Mrs. Calvin Yoh, daughter of Mrs. Starrett, assisted as co-hostess.

Mrs. Carson Potter, circle leader, opened the meeting with a prayer. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Russell Adams.

Mrs. George McCormick read four chapters of "Miracle in the Hills" by Legett Blythe.

Those present included: Mrs. Carson Potter, Mrs. George Cocke, Mrs. Charles Leppard, Mrs. Russell Adams, Mrs. George Gray and Mrs. Samuel Horst.

Mrs. George McCormick, Mrs. Allen Moore, Mrs. Paul Nunnemaker, Mrs. Irvin Swede, Mrs. Russell Wells, Mrs. William Starrett, Mrs. Calvin Yoh and a guest, Mrs. Harold Bruck.

The next meeting of the circle will be held at the home of Mrs. George Cocke, 330 Grandview road. Mrs. Paul Nunnemaker will serve as co-hostess.

Announcements which pertain to the entire association are as follows: a district meeting is scheduled for Oct. 28 at 10:30 p. m. in Christ West church, Philadelphia. Speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Samuel Moffet, Korea.

The association will meet on Oct. 15 at 1:45 p. m. in the church house for election of officers.

A "family night" is planned for Oct. 22 at 8 p. m. in the assembly room. A pageant under the direction of the social, education and action committees will be presented.

Pins Given Four Scouts for Passage of Senior Requirements; Eleanor Land Will Direct Troop 26 Members in Leather Work

At a special ceremony Tuesday night, four members of the Senior Girl Scout Troop 26 were presented with scout pins for having passed their Senior Requirements.

Receiving the award were:

Patricia Gerhart, Priscilla Heisler, Darlene Schutz and Eleanor Saraceni.

Shirley Kulp was made an honorary member of the troop, Margaret Neiman was graduated from Senior Scouts into Leadership, and Mrs. Samuel Hanna was welcomed as a co-leader.

Eleanor Land, leader of the Stowe Girl Scout troop, was present to talk to the girls about leathercraft. She showed them various samples of the work they could do. In the near future they will begin the construction of manicure cases, wallets and moccasins, under Miss Land's guidance.

The meeting closed with a Friendship Circle, after which the girls adjourned to the church kitchen for refreshments.

Scouts present were: Esther Cook, Barbara Galloway, Patricia Gerhart, Priscilla Heisler, Vera Mentzer, Darlene Schutz, Eleanor Saraceni, Jo Ann Smith and Joan Weiser.

Marie Langston was present as a guest.

Korean Veterans Can Still Acquire High School Diploma

Night school for veterans in Pottstown died this past Summer, but it's still possible for returning Korean soldiers to get a high school diploma if they want it. They must do it in the daytime.

Senior High school Principal Stanley I. Davenport Jr. last night reported four Korean vets have enrolled at the Senior High for the 1953-54 school year.

Two are taking post graduate courses in wood-working and two are enrolled in the Tenth grade, studying electric shop in the vocational school.

A trade extension course under the direction of Calvin Cressman will be conducted in the evenings for pupils who want to fit practical courses into local industrial requirements.

This program, approved and partially supported by the State, does not net any credits toward a diploma. It is operated principally to help young men qualify for local industrial shops.

The 1953 extension courses have not started. The State requires a specific enrolment before courses can begin.

Optimists to Hear Report On Philadelphia Activities

Pottstown Optimists will hear of the work done by the Greater Philadelphia Council at their 6:30 o'clock meeting in the Clover Leaf restaurant tonight.

Theodore G. Heck, of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, will be the guest speaker.

Stanley Mauger is program chairman.

HIGHWAY MEN —

In that span of a few Winter months, $14,401 was spent.

But Highway Foreman Walter Runyan and Gulden pointed out that the largest part of that went for the purchase of new plows.

IN 1947, the expenditure dropped down to a more normal $4488. And in 1946, only $893 went by the boards.

"But no matter how many figures you have from past years," Gulden said, "it doesn't tell you anything about how much you'll have to spend the coming Winter."

Gulden was asked how the cinder situation was for covering intersections during ice periods. A report from the State Highway department had it that cinders were getting more and more scarce because more firms are turning to oil as fuel.

"We have a good stockpile here and we can get as much more as we need," Gulden said.

The borough won't get any new snow removal equipment this year.

"I did have a few thousand dollars in the budget for a snow loader," he said, "but we spent it on highway maintenance."

THE manager added that he was confident he could rent all the equipment he would need from local contractors if and when the need arises.

Meanwhile, the State, through the Summer months, has stockpiled about 600,000 tons of cinders, a normal Winter's requirements.

In all, 10,000 men, 7179 pieces of equipment, all coordinated through short wave radio, are scattered throughout the State's 67 counties, ready to take up the battle.

About 350 radio transmitters and receivers will be in use, with the central station on top of Dauphin mountain, north of Harrisburg.

Via this network, snow removal equipment and men can be shifted from spot to spot, according to greatest need.

After a snowstorm, the schedule calls for the immediate clearance of 20,000 miles of heavily traveled highways.

After this operation, equipment is moved to less-traveled roads.

The Highway department uses 4416 of its own vehicles and leases an additional 2763.

A full fledged State-wide snow-fall will bring out 10,000 men, 2426 trucks, 2572 blade and V-type plows, 27 rotary plows, 10 blower-type plows, 309 plows of other type, 108 tractors, 1505 half-ton trucks, 393 graders, 42 bulldozers, and 91 miscellaneous units.

SO for the borough and the State, snow removal is BIG—even if unprofitable—business.

Don't grumble about the few feet of walk you have to shovel.

sity, only a surface-scratcher, however.

A second meeting was to have been called as soon as the representatives reported back to their respective boards and discussed the first meeting.

Last night's meeting came as a surprise, however.

Francis Donnon, president of the Lower Pottsgrove school board, said that the meeting had been called the past week by County Superintendent of Schools A. M. Kulp, who presided at the meeting at West Pottsgrove.

DONNON pointed out that though the three Pottsgroves decided to make the studies of the three-district jointure "it doesn't mean that we're not interested in the plans Pottstown has in mind."

Donnon explained that the schoolmen are not sure whether a three-district or four-district jointure would be best for everybody.

"We're going to co-operate with Pottstown in every way," he said. "I called Bert Shaw (president of the Pottstown school board) after the meeting and explained to him what we'd done and he said he was highly in favor of it. After all, we're all out to get the facts."

Donnon elaborated on the three points agreed upon.

On point one, that calling for a plan for a three-district jointure, he pointed out that the plan would be one that would involve classes from the kindergarten up through the 12th grade.

"Once the plan is made," Donnon said, "it could then be broken down into various type jointures—on the Grades one to six level, and seven through 12; or seven to nine and 10 through 12."

"In other words we might see whether it would be better to consolidate on the Junior High level alone and send the youngsters to Pottstown Senior High school and so on."

The second point calls for a thorough study to be made on costs of a three-district jointure of Grades one through 12.

The study would be made in the form of a budget which would show how the jointure would operate and the way in which expenses would be pro-rated.

ON THE third point, Donnon pointed out that the three Pottsgrove boards would continue to co-operate with any plans for "getting at the facts" that the Pottstown school board has.

He explained that the three Pottsgroves, like Pottstown, were interested in getting the facts.

There seemed to be indications, however, that the method put in motion by Pottstown—of having two representatives of each school board meet—was probably not the best method to follow.

The main objection seemed to be that this left school administrators out of the discussions.

All members of the three school boards were present at last night's meeting, with the exception of two members of the West Pottsgrove board.

Besides the board members, and Kulp, also present were LeRoy Brendlinger, supervising principal of Lower Pottsgrove; James Jones, supervising principal at West Pottsgrove, and John B. Ferdinand, principal, at Upper Pottsgrove.

The plan submitted to the State Department of Education in Harrisburg by the Montgomery County school officials recommends a jointure of the three Pottsgroves.

The officials in Harrisburg, however, have neither accepted nor rejected the plan as yet.

North Coventry Grange Schedules 'Hobby Night'

Tonight will be "hobby night" at the meeting of the North Coventry Grange.

Star hobbyist at the meeting will be Henry Boyer.

Boyer will show his collection of Currier & Ives prints and give a talk explaining the pictures.

Other members and their children are being urged to bring samples of their own hobbies along to the Grange hall.

Disposal Proves Easy; Steer Falls With First Shot

A partner in Pottstown Disposal service ventured successfully into a new field of disposal—getting rid of an 800-pound runaway steer cavorting in open fields north of Route 422 in Limerick township.

Leslie Rinehart, Pottstown RD 3, bagged the steer with a single rifle shot from about 1000 yards away, hitting it below the eye.

He, his brother, Clay Rinehart, also a partner in the disposal service, and Brooke Ginder, Pottstown RD 3—all took to the fields Tuesday afternoon at the request of a friend, Charles Faust.

Faust and Ralph Frick were co-owners of the steer, which ran away Monday while being unloaded from a truck on Frick's farm at Green Gables, across Route 422 from Pottstown airport. Faust has a farm close by.

The steer had been sighted in the fields but it was as frisky and uncatchable as a deer, Mrs. Frick reported.

The Rineharts and Ginder stalked the steer through a big field. After it was killed, it was dragged out by tractor, quartered and put in cold storage.

HIS traffic scrapes are not his first experience with the law.

He was picked up by District Game Protector William Shaver, Harleysville, and Deputy Protector Richard Blair, 78 Warren street, this past August 4 for having in his possession a 22 caliber rifle.

Blair reported after the arrest it is illegal for an alien to possess firearms under the Pennsylvania game laws.

His weapon was confiscated and sent to Harrisburg and he paid a fine of $25 and costs of $10 to the late Richard H. Cadmus, former Seventh ward justice of the peace.

Groff said after last night's hearing, "We don't know how this case will turn out. There probably will be another hearing for Seasholtz."

Because Seasholtz appeared at the hearing on information supplied by Klutschkowski, summonses were not sent out on the additional violations committed by the Klutschkowski's auto early on the morning of Sept. 19.

Klutschkowski was treated in Pottstown hospital dispensary early on the morning of this past Sept. 26 after his car ran off a rural road, near Route 663, and hit a culvert.

He told police after the accident he fell asleep at the wheel.

to 39 early this morning.

Despite scattered frost most gardeners weren't too worried about the latest visit of the gentleman in white. They're more worried about what the weatherman has in his bag of tricks in the next several weeks.

It was cold in Pottstown yesterday, but it was a lot colder in Maine, where the season's first snowfall coated forest and hillside.

If the pumpkin and tomato survived this morning's attack they probably are safe for a couple more days.

Today will be sunny and cool and tomorrow will be mostly sunny and warmer in the afternoon.

Reading Mayor Pushes Abandoned Icebox Law

READING, Oct. 7 (P)—Mayor James B. Bamford today introduced an ordinance in city council to outlaw abandoned refrigerators and similar containers. The mayor cited recent cases of children who suffocated in abandoned iceboxes in other cities.

The ordinance would make it unlawful for any person or business firm to leave outside a building an unattended, discarded icebox with a lock that cannot be opened from within. It provides a fine of $100 or 30 days imprisonment for violators.

MILL RIFT, Oct. 7 (P)—Two cars of a 70-car freight train were derailed on Erie railroad tracks here today, blocking a Chicago-to-New York express for four hours.

Authority Suggests Games as Aid To Child's Learning

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
(Associated Press Writer)

If your Johnny has little interest in reading or spelling, turn reading and spelling into a game.

This is the advice offered by Mrs. Elizabeth Antes, reading counselor at National College of Education in Evanston, Ill. Says she:

"Force is not a positive motivation for learning. It just creates a strained and emotional situation, and as a result, the child may set up a block that will keep him from remembering the words he already knows or from learning any new ones."

According to Mrs. Antes, it takes a happy and relaxed situation for learning to take place. She explains:

"Instead of sending him to his room to read 10 pages or practice 10 words, try 'hanging the butcher' or playing 'alphabet soup.' These are fun games that the whole family can enjoy and at the same time help Johnny with his reading or spelling. Many children have cheerfully played them without realizing their educational value."

Such simple games as these have been found to be one effective way of stimulating interest in learning, she says. The child enters the game willingly, determined to have a good time and eager to learn the rules of the game. Such effort is healthful and educational. It takes concentration and alertness to play and even more skill to win. Furthermore, in addition to improving vocabulary and word recognition skill, these games also improve visual skills by increasing eye span and visual memory.

The success of creating such interest depends upon the manner in which the subject is presented to the child. Make the game sound fun and let the child know that you, too, are interested in playing. Don't treat it as a way to improve Johnny's reading. If you present a friendly feeling of competition, the child is likely to respond.

Here are several old, but good games to start with. Others are word bingo, vowel dominoes and fish, which can be purchased at most book stores.

Alphabet soup is perfect to play while the family is motoring through the countryside, she says. As he passes billboards suggest that he form the alphabet by finding the letters on the roadside signs. An advertisement on "boats" will give him the first two letters, A and B. C from the sign on Chicago will be next and so on down the line. This is fun to play and is an easy way to sharpen his recognition of letters, she says.

When he tires of this, advises Mrs. Antes, see if he can develop the alphabet by finding whole words starting with each letter—apple, bug, camp, Denver, eat, etc. This will help him develop eye span and quicken his recognition of words.

"Hang the Butcher" is fun for an older child to play to stimulate correct spelling. Two or more can play this game. It works like this: One person thinks of a word and marks down on paper a line for each letter in the word. If the player is thinking of the word "photography" he makes 11 short lines. This shows the length of the word to the other players. Each of the players then takes a turn asking if the word has an "r," "p," "m," "o" or any other letter in the alphabet.

individual alcove for parking. The shopping center will be on the other side of Moser road from Sunset pharmacy, owned by Richard G. "Dick" Leh and Maurice "Murry" Kressen, and from Westbrook Dress company (and its Rosemont shop), of which William J. Boden Jr. is president.

NAGLE'S announcement is the third major piece of East End development news in the past few months. The first was the opening of a branch bank at High and Wilson streets by the National Bank of Pottstown.

The second was that a big Firestone store would be built at High street and Firestone boulevard, a store that now is under construction.

The East End's period of expansion began during World War II. Since then, several hundred homes have been built there, most of them by Stanley Swinehart, Pottstown contractor.

Spurring development of retail businesses was the heavy flow of workers to and from the huge Firestone Tire and Rubber company, just out of the borough.

THE EAST End long has been the site of large automobile agencies and service stations. Nagle Motors has been at 1340 High street for nearly 20 years.

The 57-year-old Nagle, a native of Pottstown, has been in the auto business a total of 30 years. Before he entered it, he was in the sales department of Nagle Steel company during World War I.

His wife is the former Marian Lewis, who was a Pottstonian before her marriage. They have three children, Janet L. Nagle, a bookkeeper at Memorial hospital; Charles S. Nagle Jr., a recent graduate of Pennsylvania Military college, and Robert L. Nagle. Both sons now are in the Nagle Motors business.

The father has been treasurer of Seales Memorial Methodist church for the past 25 years. His fondness for figurework is indicated by the fact that during this period, the church's audit was never off a penny.

In addition, Nagle is president of the Pottstown YMCA and is a past president of Pottstown Rotary club.

Board Will Pay Transportation Costs To Day School for Retarded Children

Spring City school board gave its co-operation last night to the Chester county school for retarded children by approving unanimously a motion to pay transportation charges for Spring City children attending the Phoenixville Day Care unit, one of three in the county.

The action was taken after reading a communication from Mrs. Grace R. Reed, chairman of Phoenixville unit, and hearing a request by Caesar Corrolopo, Spring City, chairman of the group.

It was pointed out the three county units are located in West Chester, Coatesville and Phoenixville, the latter now having 16 pupils. Some 150,000

DEATHS - FUNERALS

JOHN A. CUMMINGS, 72, BERWYN, formerly of Royersford, where he was employed at the Acme market, died yesterday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in Sowell Nursing home, Malvern. He had been ill several weeks.

Mr. Cummings lived in Royersford six years before he moved to Berwyn about four years ago.

board is not liable for tuition charges in this northern Chester county group. Should the school in Phoenixville be operated by Phoenixville (not the county), Spring City would not be obligated to pay the transportation charges.

The school district's solicitor, Claude B. Wagoner, who attended the meeting, joined in the belief the local school district is liable for the transportation charges, as the children, of school age, are retarded sufficiently they cannot attend public school classes.

ON RECOMMENDATION of E. C. Willever, chairman of the teachers committee, the board elected two teachers, to complete the faculty. They were:

Dolores Hyden, Phoenixville RD 1, for the Fourth-Fifth grade. A graduate of Spring City High school and Pennsylvania State college, Miss Hyden has taught at Downingtown Junior High and at the Alfred I. duPont school, Delaware.

Richard Brady, Johnsonburg, for Senior High school mathematics. Brady is a graduate of Johnsonburg High school and State college. He taught at St. Mary's.

Report of the treasurer listed a balance of $52,331.98. Tax Collector's report of Norman Mowrey showed credits of $13,950.45 against a previous outstanding balance of $25,797.23, leaving $11,846.78 unpaid, of which $6421.26 is property tax, and $5425.52, per capita tax.

A. J. Balch, board secretary, was named to represent the board on a steering committee named at a recent meeting when a temporary organization was formed of ten Chester county school districts. To discuss proposed jointure. Balch was named after reading a

CHURCH GROUP HOLDS BANQUET

53 Busy Bee Classmates
Dine at Collegeville Legion Home

Busy Bee Sunday school class of Royersford First Evangelical and Reformed church held its annual banquet Tuesday night at a place kept secret until the group arrived at the American Legion home, Collegeville. Fifty-three class members attended.

Mrs. Nora Brunner, president, served as toastmistress and called upon Mrs. Franklin P. Watts to sing "The Lord's Prayer" as the blessing for the meal.

After the banquet the Rev. Watts, pastor, spoke briefly and Mrs. H. H. Hartman, class teacher, gave a reading. Group singing was followed by a skit, "Hanging Up the Wash," presented by Mrs. Brunner and Mrs. G. Kenneth Smith.

Mrs. H. Ober Hess, who spent some time the past Summer visiting Europe with her four daughters, showed color slides of her journey through England, Germany, Holland, Switzerland and her shipboard experiences.

The committee in charge was comprised of Mrs. Ida Bertz, chairman; Sara Moore, Jennie Foreman, Kathryn Bennett, Katherine Watts, Laura Francis, Ethel Hessler, Anna Smith, Ruth Walt, Mabel Krasley and Margery Hunsberger.

The October meeting of the class will be held Tuesday night at 7:45 o'clock in the social hall of the church. Committee in charge of refreshments includes Mrs. Walt, chairman; Mary Bender, Viola Machemer, Doris Rosenberger and Bessie Shade.

The first concrete pavement in the United States was laid in 1891 in Bellefontaine, O.

Trojans Count on Strong Defense to Halt Norristown High's Versatile Attack Tonight

You take a team that shoots plays at you from a single wing, the double wing, the normal T with an unbalanced line, a winged T with the wing on the strong side, and a winged T with the wing on the weak side, all in the course of one game, and brother, you're in trouble.

That is, unless you have a strong defense. And that will be coach Heeb Myers' biggest problem tonight when his Pottstown High Trojans go up against Norristown.

The Eagles, a team with more offenses than Milton Berle has jokes, will play host to the Trojans under the lights at Roosevelt stadium. The gridfest is slated for 8 o'clock.

The past year's thorn in the side of Myers, George Cagliola, is back again this season to harry the Pottstown mentor again.

Cagliola, one of the finest schoolboy backs to don pads, sparked the Eagles to a 38-0 romp in 1952 with his passing to end Bob McKay, who is also a returner. Myers' biggest problem is how to keep Norristown "from passing us to death." He plans to use a mixture of plays and although he would like to pass, Myers said the passes just don't seem to get completed.

"I KNEW when the season started that the defense would be a problem," Myers said, "and it's still somewhat of a problem."

Both Myers and his assistant, Bill McCabe, agreed on the physical condition of the Trojans. Bobby Grow, who was injured during scrimmage has the OK to go, and outside of a few minor bruises the team is in pretty good shape, although there is a little trouble with colds.

McCabe said, "Physically we're ready, and if we can get up to the proper heights mentally, we can play them even."

Myers also felt a good deal depended upon the team's spirit.

"Our defense has to hold up in the face of these good backs," McCabe went on, referring to Tony Moles, Gerry Bono, Paul Koons, and Cagliola. "If our defense holds up we feel that our offense may run pretty close to form."

A few orchids were tossed at Cagliola by McCabe. "He's not a picture passer, but he is a thrower who can throw. He can run from his left and throw from his right, which few high school players can do."

"They've got the passers and the receivers," Myers said. "They were Olney down just by passing them to death."

Norristown went to the air against a heavier Olney club the past week, and passed them dizzy to the tune of 32-0.

IN SPITE of Myers' worry about his defense and what he is going to do against the Eagle's aerial circus, the fact remains that the Trojans defense has improved since the curtain was lifted on the current campaign.

The pass defense showed up well against Ridley township's passing, but there is a big difference between Ridley tosser Ron Garland and Norristown's big gun, Cagliola.

Offensively, the Trojans are ready to move. Howie Bedell, who has picked up almost 400 yards this season, is ready to display his flashy feet, and Clark Burns, who showed up well in the Ridley tip, can back up Bedell to give Pottstown a one-two running combination.

In addition to Bedell and Burns, who will start in the halfback slots, Flip Smoyer gets the call at fullback, calling the plays will be Josh Sova, who has developed into a good long-range passer.

At the ends, Myers plans to use Lin Bieler and Milt Wensel. The tackles will be Bill Fisher and Larry Lawler, and at the guards, Joe Rettew and Joe Schutz.

Jack Babel will start at center.

THE DEFENSIVE array, which will bear the brunt of the Eagle's attack, will feature Grow, Rettew, and Mac Shirey in the linebacker's positions; Smoyer and Jim Porter at the terminals; Schutz and Earl Hunsicker at tackles; Fisher as center linebacker; and playing deep, Bill Kerr, Babel, and Wils Bedell.

When the Trojans start defending against the aerial bombardment that is sure to come, and start throwing Bedell and Burns into an Eagle line that doesn't measure up to its backfield, the whole thing should develop into quite an interesting rubarub.

Johnson Makes Pitt Varsity After 1st Tilt

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7 (AP)—Sophomore Ed Johnson of Wilkes Barre, who played his first college football game last week, "is our center until someone takes the position away from him," coach Lowell (Red) Dawson of the University of Pittsburgh said today.

Dawson was very pleased with the 200-pounder's work in Pitt's 7-7 tie with Oklahoma and rates the "most improved player on the club." Johnson, who only a few weeks ago was on the fourth team, will start against the Nebraska Cornhuskers here Saturday.

Trojanelles Score First Win of Year In Field Hockey

Pottstown High school's field hockey team won its first game of the season yesterday afternoon, edging the girls from Phoenixville, 3-1, at Franklin field.

Marsha Baylor scored a goal in each half and Dixie Shirey notched one in the second half as the local team opened its home season. The first game of the year was at Bridgeport and resulted in a 3-1 setback for the Trojanelles. The team plays tonight at Downingtown.

In junior varsity action, Pottstown won, 2-0, to blank the opposition for the second straight time. At Bridgeport, the contest ended in a scoreless tie. JV goals, both in the second half, were scored by Nannett Evans and Nancy Lord.

Coach Peg Mallady used three substitutes in the varsity contest and five were used in the JV game, while Phoenixville failed to substitute in either game.

THE VARSITY LINEUP:

Pottstown: Pos., Phoenixville; Maxwell, LW, Wasiko; Shirey, LI, Guterly; Baylor, CP, Ebbolis; Renninger, RH, Davis; Grow, RH, Walton; C. Rutler, LB, Kappel; A. Rutler, OH, Hilberg; Dersch, RH, Morgan; Noble, LB, Dietrich; DiSantis, RB, Pawloski; Wentzel, G, Seton. Substitutes: Pottstown: Stamm, Faytner, Ulrich; Phoenixville: none.

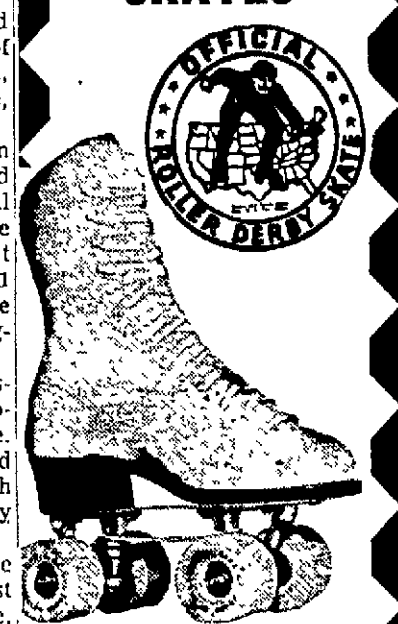

Scoring: Pottstown, Baylor 2, Shirey; Phoenixville, Shirey.

PUTTING HIS FOOT INTO IT—Josh Sova, Pottstown High quarterback, will not only do his team's punting against Norristown High, but will also call the signals and throw the majority of the passes.

Now a Junior, the 170-pound Sova has been at the ball handling spot in Coach Heeb Myers' T-formation since the beginning of the season.

Even as a Sophomore the past year, he was the Trojans' best punter.

DAUNTLESS FLO CHADWICK SPANS EUROPE, ASIA

THERAPIA, Turkey, Oct. 7 (AP)—Dauntless Florence Chadwick today swam the current-strong Bosphorus from Europe to Asia and back and tomorrow she will attempt to conquer the Dardanelles and complete an unprecedented grand tour of four of Europe's great waterways in one year.

The attractive, 33-year-old expert swimmer from San Diego, Calif., was timed in one hour, 14 minutes and seven seconds for her swim of four or five miles between the two continents.

By swimming to Asia she touched her third continent by water under her own power in her farewell year as a marathon mermaid.

On Sept. 4, she conquered the treacherous English Channel for the third time, breaking the record for the England-to-France trip.

Two weeks later she zig-zagged to another record when she crossed the Straits of Gibraltar from the Dardanelles to the Aegean.

The Dardanelles is the southern part of the Turkish Straits and connects the sea of Marmara and the Aegean.

Europe to Africa. Dubbed "the iron woman of Gibraltar" by Spanish experts for her swift conquest of the Straits, the svelte swimmer will fly to Canakkale Thursday morning. She expects to arrive about 11 a. m. and plans to swim shortly thereafter from Abydas to Sestos.

That is where, she has been told by researchers, Leander made his fabled nightly swim of the Hellespont, now known as the Dardanelles, to visit Hero, the priestess of Aphrodite.

Leander lost his way one night and drowned. Learning of this, Hero threw herself into the Straits and also was drowned.

"I hope my swim has a happier ending," said Miss Chadwick with a smile. She intends to retire after this journey.

Wizzard Waldo Predicts

The precarious life of a prognosticator fails to cause Wizzard Waldo the slightest consternation after a fairly successful week of naming 13 out of 16 winners.

The Cols of Collegeville let him down on the local front and Texas A & M. surprised both Waldo and Georgia in his other miss. Oklahoma was somewhat short of sensational in being tied by Pitt for the third wrong guess. Waldo's two-week record now stands at 23 correct choices, three ties and seven misses.

The local calendar shows a crowded weekend schedule. WW will do his best say who is going to win the seven area games and risk his reputation by making selections among the teams in the Mercury's Football Forecasts contest.

Norristown over Pottstown, 26-13—The same Eagles who routed the Trojans the past year are still flying high.

Royersford over Governor Mifflin, 19-6—Here are some low flying Eagles who are way over due to gain altitude.

Upper Perkiomen over Muhlenberg, 21-0—The Indians are improving with each game.

Boyetown over North Coventry, 27-12—The Wildcats deal out a pretty good scratching before the Bears outlast them.

Collegeville over Wyomissing, 19-13—Those speed and scrappy Colonel backs are due to break loose.

Upper Merion over Spring City, 7-6—Maybe that score should be reversed.

Upper Dublin over Schwenksville, 12-6—Who knows anything about UD?

Williamson Trade over Hill, 15-7—The Hillers have been winning by scores that are too close.

California over Penn, 27-13—The Bears go East to do their prospering after a pretty good showing against Ohio State.

Pittsburgh over Nebraska, 27-6—The opening loss to West Virginia will make the Panthers a better team.

Navy over Cornell, 21-13—After two weeks of easy sailing the Mid-dies encounter rough seas.

Southern Methodist over Missouri, 21-20—Picking ties is against the law of averages.

Oklahoma over Texas, 13-0—Bud Wilkinson's teams just don't go

Comiskey Debate Releasing Lane to Baltimore Orioles

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Comiskey clan tonight debated whether to grant a requested release of Frank Lane as general manager of the White Sox to take an important post with the Baltimore Orioles.

Lane asked his release from a Sox contract extending through 1955 to become a key man in operation of the new Baltimore entry in the American league and presumably acquire Oriole stock.

This was learned from a highly reliable source, although neither Lane, nor Clarence W. Miles, chairman of the Orioles, board of directors confirmed it.

However, late this afternoon, Chuck Comiskey, 27-year-old White Sox vice president, issued this terse statement:

"THE SITUATION of Frank Lane going to Baltimore or staying in Chicago is now under consideration and no decision has been reached yet."

Reportedly Comiskey, his mother and club president, Mrs. Grace R. Comiskey, and other club officials were at odds on whether the trade-minded Lane should be released.

Mrs. Comiskey is said to be displeased by Baltimore's attempt to lure Lane away from the Sox which he hoisted from last place in 1948 to third the past two seasons.

A possible counter-move by the Sox would be to give Lane a long-term contract and salary boost.

Outsider Wins

LIGONIER, Oct. 7 (AP)—Uncle Joe, an outsider with few backers, romped to a six-length victory today in the 16th running of the Hunt Cup Steeplechase, feature of the opening day of the Rolling Rock club races.

Queer Wednesday, entry of Arthur E. Pew Jr., of Philadelphia, was second and Mrs. Lewis C. Ledyard's Irish Easter third in the gruelling two-mile test.

three weeks in a row without a victory.

Georgia over Maryland, 14-13—Picking upsets is also against the law of averages.

UCLA over Wisconsin, 25-18—Of course the Badgers may knock Paul Cameron and crew right into the Pacific Ocean on this one.

Colorado over Kansas, 14-7—That Boulder air gets the flat-land boys down.

Michigan over Iowa, 28-0—This looks easy on paper.

Old Timers' Banquet

Veck Struggles To Move Club

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—Bill Veck, still struggling to move the St. Louis Browns to Baltimore, today told a circuit court hearing that shift would be jeopardized and the club would become bankrupt unless injunction and receivership suits against the Browns are dismissed.

Veck, who resigned as Browns' president Oct. 1, said any delay in moving the Browns from St. Louis would add further troubles to the club's present "chaotic and precarious condition."

Now a member of the Browns' board of directors, Veck said the club is losing $50,000 a month and will have lost a half million dollars by the end of the year unless the proceedings are discarded.

The injunction suit was filed by minority stockholders, holding 60,000 shares in the club, last Spring to keep the Browns in St. Louis.

The suit came when Veck, representing a group holding about 79 percent of the club's stock, made his first bid in the Baltimore shift.

Minority stockholders also ask that a receiver be appointed to operate and manage the club.

They also demand that Veck be ordered to account for alleged mismanagement of the club.

Hockey Season Opens

TORONTO, Oct. 7 (AP)—The National Hockey league, bucking big time football for sports-page space, starts another long season on two fronts tomorrow night.

The 1953-54 70-game schedule opens at Montreal with the Canadiens, featuring Jean Beliveau, against the Chicago Black Hawks and at Detroit with the Red Wings host to the New York Rangers.

Reservations can be made by calling Pop at 2817W any afternoon after 3 o'clock.

In another motion made last night, it was decided to throw the banquet open to the members of the fairer sex, in case anyone wants to bring his wife or girl friend.

According to Myers, it looks like anywhere "from 300 on up will attend."

"We want to make this a community affair," Pop declared. "We want to make it big. We expect to make it an annual affair."

The Old Timers club now has in its ranks about 380 members, and all are requested to attend the next meeting of the club on Wednesday night at Borough hall beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Pottstown's Prides

The shrubs and trees that spruce up this home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Miller at 1466 Cherry Lane were put in the past summer by the Millers.

Downstairs, a feature is the bedroom converted into a television room. Also downstairs are the living room, about 13 by 16 feet; kitchen, bedroom and bath.

Upstairs are two more bedrooms which the Millers painted and papered themselves.

The house was finished in 1949 by Stanley Swinehart, Pottstown builder.

Miller is an appliance serviceman for Levitz Furniture company.

His wife, Arlene, formerly was a secretary for the late Richard H. Cadmus.

Sewer, Road Jobs Reported Complete

The completion of sewer and road improvements was reported by West Pottsgrove commissioners last night.

A 900-foot sewer line along Old Reading pike and a rebuilt Elm street from East Vine to Howard streets for 900 feet were among summer improvements.

Elm street was completely rebuilt with a six-inch base and two-inch top.

President Peter Dori presided at the brief session. Commissioners present were Elmer Hampton, William Regan, Charles Frech and Charles Endy.

Postoffice Clerks Elect

Officers for the coming year were elected by Pottstown postoffice clerks at their meeting last night.

Brower Knaster was made president of the group.

Other officers for the year are Dawson Reynolds, vice president; and Leonard Moser, secretary-treasurer.

Fifteen attended the meeting at the home of Leonard Rhoads.

Refreshments were furnished by the sponsors of the meeting—Harold, Leonard and Norman C. Rhoads, Donald Wanner and Harry Yohn.

The next meeting will be held on Jan. 6, Secretary Moser said.

STREET PROGRAM NEARS FINISH

Three - Quarters Of Rebuilding Complete

Seventy-five percent of the more than two-mile, $82,000 street rebuilding program, under construction by E. J. Breneman, Warwick Settlement, will be completed by early next week.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden last night said Breneman will lay approximately 1200 tons of blacktop on North Franklin street, Mervine to Prospect streets, and Grace street, Evans to Washington streets, today, tomorrow and Monday.

When these two projects are completed, 75 percent of Breneman's contract, let this past June, will be fulfilled.

Initial construction began on streets late in June.

GULDEN ANNOUNCED the finishing touches are being applied to a 17,000 foot storm sewer along Spruce street.

Contractor J. R. Christ, Boyertown, is installing the 26-inch reinforced concrete pipe along Spruce street.

The new sewer, which will eliminate knee-deep water along Spruce street after heavy rains, will include inlets at Grace, Maplewood and Mineral streets.

For a number of years Spruce street, a natural draining source for water which flows from the hilly section, has been flooded after heavy downpours.

Flagg Union, Company Negotiators Hope for Settlement at Session Today

Union and company negotiators will make a fresh start toward settlement of the nine-week-old Stanley G. Flagg company strike today.

Hopes for a settlement of the prolonged shutdown will flicker a little higher when rival representatives meet at the Valley Forge hotel, Norristown.

Neither side last night would wager a guess on the outcome of this third meeting since the strike began this past Aug. 1.

Last night there was only hope, no indication of what may happen when officials of Local 2326, United Steel Workers (CIO), and the firm get together.

PREVIOUS UNSUCCESSFUL sessions were held on Sept. 3 and 16.

At the last meeting, the company offered a general 8 1/2-cent hourly wage increase, and for the first time offered a pension plan which would go into effect in 1954.

The company offer included a provision the contract run until August, 1955, without a wage reopening clause.

The union rejected the proposal. The union has demanded a 16-cent hourly boost, a pension plan and a co-operative wage study program similar to plans in other firms of the industry.

Representing the union at today's conference will be President Clarence Matz, Vice President Raymond Wilkinson, Leonard Harp, Willard Richards, Steve Klopotosky, William Ludy and International Representative William Robbins.

Attending for the company will be Ralph A. Lind, labor consultant; Stanley P. Elliott, assistant general superintendent and personnel director, and Alden J. Ramsdell, assistant to Elliott.

Charles Schmidt of the State Mediation bureau also will attend.

Let It Burn, Says Chief

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., Oct. 7 (AP)—Chillicothe has a fire they can't put out.

It started in a big sawdust pile behind an old rake factory. It's been smoldering for years and probably will continue for years to come.

Fire Chief Virgil Lindsey says it won't do any harm if surface debris is kept away.

Colebrookdale Board Awaits Figures on Assessment

Colebrookdale township supervisors last night spoke out in favor of lowering the millage on property taxes when final official assessment figures for the township are released.

The new unofficial assessment figure for township properties is $2,213,775, an increase from $1,294,125.

The reassessment job was handled by the county.

Supervisor William Shane pledged with others his support of a cut in millage by 1954.

A township representative will be present at a Public Utilities commission hearing on the reconstruction of Legislative Route 06026, which ultimately will be linked to reconstructed Route 100.

Supervisors John Hartman, Shane and George Bechtel and Secretary Henry Westler attended the session in the township building.

200 Employees Of Firestone Plant To Travel to Game

Two hundred salaried employees of Firestone Tire and Rubber company's Pottstown plant will take a special Reading company train Saturday to attend the Navy-Cornell football game in Baltimore, Md., as guests of the company.

E. T. Handley, plant manager, reported that the deluxe train, with two diners, three coaches and a club car will leave the Reading's Pottstown station at 9:55 a. m. and reach Baltimore an hour before the 2 p. m. game time in that city's municipal stadium.

The 200 men will leave at 6 p. m. and be back in Pottstown about 9 p. m. They'll eat lunch and dinner on the train.

The Firestone special will consist of cars taken from the Reading company's "Wall Streeter."

The cars can be spared because New York city commuter traffic is at a low ebb on Saturday.

For the Firestone employees, it will be the fifth year they've gone to a football game as the company's guests. In previous years, they've seen both professional and inter-collegiate games in Philadelphia, Princeton, N. J., and New York city.

Bus travel was tried once, Handley noted, but "nobody liked the bus."

The 200 men include office, technical and supervisory employees.

RUMLER REPORTS ON PLANS TO INCREASE STAFF

Limerick Board Hears Recommendations On Boosts

President Frank Rumler reported to fellow-members of Limerick school board last night on recommendations made by a county committee concerning the Montgomery county superintendent's office.

A committee of the county directors' association this past Sept. 29 recommended salary and personnel increases of the county superintendent's staff.

The committee favored the recommendations by a 12 to 5 vote, and they will be brought up at the county convention of school directors next month.

A report on the proceedings of the committee meeting will be mailed to all directors who serve under the county superintendent, all directors representing fourth class districts.

"RUMLER spoke out against the increase," he asserted, "I think the money should be retained on the local level."

Ernest Leidenberger, president of the school league, asked directors to send one member to the league's monthly meeting to make progress reports.

Supervising Principal Howard A. Michener reported an enrollment of 458 in the six grades, a figure officials did not expect to reach until 1956.

The new school has just about reached its capacity enrollment with the 458 figure.

Tax collector Franklin Roth reported $2072 collected in taxes for the month. Total collections now have reached $104,870.

DIRECTORS Rumler, Harry Y. Leopold, Dr. Ivan W. Hess, J. Edward Wood Sr., and Earl Schlachter were present.

The property committee reported the completion of resurfacing of a playground and parking area.

J. A. Sisto Is Invited To Federal Conference

J. A. Sisto, board chairman of Barium Steel corporation, of which Pottstown's Jacobs Aircraft Engine company is a subsidiary, is one of a group of industrial leaders invited by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson to attend the joint civilian orientation conference, it was announced yesterday.

The conference will be held Oct. 29 through Nov. 6 in Washington D. C.

Holy Name Society Completes Plans for Philadelphia Rally

Final preparations were made last night for the participation of Pottstown's Holy Name society in the Philadelphia Archdiocesan Holy Name Union Quinquennial demonstration this Sunday.

About 185 Pottstown area men will leave from the rear of the St. Aloysius school Sunday at 4 p. m.

Four buses will take the men to Philadelphia. Assembly time will be at 6 p. m. on the east side of South Broad street, between Walnut and Locust streets.

The parade will start at 7 p. m. and the solemn Pontifical mass will be held at 9 p. m. at the Washington monument on the parkway.

Each man will be given a medal of Our Lady of Fatima and a prayer book before leaving Pottstown.

Those present at the meeting last night were Angelo Palladino, William Roberts, Frank Koira, Daniel Churach, Thomas Kassell, Eugene Skofko, Stephen Vagasky, Sylvester Peterka, George Parvenski.

The meeting was in charge of Charles Palladino.

1900 Persons Visit 3-Day Antique Show

Over 1900 persons attended the three-day antique show that ended last night at Sunnybrook ballroom.

Total paid admissions were 1909, with opening day drawing 790 of them.

Paid attendance on Tuesday and yesterday were 638 and 481, respectively.

"It was the most successful show we've had so far," said Silas Stahl, co-chairman of the show sponsored by Montgomery county antique dealers association.

He called it best both from the standpoint of sales and interest shown by visitors.

The show was open from 11 a. m. to 11 p. m. each day.

An added attraction yesterday was a quilting demonstration by women of Skippack Brethren church.

PRINCESS TO VISIT US OSLO, Norway, Oct. 7 (AP)—Norway's Crown Princess Martha will leave here Oct. 13 for Palm Beach, Fla. where she will be the guest of the former US ambassador to Norway, Charles U. Bay, and his wife.

Teachers Association Donates $1000 to The United Fund

Pottstown Teachers association yesterday donated $1000 to the United Fund.

The contribution was made during discussion on the 1953-54 budget presented by budget committee chairman, Karl Schumacher.

President Mrs. Elisabeth Stevenson and Miriam Ludwig were named delegates to the Pennsylvania State Educational association convention in Harrisburg in December.

Frances Lachman and Esther Seeders were named delegates to the conference of classroom teachers at Bedford Springs next month.

The budget report included gifts to the retired in membership in the PSEA and the National Educational association (NEA).

Marion Giles, past president, and A. Edna Hutt, reported on meetings of the Montgomery County Educational conference.

Dorothy Barkel read a complete revision of association by-laws.

The afternoon session was conducted in the Junior High school. Mrs. Stevenson presided.

Indian Implements Displayed at Grange

Arrowheads and tomahawks gave the Sanatoga Grange hall an "early American" look at last night's meeting.

The primitive stone weapons were on exhibit as part of the hobby show held by the members.

Henry Rahn and Harry Brant assembled the collections from those they turned up while plowing on their farms.

Robert E. Meloy contributed one of the tomahawks from his farm. Rahn and Brant also had one each.

Of the 25 hobby exhibits, one contained 200 salt and pepper shakers. It was displayed by Mrs. Ruth Levengood.

Other exhibits included rabbits, chickens, stuffed animals and rugs. Elsie Shaner displayed the biggest rug, Marcus Barrett the biggest rabbit and Mrs. Francis Shott the most rugs.

Fifty-seven members attended the meeting.

Do You Remember?

Those grand old days when Pottstown and area was in its infancy—Here's another photo that may recapture a few moments of eternity for you, a picture to stir your memory and let you catch a glimpse of the past.

Little Beth Kelley with the hairbow poses with a group of young women who attended Pottstown Business college in the late 1890's, at a gathering in Sanatoga park.

The child has died, as has her father, Frederick E. Kelley, who headed the school for more than 50 years, while Mr. Kelley's widow, who lives at 245 Chestnut street, was not in close contact with classes of that era.

No, help will be needed to identify the young women. The school was founded in 1895 by Mr. Kelley and C. W. Farrar, and was in the Security building, then at 258 High street.

After Mr. Kelley's death in 1948, Pottstown Business college moved to its present location, 18 North Hanover street.

The photograph was found among school records and loaned by the school's present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse A. Begel, 340 Oak street.

Hallowe'en Parade Scheduled Oct. 28; Prizes Are in Store

The Pottstown Recreation commission announced yesterday that the 1953 annual Community Hallowe'en parade will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 28. Rain, night will be Oct. 29.

The parade will be held in the evening and will proceed along High street.

The Hallowe'en parade committee will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Pottstown Recreation commission office, borough hall.

On the committee will be representatives from the various local service and fraternal clubs which help to sponsor and conduct the parade. Anyone else interested in helping with the parade will be welcome at the meeting.

The parade will be open to all youngsters of school age and under, and all participants must be in costume. There will be several costume divisions, with prizes for winners in each division.

The past year over 1000 costumed youngsters took part in the parade and over $200 worth of prizes were awarded the winners. Five local school bands participated in the parade which required over 50 volunteers, from local clubs, to run.

Small Pencilled Will Disposes of Estate Valued at $11,000

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, Oct. 7—A will, pencilled on both sides of an extremely small sheet of note paper, disposed of an estate of $11,000 left by Maud Schaffer, 66, of 365 Spruce street, Pottstown, it was learned today in the register of wills' office.

She provided that her estate was to be shared by her brothers and sisters. The testament was written Aug. 3, 1953 while she was hospitalized.

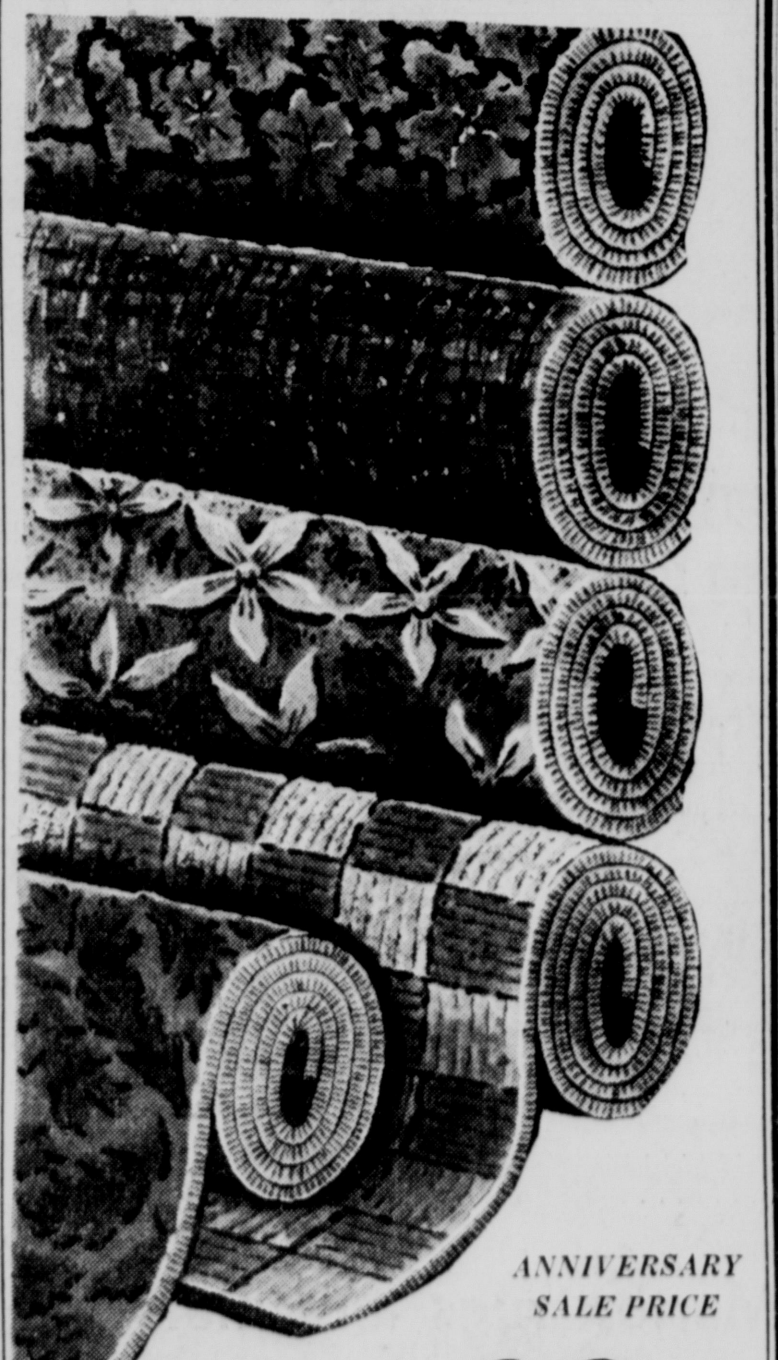

Joseph H. Baker, 75, of 449 North York street, Pottstown, who died Sept. 25, left an estate of $8,200. The will directed that his wife, Emma, was to be the beneficiary but her death occurred first, on June 4, and other next of kin will now inherit the estate.

Washington G. Saylor, 73, of Schwenksville, who died Sept. 30, named his wife, Minnie, beneficiary of his $14,000 estate.

Business and Press Club Sponsors Assembly Held at Junior High School

By DIANE SANDQUIST

Pottstown Junior High's third week of school was a very colorful one. It all began with an assembly put on by the Echo Business and Press club. A skit was the main part of the show. Participating in it were Sara Jane Binder, Allen Quackenbush, Janet Cote, Barbara Hill and Rebecca Clary. The varsity cheerleaders gave a few cheers and a small group of choir girls sang some songs followed by a small skit put on by Judy Dotterer and Diane Sandquist.

Next on the agenda was three professional musicians, the Wallace Chimes, performed for the student body on swiss bells, accordion, xylophone, electrified marimba and piano.

Color guard and cheerleaders were also chosen. Color guard members are: guns, Joann Smith, Phyllis Breuninger, Connie Hill and Judy Rosendale; flags, Pat Peterman and Ruth Moyer. Varsity cheerleaders; captain, Judy Lambert, Margaret Daniels, Betty Bolton, Barbara Galloway, Helen Grille, Sandra Kellar, Barbara Kidon, Nancy Kurtz, Leona Piotrowski, Barbara Simms and Pat Wanger.

The PJHS band, directed by William Schinstine and varsity cheerleaders presided over the first pep rally. Immediately after this the Cubs scored their first victory over Phoenixville, 26-18.

Father Permitted To Greet Son, Wife
WORKING, England, Oct. 7 (P)—Henry T. Beaver agreed today to heed a court injunction ordering him to stay away from his wife and son but then posed this puzzle: "Working is a very small place and if I happen to see my boy, whom I love and who loves me, it puts me in a very awkward predicament. Could any man pass his own child in the street without speaking to him?"

Ruled the judge: "If you meet your wife and child by accident in the street you can say 'good morning' and 'good afternoon' and pass on but there must be nothing more than that."

The ruling was made in connection with Mrs. Elsie Beaver's divorce petition.

World Series Split

Yankees, Dodgers Share Record Amount

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Each member of the New York Yankees who received a full World Series share will bank a record check for $8280.68, it was announced today by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick. Those voted full shares by the losing Brooklyn Dodgers will receive $6178.42.

The Yankee windfall, shared by 26 players, Manager Casey Stengel, the four coaches, the club trainer and road secretary, easily eclipses the previous record payoff of $8772.05 pocketed by the world champion Cleveland Indians of 1948. Second place money compares to the $4951.03 previous high received by the New York Giants two years ago.

Each of the second place clubs in the two leagues, Cleveland in the American and Milwaukee in the National, will receive $51,850.62.

Earned Run Leaders

Lopat and Spahn Post Low Marks

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Willoway Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves and stocky Ed Lopat of the New York Yankees, a pair of veteran left-handers, topped the Major Leagues in earned run effectiveness for 1953.

Figures compiled by the Association of Professional Baseball Clubs:

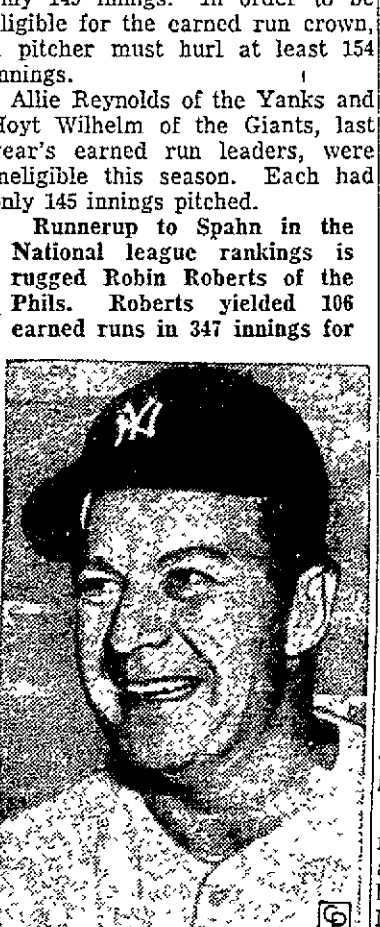

WARREN SPAHN

Spahn, who also won the earned run title in 1947 with a 2.33 mark, posted the lowest ERA in the National League since 1946. That year Howie Pollet of the Cards owned an identical pace-setting 2.10 average.

The 31-year-old fastballer, in his eighth full season with the Braves, won 23 and lost seven for his best year in the majors. He hurled 25 complete games, five of them shutouts. It also marked the fifth time he has been a 20-game winner.

Lopat became the first American League pitcher to head the loop in both earned run average and won-loss percentage since the Yanks' Spud Chandler turned the trick in 1947.

ED LOPAT

a 2.75 average. Rookie Bob Buhl of the Braves finished third with 3.00, followed by Harvey Haddix of the Cards, 3.06, and Curt Simmons of the Phils, 3.12.

Billy Pierce of the White Sox placed second in the American league with a 2.72 ERA, having permitted 82 earned runs in 271 innings. Behind him were teammate Virgil Trucks, 2.93, and lost percentage since the Yanks' Spud Chandler turned the trick in 1947.

Eyes Crack at Title

Turner Takes Scortichini in Easy Win

DETROIT, Oct. 7 (AP)—Gil Turner, the Philadelphia buzz saw, walloped away almost at will tonight to score a unanimous 10 round decision over back pedaling Italo Scortichini of Italy before a small crowd of 3053 in Olympia stadium. Turner weighed 156, Scortichini 155½.

Slashing with lefts and rights, Turner was in complete command after the first two rounds. He raked his squat opponent with as many as 100 blows in one round.

An unofficial count showed the 22-year-old Turner, ranked second among the welters, fired 830 punches during the scrap.

At times the one-sided bout resembled a track meet, with Turner chasing his 24-year-old opponent from one side of the ring to another.

NEITHER FIGHTER had ever been knocked down and Turner, punching like a demon, tried desperately to end Scortichini's streak in the 10th round. He flailed away and tried to smash Scortichini through the ropes. Gil even fired a few holos and did a rumba dance a la Kid Gavilan.

The officials were convinced. Referee Johnnie Weber and judge Joe Greenberg gave it to Turner, 57 points to 43. Judge Malcolm House had the young Philadelphia ahead, 56-44.

Scortichini moved backwards for most of the fight but on a few occasions he stopped and hurried with Turner. But his blows hardly made Gil blink.

It was Turner's 42nd pro victory against three setbacks and he hopes it was a warmup for another crack at the welterweight championship. He would like to meet the winner of next month's title bout between Gavilan and Chicago's Johnny Bratton, the No. 1 welter-weight contender.

Scortichini, a virtual unknown in this country, dropped his seventh from the whopping World Series receipts to divide among its players.

The Chicago White Sox, third in the American League, receive $34,567.08 for player distribution, the Boston Red Sox, fourth in the American, $17,283.54. As the Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Cardinals tied for third place in the National League, they will split third and fourth place money.

The player pool from the first four games totalled $608,341.61. Television and radio rights for the games, almost 1½ million dollars, do not figure in the player pool. They are added to the player pension fund.

In announcing the series cuts, the commissioner only gave the names of individuals sharing in the Yankee and Dodger melon. The individual listings for the other first division clubs were not released.

In addition to awarding 29 full shares, the Yankees cut in 16 others for various sums.

The Dodgers whacked up their melon into 29 full shares and six part shares.

Infielder Gerry Coleman, who joined the Yankees on Aug. 28 after leaving Korea and the Marines, was awarded a one-third share of $2760.21.

Catcher Ralph Houk, who was dropped from the players' roster in July to become a bull pen catcher and coach, received a full share. Rookies Steve Kraly and Gus Triandos, who came up on July 31, each collected half shares of $4140.34 along with Ewell Blackwell, who left the club in July because of a sore shoulder.

The Dodgers gave Ralph Branca who was traded to Detroit, $1,544.61, a fourth share. The same went to Erv Palica, who didn't get out of the Army until late September.

Don Newcombe, the big Dodger hurler who spent the entire season in the Army, was remembered with $500.

HERE'S HOW the players divided their shares:

Yankees:

Full shares of $8280.68 — Hank Bauer, Yogi Berra, Don Bollweg, Andy Carey, Joe Collins, Whitey Ford, Tommy Gorman, Bob Kuzava, Ed Lopat, Mickey Mantle, Billy Martin, Jim McDonald, Gil McDougald, Johnny Mize, Irv Noren, Vic Raschi, Bill Renna, Allie Reynolds, Phil Rizzuto, Johnny Sain, Charley Silvera, Gene Woodling, Manager Casey Stengel, Coach Frank Crosetti, Coach Bill Dickey, Coach-bullpen catcher Ralph Houk, Coach Jim Turner, Trainer Gus Mauch, and Road Secretary Bill McCorry.

$4140.34—Ewell Blackwell, Steve Kraly, and Gus Triandos.

$2070.21—Pete Previte, assistant clubhouse attendant.

$6178.42 each—Bill Antonello, Wayne Belardi, Joe Black, Roy Campanella, Bill Cox, Carl Erskine, Carl Furillo, Junior Gilliam, Gil Hodges, Jim Hughes, Clem Labine, Billy Loes, Russ Meyer, Bob Milliken, Bob Morgan, Johnny Podres, Pee Wee Reese, Jackie Robinson, Preacher Roe, George Shuba, Duke Snider, Don Thompson, Ben Wade, Rube Walker, Manager Charley Dressen, Coach Billy Herman, Coach Cookie Lavagetto, Coach Jake Pitler, and Trainer Harold Wendler.

$4663.81—Dick Williams.

$1544.61—Erv Palica, Ralph Branca.

Frick Fines Dressen, Noren

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick fined Manager Chuck Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Outfielder Irv Noren of the New York Yankees each $100 today for their part in incidents which occurred during the recent World Series.

Dressen was fined for arguing with plate umpire Art Gore in the fourth game at Ebbets Field when the arbiter ruled that Phil Rizzuto, Yank shortstop, had tipped a third strike and not fanned, as the Dodgers contended.

The Dodger pilot engaged in a great jawing match with Gore, claiming that the man in blue had not said anything about the ball having been fouled off until Rizzuto turned to him and said "I fouled it." The debate raged halfway back to the Brooklyn dugout.

Noren will find his series check 100 units lighter because, Frick said, he stood outside the Yankee dugout in the final game and waved a towel derisively at the official scorers after they had given the error sign on a ball that Billy Martin hit down to Junior Gilliam, Brooklyn's second baseman, in the second inning.

If they had ruled it a hit instead of an error, Martin would have tied the World Series record of 12 safeties at that point and his winning single in the last of the ninth would have set a new standard.

Frick denied a report that he had given orders before the Series that the umpires should not be criticized by players and managers. He said he had ordered only that a limited number of individuals from a club could join in field debates.

Pittsburgh Purchases Two Farm Pitchers

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates purchased two right-handed pitchers conditionally today from their New Orleans club in the Southern association.

They are Vernon Thies, 25, of Berkeley, Mo., and Clarence Churn, 23, of Machipange, Va. Thies won 16 and lost six with Denver of the Western league and Churn, a returning serviceman, won five and lost five with Charleston in the Sally league.

The San Francisco boxer went to the athletic commission office to sign before commission chairman Bob Christenberry. Christenberry will go to Catskill mountains to get Turpin's signature at Grossinger, N. Y.

Randy said he had missed several days of training because of bad weather and wanted to work out today. He asked to be excused from making the trip.

Olson left for Asbury Park, N. J. He will start boxing there tomorrow.

Mistrial Is Ordered
In Al Ettore Suit
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7 (AP)—US District Judge George A. Welsh today ordered a mistrial of the damage case of Al Ettore, former heavyweight boxer, against the Philco Television Broadcasting corporation and Chesbrough Manufacturing company, New York.

Ettore, now a steelworker in nearby Morrisville, Pa., sued on the basis that the TV showing of his 1936 fight with Joe Louis was edited to leave out rounds in which Ettore fought his best. Louis kayoed Ettore in the fifth.

Judge Welsh ordered the mistrial because a Philadelphia newspaper published a story stating that Ettore sought $200,000.

The TV film was presented in December, 1949, on the "greatest fights of the century" program sponsored by Chesbrough and shown on WPTZ, then operated by Philco.

Cavarretta Signs To Manage Cubs For Third Year

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—Phil Cavarretta, who took over as a stop-gap pilot two years ago, today was handed his third one-year managerial contract by the seventh-place Chicago Cubs.

The 1954 season, however, will find Cavarretta, a hard-hitting Cub first baseman for 19 years, strictly a bench manager.

Since he was named manager to succeed the fired Frankie Frisch July 21, 1951, Cavarretta had remained on the active player list.

However, Cavarretta, 37, appeared only as a pinch-hitter this year, belting six hits in 21 trips for .286, compared with his lifetime average of .292 for 1953 games.

Cavarretta's rehiring was announced by Wid Matthews, director of Cub player personnel. Ever since the Cubs finished with a 65-89 record, 40 games behind champion Brooklyn, rumors flew that Cavarretta, or Matthews, or both, might not return for 1954.

Today's development was taken as a vote of confidence in both men by owner P. K. Wrigley. Cavarretta's 1954 salary was not disclosed, but Matthews said it was "satisfactory to all concerned."

"Phil did a good job with a team that was hobbled by injuries all season," said Matthews. "He rated a new contract."

The Cubs' drop from a surprising fifth-place finish in 1952 to seventh this year was attributed by Matthews to the fact that "all the breaks went against Phil. He had to play men who weren't in shape to play because of injuries."

Significantly, Matthews made no mention of the four coaches who aided Cavarretta this year, Ray Blades, Charley Root, Spud Davis and Roy Johnson.

It was reported authoritatively that only Blades will be retained for 1954.

KC Tops Montreal

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7 (AP)—Bob Ferris and Mel Wright combined their pitching talents to allow Montreal only two hits tonight as Kansas City won the fourth game of the Little World Series, 4-3. Montreal now holds a 3-1 lead in the series.

Robinson, All-Stars Ready to Go on Tour

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Jackie Robinson and his All-Stars will open a 30-day barnstorming tour of the South in Baltimore Friday night.

The star Brooklyn infielder-outfielder usually has toured with an All-Negro team but this time he has signed up several leading white players, including Cleveland's Al Rosen, Brooklyn's Gil Hodges and Detroit's Ralph Branca.

Also on his squad are Cleveland's Luke Easter and Bob Trice, Philadelphia A's rookie pitcher.

The opposition is a team made up of Negro league All-Stars, including most of the Indianapolis Clowns.

Police Manhunt Continues for Ex-Convict Named by Couple As Accomplice in Kidnaping Death of Bobby Greenlease

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7 (AP) — A manhunt continued tonight in the $600,000 kidnaping of little Bobby Greenlease, whose body was found in a shallow grave today.

The search was for Thomas John Marsh, 37-year-old ex-convict, named by the FBI as the accomplice of two persons arrested in St. Louis as the kidnapers.

The arrests of Carl Austin Hall, 34, Kansas City ex-convict, and

Body Found Near Honeysuckle Bushes

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 7 (AP) — The body of Bobby Greenlease was uncovered today in a blue plastic bag buried beside the back porch of a small white bungalow surrounded by a hedge of honeysuckle bushes.

The slain 6-year-old Kansas City kidnap victim had been covered with a foot-deep layer of lime and about three feet of earth.

Flowers had been planted on top of the grave to obscure it.

The mail box in front of the little white home identified the owner as Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady.

SHE IS the woman now being held by the FBI at St. Louis, and who said she got the boy out of a Kansas City private school on the pretext that his mother was ill.

No one was admitted to the yard today except FBI agents and police, but hundreds of curious pressed against the honeysuckle hedge and ropes stretched by Missouri state highway police.

Some persons brought ladders in an effort to peer over the hedge.

Neighbors commented on the quietness of the home through the years. The house has a homey atmosphere with its blue shutters and red brick chimney covered with ivy.

They knew little about the occupant, however.

"Mrs. Heady kept pretty much to herself," one neighbor said. "She seemed to want it that way. So we kept pretty much away."

Richest Horse Race Features Season at Garden State Park

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 7 (AP)—Garden State park opens a 25-day racing season Friday with these incentives: (1) Seating capacity in the grandstand has been increased 46 percent and (2) the world's richest horse race, "The Garden State," will gross a quarter of a million dollars and will earn about $150,000 for the winner.

The meeting runs through Nov. 11, with no racing on Mondays except for Oct. 12, Columbus Day. The new grandstand seating will permit the track, the oldest of New Jersey's three racing ovals, to accommodate crowds of 50,000.

"The Garden State," a mile and a sixteenth test restricted to two-year-olds, is set for Oct. 31, and a total of 236 horses from all parts of the United States and including the British champion, The Pie King, have been nominated. Track officials report that new entries are being received for this fabulous stake race, at $7500 an entry, and it is possible that the gross value might hit $270,000.

Besides "The Garden State," six other stakes features, worth $170,000 in added money, are on the track meeting program.

The richest of these is the $50,000-added Trenton Handicap set for Nov. 7. The closing day feature is the $40,000-added Vineland Handicap.

Friday's opening day feature is a six-furlong scamper for three-year-olds and upwards, known as the $10,000 Glassboro.

Spartans Drill For TCU Contest

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 6 (AP)—Michigan State football coaches are trying to guess what kind of a defense Texas Christian will use next Saturday.

Iowa, the Spartans' opening game opponent, used an eight-man line and Michigan State passed its way to victory. Minnesota, last Saturday used mostly six linemen up front and one linebacker so Leroy Bolden ran through the line for three touchdowns.

Freshman coach Danny Devine, who scouted Texas Christian's 13-6 defeat at the hands of Arkansas, said the Texans fumbled a lot to help account for the loss.

Third Victory in 15 Starts

La Corredora Wins Ladies Handicap by Five Lengths

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Marian W. O'Connor's La Corredora took the lead near the top of the stretch and pulled off to a five length victory today at Belmont Park in the $59,000 Ladies Handicap—oldest race in this country for fillies and mares.

Overlooked by many in the chilled crowd of 18,036, La Corredora paid a fat $23.80, $8.80 and $1.90 as she scored an easy victory over Isador Bieber's No Third Chance in a field of 11.

In third place, three fourths of a length behind No Third Chance was Herman B. Delman's How Who won this race last year and was the 5 to 2 favorite this time with Eddie Arcaro in the saddle.

La Corredora, a bay 4-year old daughter of Little Beans—Nellie Mowles, was ridden by the veteran Ira Hanford, and picked up $40,900 for taking the 83rd running of this event first raced at Jerome Park in the Bronx in 1868.

Mrs. O'Connor is the wife of a Washington D. C. attorney and lives at Chevy Chase, Md.

THE TRACK was still wet from last night's rain but was called fast and La Corredora traveled the mile and one half in 2:30 2/5. The fastest Ladies Handicap was 2:29 2/5 by Next Move in 1950.

C. V. Whitney's Carry The News set the pace going into the first turn and held the lead all the way around until La Corredora took over about a quarter of a mile from the finish. La Corredora was content to stay back in fourth place and moved up easily when Hanford said "go."

This was the first stakes victory this year for La Corredora and only her third victory in 15 starts this season. Last year she won the Monmouth Oaks and the Gallorette Stakes. Her winnings today boosted her all time total to $134,895.

Fourth place went to Mrs. John W. Haynes' Devilkin, followed by Constance Morabito's My Celeste.

American Ryder Cup Team Defeats Collection of European Golf Aces

PARIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—The American Ryder Cup golf team had little trouble defeating a collection of European all-star professionals today despite a hole-in-one by Dutchman Gerard De Wit and some surprisingly good play by his teammates.

The Americans won the two-day match, the first ever to pit the Ryder Cup team against non-British Europeans, by a 12-3 margin. Leading by a 4-1 score yesterday at the end of best ball play, the Americans picked up eight more points while yielding two in singles competition.

A crowd of some 2000 fans, including King Leopold of Belgium, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, and bearded, turbaned Indian Ambassador Sardar Malik, trooped around the beautiful 18-hole St. Cloud course under menacing skies to watch the play.

De Wit, who has won the Dutch professional tourney for the past four years, scored his ace on the 130-yard eighth hole, using a seven-iron.

His opponent, Jim Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y., put his tee shot four feet from the pin and went down in two for a birdie.

Turnesa came from behind to beat De Wit, 3 and 1.

THE DAY'S best individual score was turned in by Ryder Cupper Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, who toured the par 70 course in 66, just two strokes over Bruißher Jack Adams' course record. Haas beat

Latest Survey Shows

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Today's one-plateau football teams need fewer plays to score a touchdown than did the two-plateau specialists of last year.

Through the first 300 games of the present season, the major college eleven have scored a touchdown after 21.5 plays. Last year the same teams needed 22 plays. The survey was made by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

The Bureau drew no conclusion as to the cause in the increased scoring. There are football experts who say the present one-plateau style, in which players technically are expected to go the full 60 minutes, has weakened the defense. There are others who insist that a player constantly in the fray will do better on offense.

The survey also shows that each team is passing approximately four times less in each contest than a year ago.

NORTHWESTERN of the Big Ten, has the best average in moving the ball so far this season. The Wildcats crushed Iowa State 10 days ago by sticking to the ground. Last Saturday, they defeated Army 33-20 by moving the ball 223 yards through the air.

The Big Ten darkhorse has averaged 466.5 yards a game. The runner-up is San Jose (Calif.) State which has averaged 400.7 yards against three victims.

When it comes to moving the ball along the ground, Wyoming's unbeaten Cowboys set the pace. They have ground out 1001 yards for an average of 333.7 yards. Princeton is the aerial leader with 214 yards on passes in each of its two triumphs.

Michigan, which belted Washington by a 50-0 score and then Tulane by 26-7, is the leading point-maker.

Southern Methodist, which has played only one game, is the nation's defensive leader, having allowed Georgia Tech only 33 yards gained in 32 plays.

Lineman of Week

Guard Keeps Tech Coach Happy

ATLANTA, Oct. 7 (AP)—Franklin Delano Brooks crossed the street to play college football and Bobby Dodd has been happy about it ever since.

Brooks is a sensational sophomore guard at Georgia Tech, where Dodd holds forth as head coach and athletic director.

The youngster—he's only 19—won the Associated Press' Lineman of the week honor for his terrific play against Southern Methodist Saturday. To Brooks goes much of the credit for a scary 6-4 victory over the Mustangs which kept alive Tech's 29-game unbeaten string.

Brooks was an outstanding guard at O'Keefe High school in Atlanta. O'Keefe's football field is just across the street from Tech's practice field, so Brooks was right at home when he shifted to Tech.

Named for the late President Roosevelt, he is called "Squinch" by his teammates because of the peculiar way he squints his eyes.

But there is nothing wrong with his sight, as his grid play clearly shows.

Against SMU, Brooks made the incredible number of 18 tackles, crasing the old Tech mark of 16 set by All Conference' linebacker George Morris against SMU last year.

Perhaps three of the most important tackles he ever will make came during the Yellow Jacket's magnificent, game-saving goal line stand. SMU had recovered a fumble about a foot away from Tech's goal. In five smashes—they got an extra crack at it when both teams were offside—the Mustangs were pushed back about a yard and a half. Brooks made the first three stops.

Donelli Gets Ready For State Air Attack

BOSTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Boston university's football squad today concentrated on setting up a defense for Penn State's crack passing combination of quarterback Tony Rados and co-captain Don Malinak, a glue-fingered end.

Don Fraser, a 215-pound tackler who was banged around during the Syracuse opener, was limited to the lightest sort of work. Coach Buff Donelli has hopes of using Fraser Saturday but is grooming a replacement in the meantime.

Simple Family Dominates Tourney

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Oct. 7 (AP)—The golfing Semple family of Pittsburgh continued their triumphant advance today in quarter-final match play of the Homestead's 41st Annual Invitational Golf tournament.

R. H. Semple Jr. downed Stanley McGovern of Toledo, 5 and 4. His brother, H. S. Semple, won his match from Fred Todd of Youngstown, Ohio, 4 and 3.

There will be one fewer Semple in the running after tomorrow's round, however, for the brothers meet each other in the semi-finals then over the difficult par 71 Cascades course.

Today's closest quarter-finals match saw John Rice of Roanoke nip Beverly Shriver of Pittsburgh, 1 up on the 19th hole. Rice, one down at the end of the first nine, went down two holes on the 11th.

Spangler Outstanding

Al Spangler, Duke's outstanding center fielder during the past baseball season, led the team in hitting with a .384 mark. He also led in runs, hits, home runs and stolen bases.

54th Year of Century Club Opens with Luncheon and Reciprocity Day

MRS. GEORGE M. Miller Jr., (standing), president of the Montgomery County Federation of Women's clubs, brings greetings from her association to members and guests at the Century club luncheon.

Flanking Mrs. Miller are Mrs. Carson C. Potter, (extreme left), president of the Past Presidents club of Montgomery county and county chairman of conservation, and Mrs. Joseph Bacher, corresponding secretary of the county federation.

Seated next to the speaker is Mrs. John A. Barlow, president of the Century club. Mrs. Harvey Miller, second vice president of the Montgomery County federation, is to the extreme right.

Brilliant arrangement of chrysanthemums, marigolds and zinnias formed a colorful background for the Century Club's opening luncheon and reciprocity day yesterday at the Brookside Country club.

Mrs. John A. Barlow, organization president, and past presidents of the club welcomed the 152 members and guests who attended the affair.

Past president serving on the reciprocity committee were: Mrs. Francis L. Lavertu, Mrs. David Todd Jones, Mrs. John B. Evans, Mrs. Frank S. Anderson, Mrs. Charles A. Baylor, Mrs. Russell Shelly, Mrs. Harry L. Christman, Mrs. Carson G. Potter and Mrs. Leon W. Swavely.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Barlow presented the guests, officers of clubs, from Berks, Chester and Montgomery counties, and also told the group that this luncheon marked the beginning of the 54th year of the organization.

The guest list included: Mrs. G. Leslie Timme, Mrs. H. Chester Radcliffe, Mrs. Richard Kline, Mrs. David B. Jeremiah, Mrs. George T. Cohee, Mrs. Alan Lake Rice.

Mrs. Clem Seay, Mrs. Charles W. Smith, Mrs. A. H. Blanc, Mrs. Harvey Rosenberger, Mrs. Fred M. Isenberg, Mrs. Harvey Frank, Mrs. J. Henry Bailey, Mrs. Edwin C. Clinefelter, Mrs. Devine, Mrs. R. Harland Horton.

Mrs. Kenneth S. Fillman, Mrs. William A. Harbison, Mrs. George Hoffman, Mrs. Alton Goud, Mrs. Charles Paist 3d, Mrs. Daniel Richards, Mrs. Charles R. Ludwick, Mrs. Alfred H. Chambers, Mrs. Calvin Yoh, Mrs. A. Erwin Colver, Mrs. Harry Garrett.

Mrs. John E. Wiley, Mrs. Carson C. Potter, Mrs. Edwin D. Montrose, Mrs. Joseph J. Bacher, Mrs. Harvey L. Miller and Mrs. George M. Miller Jr.

Greetings from the County Federation were brought by Mrs. George M. Miller Jr., who invited the Century Club to have a large representation at the county meeting, Oct. 29, Lansdale. Theme of the gathering will be "Americanism."

An unusual feature of the meeting was the reading of Century club minutes by Mrs. David Todd Jones, from a reciprocity meeting 50 years ago.

The notes were taken at a luncheon meeting prepared and served by the club members. At that time organization programs were usually in the form of papers, written and discussed by the members, on current topics of the day.

The project of the General Federation of Women's clubs, restoration of the first floor of Independence Hall, was presented by Mrs. Paul L. Diefenderfer, second vice president of the Century club. It is estimated that the work will cost approximately $250,000.

Following the answering of questions on this topic by Mrs. John E. Wiley, chairman of Americanism, club members unanimously adopted two resolutions.

They were: that the club contribute $100 to this project, and that organization members united with all civic, educational, religious and patriotic groups to co-operate in the raising of funds for the work.

Mrs. Kenneth Fillman, Pottstown Woman's club president, announced that her organization planned to follow similar resolutions.

Entertainment for the afternoon included several numbers by Barbara Grovak, Gerganne Jacobs and Anne Gregory, a vocal trio from the local high school, and a program entitled "Tales from the Celtic Renaissance" by Mrs. Rosalba Joy.

Introduced by Mrs. Richard Leh, program chairman, Mrs. Joy explained that her material was taken from the plays, poems and folk stories of William Butler Yeats, Fiona Macleod, Douglas Hyde and others who worked for a better understanding of the Irish people.

She and her late husband, Maurice Joy, were associated with the Celtic literary movement in Ireland for many years.

Included in her numbers was a reading from a play by William Butler Yeats and the "Legend of Deirdre," handed down orally from the 12th or 13th century. Mrs. Joy was accompanied by recorded authentic Celtic chants.

During the meeting reports were made by various club members. Mrs. Ralph H. Spare, chairman of the welfare committee, announced that the next meeting of the club would be a panel discussion on the United Fund, Oct. 21, at 2:15 in the library club room.

It was also reported by the president, that Mrs. Luther A. Krouse and Mrs. Hugh McDevitt would represent the Century Club at the Montgomery county workshop beginning Oct. 20 in Philadelphia.

At the conclusion of the activities Mrs. Barlow expressed her appreciation and thanks for the splendid work of the hospitality and decorating committees, and to Mrs. Leh and her program committee for their contributions in making the day such a success.

Chairman of the hospitality committee is Mrs. C. Raymond Eppheimer, who is assisted by co-chairmen Mrs. Arthur Kepner and Mrs. Walter Neiman.

Committee members are Mrs. Henry Ancona, Mrs. Charles Bentz, Mrs. S. Richard Brown, Mrs. Samuel Brown, Mrs. Herbert S. Eades, Mrs. William Fisher, Mrs. Edward Gruber, Mrs. Samuel Harner, Mrs. Leon Huber.

Mrs. Allen Irey, Mrs. S. Ernest Kulp, Mrs. Daniel Leidy, Mrs. Earl Levgood, Mrs. Ethel Moore, Mrs. J. Russel Reifsnider, Mrs. Edward Storb, Mrs. Thomas Storm, Mrs. A. K. Switzer, Mrs. S. Edwin Trout and Mrs. James I. Wendell.

Decorations are directed by co-chairmen, Mrs. Maurice Mosheim and Mrs. Howard Bartholomew. They are assisted by Mrs. Joseph Bacchi, Mrs. Roy Binder, Mrs. George Bullard, Mrs. C. C. Burdan, Mrs. Harry Gingrich, Mrs. Frank Hutt Sr., Mrs. A. LeRoy Krause, Mrs. Russell Tyson.

Mrs. Charles Lepper, Mrs. Walter Lord, Mrs. John Ludwick, Mrs. Carson C. Potter, Mrs. William Scherfel Sr., Mrs. Raymond Schumacher and Mrs. Carl Troutman.

Polish Follows Soapsuds In Re-finishing Job

Who-dunnit fans would never leave finger prints behind! But little sticky fingers would—especially on your good dining room table.

A quick light job with a sudsy cloth will take these marks off. Then wipe with a clean cloth wrung out in clear water. Dry well and apply a fresh new coat of furniture polish. You'll be pleased with the results.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

OSCAR LEVANT, who has made much out of being a surly bird, admits he's a controversial figure, explaining, "people either dislike me or hate my guts." Before he discovered there was gold in being repulsive, he made an indifferent living out of playing the piano (which he does superlatively well) and dashing off an occasional "pop" tune ("Lady, Play Your Mandolin" was the most popular). He liked to visit well-heeled friends, and stayed on and on... After a month at the home of Playwright George Kaufman, Mrs. K. told him, "I thought the servants were beginning to look at you peculiarly, so I gave them each five dollars and said it was from you." "Five dollars!" snarled Levant. "You should have given each of them at least ten. Do you think I want them to go around saying I'm stingy?"

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
 ANYDLBAAX
 is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Presbyterian Circles Meet at Various Homes; Association Officers to Be Elected Oct. 15

Three circle groups of the Women's association First Presbyterian church met on Monday.

Circle 1 assembled at the home of Mrs. William Ebert, Pottstown RD 4. Mrs. Robert Harleston was the hostess and Mrs. Russell Croasdale, circle leader, presided at the business session.

Deviations were in charge of Mrs. Mary Bozman. Linda Ebert entertained the group with piano solos.

The next meeting of the circle is scheduled for Nov. 3 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Simpson, Park court.

Those attending were: Mrs. Robert Harleston, Mrs. Russell Croasdale, Mrs. George Sayre, Mrs. Mary Bozman, Mrs. Horace Ludwig and Mrs. Jacob Gable.

Mrs. Wilber Patriquin, Mrs. Edwin Kurtz, Mrs. Thomas McCaslin Sr., Mrs. Arthur Simpson, Mrs. Walter Krause and Mrs. William Barr.

Mrs. John Lacey, Sanatoga, hosted a meeting of Circle 2. Mrs. William S. Diener, circle leader, presided over the business session while Mrs. Lacey had charge of the devotions.

Mrs. George Bullard was named chairman of the coffee hour for next Sunday morning. While the members worked on missionary sewing, Grace McGaughey reviewed "The Robe" by Lloyd Douglas.

Mrs. C. F. Stouffer, president

of the association, was the guest of Circle 2.

Those present were: Mrs. William S. Diener, Mrs. John Fraser, Mrs. Fred Kelley, Mrs. Lacey, Mrs. George Bullard, Mrs. LeRoy DePreston, Mrs. George Baer, Mrs. C. S. Buehler, Mrs. Edwin Kammerzell and Grace McGaughey.

Members of Circle 3 gathered at the home of Mrs. William Starrett, 218 West Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown. Mrs. Calvin Yoh, daughter of Mrs. Starrett, assisted as co-hostess.

Mrs. Carson Potter, circle leader, opened the meeting with a prayer. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Russell Adams.

Mrs. George McCormick read four chapters of "Miracle in the Hills" by Legette Blythe.

Those present included: Mrs. Carson Potter, Mrs. George Cocke, Mrs. Charles Leppard, Mrs. Russell Adams, Mrs. George Gray and Mrs. Samuel Horst.

Mrs. George McCormick, Mrs. Allen Moore, Mrs. Paul Nunnemaker, Mrs. Irvin Swede, Mrs. Russell Wells, Mrs. William Starrett, Mrs. Calvin Yoh and a guest, Mrs. Harold Bruck.

The next meeting of the circle will be held at the home of Mrs. George Cocke, 330 Grandview road. Mrs. Paul Nunnemaker will serve as co-hostess.

Announcements which pertain to the entire association are as follows: a district meeting is scheduled for Oct. 28 at 10:30 p. m. in Christ West Hope church, Philadelphia. Speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Samuel Moffet, Korea.

The association will meet on Oct. 15 at 1:45 p. m. in the church house for election of officers.

A "family night" is planned for Oct. 22 at 8 p. m. in the assembly room. A pageant under the direction of the social, education and action committees will be presented.

Pins Given Four Scouts for Passage of Senior Requirements; Eleanor Land Will Direct Troop 26 Members in Leather Work

At a special ceremony Tuesday night, four members of the Senior Girl Scout Troop 26 were presented with scout pins for having passed their Senior Requirements.

Receiving the award were:

Patricia Gerhart, Priscilla Heisler, Darlene Schutz and Eleanor Saraceni.

Shirley Kulp was made an honorary member of the troop. Margaret Neiman was graduated from Senior Scouts into Leadership, and Mrs. Samuel Hanna was welcomed as a co-leader.

Eleanor Land, leader of the Stowe Girl Scout troop, was present to talk to the girls about leathercraft. She showed them various samples of the work they could do. In the near future they will begin the construction of manicure cases, wallets and moccasins, under Miss Land's guidance.

The meeting closed with a Friendship Circle, after which the girls adjourned to the church kitchen for refreshments.

Scouts present were: Esther Cook, Barbara Galloway, Patricia Gerhart, Priscilla Heisler, Vera Mentzer, Darlene Schutz, Eleanor Saraceni, Jo Ann Smith and Joan Weiser.

Marie Langston was present as a guest.

Alberta Waddell is leader of the group. Co-leaders are Margaret Neiman, Mrs. Samuel Hanna and Shirley Kulp.

Chairmanship of the affair is divided among Teddy Govatos, Barbara Good and Eileen Yocom.

Working on refreshments are Diane Daylor, Edwina Hartenstine, Ruth Gaugler and Marie Erb.

Ticket committee members are Monica Katch and Mary Stranick.

Senior Auxiliary members, Mrs. Albert Pollick, Mrs. Edward Good and Mrs. George Govatos will be chaperones.

Authority Suggests Games as Aid To Child's Learning

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
(Associated Press Writer)

If your Johnny has little interest in reading or spelling, turn reading into a game.

This is the advice offered by Mrs. Elizabeth Antes, reading counselor at National College of Education in Evanston, Ill. Says she:

"Force is not a positive motivation for learning. It just creates a strained and emotional situation, and as a result, the child may set up a block that will keep him from remembering the words he already knows or from learning any new ones."

According to Mrs. Antes, it takes a happy and relaxed situation for learning to take place. She explains:

"Instead of sending him to his room to read 10 pages or practice 10 words, try 'hanging the butcher' or playing 'alphabet soup.' These are fun games that the whole family can enjoy and at the same time help Johnny with his reading or spelling. Many children have cheerfully played them without realizing their educational value."

Such simple games as these have been found to be one effective way of stimulating interest in learning, she says. The child enters the game willingly, determined to have a good time and eager to learn the rules of the game. Such effort is healthful and educational. It takes concentration and alertness to play and even more skill to win. Furthermore, in addition to improving vocabulary and word recognition skill, these games also improve visual skills by increasing eye span and visual memory.

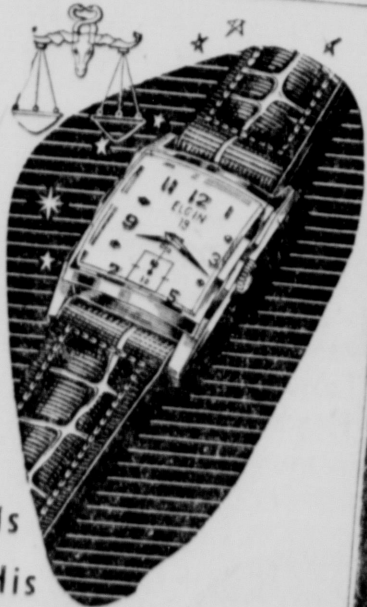

The success of creating such interest depends upon the manner in which the subject is presented to the child. Make the game sound fun and let the child know that you, too, are interested in playing. Don't treat it as a way to improve Johnny's reading. If you present a friendly feeling of competition, the child is likely to respond.

Here are several old, but good games to start with. Others are word bingo, vowel dominoes and fish, which can be purchased at most book stores.

Alphabet soup is perfect to play while the family is motoring through the countryside, she says. As he passes billboards suggest that he form the alphabet by finding the letters on the roadside signs. An advertisement on "boats" will give him the first two letters, A and B. C from the sign on Chicago will be next and so on down the line. This is fun to play and is an easy way to sharpen his recognition of letters, she says.

When he tires of this, advises Mrs. Antes, see if he can develop the alphabet by finding whole words starting with each letter—apple, bug, camp, Denver, eat, etc. This will help him develop eye span and quicken his recognition of words.

"Hang the Butcher" is fun for an older child to play to stimulate correct spelling. Two or more can play this game. It works like this: One person thinks of a word and marks down on paper a line for each letter in the word. If the player is thinking of the word "photography" he makes 11 short lines. This shows the length of the word to the other players. Each of the players then takes a turn asking if the word has an "r," "p," "m," "o" or any other letter in the alphabet.

Is His Birthday between SEPTEMBER 23 and OCTOBER 22?

His sign is Libra. He's loving, generous, appreciates the beautiful things of life. So you know he'd appreciate this handsome 19-jewel Elgin Amherst with the heart that never breaks—the guaranteed DuraPower Main Spring.

Board Will Pay Transportation Costs To Day School for Retarded Children

Spring City school board gave its co-operation last night to the Chester county school for retarded children by approving unanimously a motion to pay transportation charges for Spring City children attending the Phoenixville Day Care unit, one of three in the county.

The action was taken after reading a communication from Mrs. Grace R. Reed, chairman of Phoenixville unit, and hearing a request by Caesar Coropolese, Spring City, chairman of the group.

It was pointed out the three county units are located in West Chester, Coatesville and Phoenixville, the latter now having 16 pupils. Some 150,000 retarded children are being given instruction in the State.

Transportation charges to the local district, as quoted now, will be $4 a day for a five-day week, for taxi fare.

It was explained that Spring City

DEATHS — FUNERALS

JOHN A. CUMMINGS, 72, BERWYN, formerly of Royersford, where he was employed at the Acme market, died yesterday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in Sowell Nursing home, Malvern. He had been ill several weeks.

Mr. Cummings lived in Royersford six years before he moved to Berwyn about four years ago.

board is not liable for tuition charges in this northern Chester county group. Should the school in Phoenixville be operated by Phoenixville (not the county), Spring City would not be obligated to pay the transportation charges.

The school district's solicitor, Claude B. Wagoner, who attended the meeting, joined in the belief the local school district is liable for the transportation charges, as the children, of school age, are regarded sufficiently they cannot attend public school classes.

IN ANOTHER action, the board referred to a committee for study of a plan submitted by Leon Huzard, representative of Paul Mowrey, incorporated, wholesale merchandiser, who had asked the board's approval for him to ask High school classes to sell merchandise to earn a profit for the classes which might want to share in a merchandise club plan.

Director Carl Shoneman, Supervising Principal Charles Wise and the board solicitor, Claude B. Wagoner, were asked to consider the matter and report at the next meeting.

A. J. Balch, board secretary, was named to represent the board on a steering committee named at a recent meeting when a temporary organization was formed of ten Chester county school districts, to discuss proposed jointure. Balch was named after reading a While here, he was employed as a meat cutter at the local chain store. His wife, Martha E. Cummings, died here in 1943.

Surviving are three daughters, Dorothy, wife of Charles Hamilton, Berwyn; Eleanor, wife of Lewis Krewson, Chester, and Martha, wife of Russell Innes, Paoli; also seven grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, a brother, William, Kings Manor, Bridgeport, and two sisters, Mrs. Raymond Murray, Kings Manor, Bridgeport, and Mrs. Norman Wallace, Houston, Tex.

Services will be conducted in the Nelson funeral home, 331 New Street, Spring City, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Fernwood cemetery, Royersford.

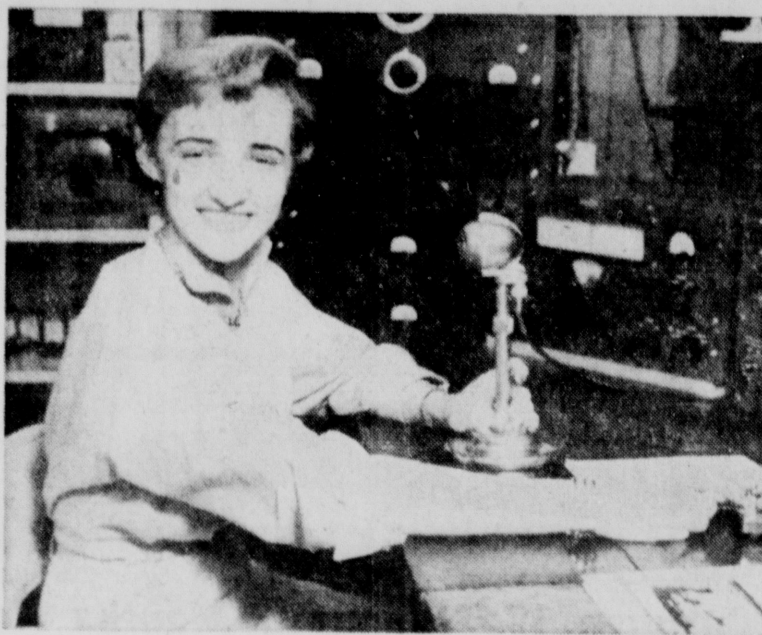

communication from E. Gilbert Stauffer, chairman of the proposed jointure area.

ON RECOMMENDATION of E. C. Willever, chairman of the teachers committee, the board elected two teachers, to complete the faculty. They were:

Dolores Hyden, Phoenixville RD 1, for the Fourth-Fifth grade. A graduate of Spring City High school and Pennsylvania State college.

Richard Brady, Johnsonburg, for Senior High school mathematics. Brady is a graduate of Johnsonburg High school and State college. He taught at St. Mary's.

Report of the treasurer listed a balance of $52,331.98. Tax Collector's report of Norman Mowrey showed credits of $13,950.45 against a previous outstanding balance of $25,797.23, leaving $11,846.78 unpaid, of which $6421.26 is property tax, and $5425.52, per capita tax.

PET HOBBY of Connie Hyden, Spring City High school Sophomore, is operating an amateur radio sending station.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hyden, 413 Washington street, Spring City, Miss Hyden recently became the first young woman amateur radio operator in Spring City.

She received her license from the Federal Communications commission the past Sept. 12, and is operator of Amateur Radio Station W3WUH, located in her home.

Connie operates both 'phone and CW (International Morse code). Her first contact within an hour after receiving her license, was with her sister, Janet, wife of Lt. Robert Miller, with the US Army in Germany. In the short time she has been on the air, she has talked to 30 different countries on five continents.

Her father's call is W3IMV.

53 Busy Bee Classmates Dine at Collegeville Legion Home

Busy Bee Sunday school class of Royersford First Evangelical and Reformed church held its annual banquet Tuesday night at a place kept secret until the group arrived at the American Legion home, Collegeville. Fifty-three class members attended.

Mrs. Nora Brunner, president, served as toastmistress and called upon Mrs. Franklin P. Watts to sing "The Lord's Prayer" as the blessing for the meal.

After the banquet the Rev. Watts, pastor, spoke briefly and Mrs. H. H. Hartman, class teacher, gave a reading. Group singing was followed by a skit, "Hanging Up the Wash," presented by Mrs. Brunner and Mrs. G. Kenneth Smith.

Mrs. H. Ober Hess, who spent some time the past Summer visiting Europe with her four daughters, showed color slides of her journey through England, Germany, Holland, Switzerland and her shipboard experiences.

The committee in charge was comprised of Mrs. Ida Bertz, chairman; Sara Moore, Jennie Foreman, Kathryn Bennett, Katherine Watts, Laura Francis, Ethel Hessler, Anna Smith, Ruth Walt, Mabel Krasley and Margery Hunsberger.

The October meeting of the class will be held Tuesday night at 7:45 o'clock in the social hall of the church. Committee in charge of refreshments includes Mrs. Walt, chairman; Mary Bender, Viola Machemer, Doris Rosenberger and Bessie Shade.

The first concrete pavement in the United States was laid in 1891 in Bellefontaine, O.

Fifth graders at St. Peter's parochial school show here how many different kinds of smiles can turn up in one picture. Take a look—you'll see shy smiles, ready smiles, slow smiles, calm smiles, and maybe even a few that take away the teardrops if it made you sad to have to get up this morning.

Pupils in first row are Joseph Tokarski, Richard Wisniewski, James Forciano, Maria Chomyn, Walter Lewicki and John Binczak.

Second row, Edward Adamski, George Ondik, David Heslin, Louise Frederick, Dolores Delaplaine and Edward Wozniak.

Third row, Larry Istenes, Cecilia Adamski, Jo Ann Karish and Sandra Woyton.

Fourth row, Sister M. Bertida (teacher), Teddy Pawlowski, John Tarczynski, John Mata and the Rev. John A. Naja (rector).

Area Man Appeals Driving Suspension; Admits Going 65 mph

A Douglassville man, caught speeding on Route 422, is appealing to Berks county court the State's 90-day suspension of his driving license.

Joseph. Sendeki claims that while the State has it in its discretion to suspend a license for speeding, his violation was not serious enough to justify a suspension.

He admits he was driving 65 miles an hour, but pointed out that it was on a dry, clear stretch of four-lane concrete highway, in the morning.

Sendeki is a truck driver but it was while in a pleasure car that he was arrested for speeding.

He paid the fine before Justice of the Peace Charles E. Templin, Douglass township (Berks county). His license was suspended after a hearing in Reading.

After receiving his appeal, Berks

county Judge Warren K. Hess set Nov. 20 for a court hearing. In the meantime, Sendeki's suspension will not be in effect.

Representing him is Goldstan and Goldstan, Reading law firm.

Meeting Slated Tonight By Slowe GOP Group

Lions Club Renders Iceboxes Harmless

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 7 (AP)—The Lions here today went hunting for death—death-dealing old iceboxes which in other parts of the continent have claimed 14 lives in recent months. By nightfall, 225 had been dealt harmless in one of the most successful civic drives ever staged in Huntington in a single day.

Sponsored by the Lions club, the effort was known as "Operation Icebox."

Club members and their wives got help from dozens of other people and had the co-operation of the city Fire and Police departments.

Chairman F. J. White said 75 old refrigerators and iceboxes—about half of each type—were hauled away and destroyed, 40 were stripped of doors or latches, or otherwise made harmless on the owners' premises by firemen and policemen, and 110 others were "given the works" by their owners.

North Carolina's 1953 lamb crop is estimated at 39,000 head, compared with 34,000 head in 1952.

ESTATE DISCLOSED

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Playwright Ferenc Molnar, who died in April, 1952, left a net estate of $110,687, estate tax appraisal figures disclosed today. Beneficiaries of the estate are his widow, of New York City, and a daughter who lives in Hungary.

World Series Split

Yankees, Dodgers Share Record Amount

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Each member of the New York Yankees who received a full World Series share will bank a record check for $8280.68, it was announced today by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick. Those voted full shares by the losing Brooklyn Dodgers will receive $6178.42.

The Yankee windfall, shared by 26 players, Manager Casey Stengel, the four coaches, the club trainer and road secretary, easily eclipses the previous record payoff of $6772.05 pocketed by the world champion Cleveland Indians of 1948. Second place money compares to the $4951.03 previous high received by the New York Giants two years ago.

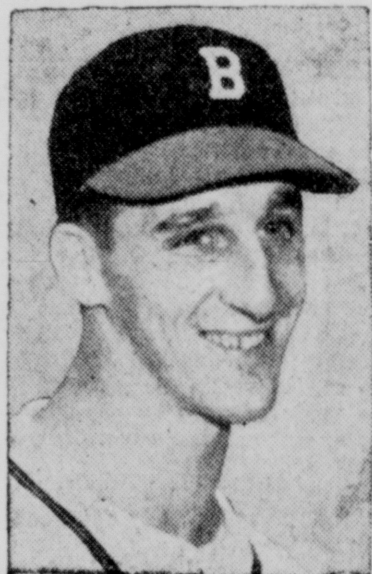

Each of the second place clubs in the American and Milwaukee in the National, will receive $51,850.62 in the two leagues, Cleveland in the National, will receive $51,850.62

Earned Run Leaders

Lopat and Spahn Post Low Marks

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Willoway Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves and stocky Ed Lopat of the New York Yankees, a pair of veteran left handers, topped the Major Leagues in earned run effectiveness for 1953.

Figures compiled by the Association of Professional Baseball Clubs.

WARREN SPAHN

Spahn, who also won the earned run title in 1947 with a 2.33 mark, posted the lowest ERA in the National League since 1946. That year Howie Pollet of the Cards owned an identical pace-setting 2.10 average.

The 31-year-old fastballer, in his eighth full season with the Braves, won 23 and lost seven for his best year in the majors. He hurled 25 complete games, five of them shutouts. It also marked the fifth time he has been a 20-game winner.

Lopat became the first American League pitcher to head the loop in both earned run average and won-loss percentage since the Yanks' Spud Chandler turned the trick in 1946.

ED LOPAT

a 2.75 average. Rookie Bob Buhl of the Braves finished third with 3.00, followed by Harvey Haddix of the Cards, 3.06, and Curt Simmons of the Phils, 3.23.

Billy Pierce of the White Sox placed second in the American league with a 2.72 ERA, having permitted 82 earned runs in 271 innings. Behind him were teammate Virgil Trucks, 2.93, and lost percentage since the Yanks' Spud Chandler turned the trick in 1946.

Eyes Crack at Title

Turner Takes Scortichini in Easy Win

DETROIT, Oct. 7 (AP)—Gil Turner, the Philadelphia buzz saw, elamated away almost at will tonight to score a unanimous 10 round decision over back pedaling Italo Scortichini of Italy before a small crowd of 3053 in Olympia stadium. Turner weighed 156, Scortichini 155½.

Slashing with lefts and rights, Turner was in complete command after the first two rounds. He raked his squat opponent with as many as 100 blows in one round.

An unofficial count showed the 22-year-old Turner, ranked second among the welters, fired 830 punches during the scrap. At times the one-sided bout resembled a track meet, with Turner chasing his 24-year-old opponent from one side of the ring to another.

NEITHER FIGHTER had ever been knocked down and Turner, punching like a demon, tried desperately to end Scortichini's streak in the 10th round. He flailed away and tried to smash Scortichini through the ropes. Gil even fired a few bolos and did a rumba dance a la Kid Gavilan.

The officials were convinced. Referee Johnnie Weber and judge Joe Greenberg gave it to Turner, 57 points to 43. Judge Malcolm House had the young Philadelphian ahead, 56-44.

Scortichini moved backwards for most of the fight but on a few occasions he stopped and flurried with Turner. But his blows hardly made Gil blink.

It was Turner's 42nd pro victory against three setbacks and he hopes it was a warmup for another crack at the welterweight championship. He would like to meet the winner of next month's title bout between Gavilan and Chicago's Johnny Bratton, the No. 1 welterweight contender.

Scortichini, a virtual unknown in this country, dropped his seventh from the whopping World Series receipts to divide among its players.

The Chicago White Sox, third in the American League, receive $34,567.08 for player distribution, the Boston Red Sox, fourth in the American, $17,283.54. As the Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Cardinals tied for third place in the National League, they will split third and fourth place money.

The player pool from the first four games totalled $608,341.61. Television and radio rights for the games, almost 1½ million dollars, do not figure in the player pool. They are added to the player pension fund.

In announcing the series cuts, the commissioner only gave the names of individuals sharing in the Yankee and Dodger melon. The individual listings for the other first division clubs were not released.

In addition to awarding 29 full shares, the Yankees cut in 16 others for various sums.

The Dodgers whacked up their melon into 29 full shares and six part shares.

Infielder Gerry Coleman, who joined the Yankees on Aug. 28 after leaving Korea and the Marines, was awarded a one-third share of $2760.21.

Catcher Ralph Houk, who was dropped from the players' roster in July to become a bull pen catcher and coach, received a full share. Rookies Steve Kraly and Gus Triandos, who came up on July 31, each collected half shares of $4140.34 along with Ewell Blackwell, who left the club in July because of a sore shoulder.

The Dodgers gave Ralph Branca who was traded to Detroit, $1,544.61, a fourth share. The same went to Erv Palica, who didn't get out of the Army until late September.

Don Newcombe, the big Dodger hurler who spent the entire season in the Army, was remembered with $500.

HERE'S HOW the players divided their shares:

Yankees:
Full shares of $8280.68 — Hank Bauer, Yogi Berra, Don Bollweg, Andy Carey, Joe Collins, Whitey Ford, Tommy Gorman, Bob Kuzava, Ed Lopat, Mickey Mantle, Billy Martin, Jim McDonald, Gil McDougald, Johnny Mize, Irv Noren, Vic Raschi, Bill Renner, Allie Reynolds, Phil Rizzuto, Johnny Sain, Charley Silvera, Gene Woodling, Manager Casey Stengel, Coach Frank Crosetti, Coach Bill Dickey, Coach-bulpen catcher Ralph Houk, Coach Jim Turner, Trainer Gus Mauch, and Road Secretary Bill McCorry.
$5520.44—Art Schallack.
$4140.34—Ewell Blackwell, Steve Kraly, and Gus Triandos.
$2070.21—Pete Previte, assistant clubhouse attendant.
Dodgers:
$6178.42 each—Bill Antonello, Wayne Belardi, Joe Black, Roy Campanella, Bill Cox, Carl Erskine, Carl Furillo, Junior Gilliam, Gil Hodges, Jim Hughes, Clem Labine, Billy Loes, Russ Meyer, Bob Miller, Bob Morgan, Johnny Podres, Pee Wee Reese, Jackie Robinson, Preacher Roe, George Shuba, Duke Snider, Don Thompson, Ben Wade, Rube Walker, Manager Charley Dressen, Coach Billy Herman, Coach Cookie Lavagetto, Coach Jake Pittler, and Trainer Harold Wendler.
$4663.81—Dick Williams.
$3089.22—Charles Di Giovanna, batboy and assistant clubhouse attendant; John Griffin, clubhouse attendant.
$1544.61—Erv Palica, Ralph Branca.

Fricks Fines Dressen, Noren

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick fined Manager Chuck Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Outfielder Irv Noren of the New York Yankees each $100 today for their part in incidents which occurred during the recent World Series.

Dressen was fined for arguing with plate umpire Art Gore in the fourth game at Ebbets Field when the umpire ruled that Phil Rizzuto, Yank shortstop, had tipped a third strike and not fanned, as the Dodgers contended.

The Dodger pilot engaged in a great jawing match with Gore, claiming that the man in blue had not said anything about the ball having been fouled off until Rizzuto turned to him and said "I fouled it." The debate raged half-way back to the Brooklyn dugout.

Noren will find his series check 100 units lighter because, Frick said, he stood outside the Yankee dugout in the final game and waved a towel derisively at the official scorers after they had given the error sign on a ball that Billy Martin hit down to Junior Gilliam, Brooklyn second baseman, in the second inning.

If they had ruled it a hit instead of an error, Martin would have tied the World Series record of 12 safeties at that point and his winning single in the last of the ninth would have set a new standard.

Frick denied a report that he had given orders before the Series that the umpires should not be criticized by players and managers. He said he had ordered only that a limited number of individuals from a club could join in field debates.

Pittsburgh Purchases Two Farm Pitchers

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates purchased two righthanded pitchers conditionally today from their New Orleans club in the Southern association.

They are Vernon Thies, 25, of Berkley, Mo., and Clarence Churn, 23, of Machipange, Va. Thies won 16 and lost six with Denver of the Western league and Churn, a returning serviceman, won five and lost five with Charleston in the Sally league.

Cavarretta Signs To Manage Cubs For Third Year

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—Phil Cavarretta, who took over as a stop-gap pilot two years ago, today was handed his third one-year managerial contract by the seventh-place Chicago Cubs.

The 1954 season, however, will find Cavarretta, a hard-hitting Cub first baseman for 19 years, strictly a bench manager.

Since he was named manager to succeed the fired Frankie Frisch July 21, 1951, Cavarretta had remained on the active player list.

However, Cavarretta, 37, appeared only as a pinch-hitter this year, belting six hits in 21 trips for .286, compared with his lifetime average of .292 for 1953 games.

Cavarretta's rehiring was announced by Wid Matthews, director of Cub player personnel. Ever since the Cubs finished with a 65-89 record, 40 games behind champion Brooklyn, rumors flew that Cavarretta, or Matthews, or both, might not return for 1954.

Today's development was taken as a vote of confidence in both men by owner P. K. Wrigley. Cavarretta's 1954 salary was not disclosed, but Matthews said it was "satisfactory to all concerned."

"Phil did a good job with a team that was hobbled by injuries all season," said Matthews. "He rated a new contract."

The Cubs' drop from a surprising fifth-place finish in 1952 to seventh this year was attributed by Matthews to the fact that "all the breaks went against Phil. He had to play men who weren't in shape to play because of injuries."

Significantly, Matthews made no mention of the four coaches who aided Cavarretta this year, Ray Blades, Charley Root, Spud Davis and Roy Johnson.

It was reported authoritatively that only Blades will be retained for 1954.

KC Tops Montreal

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7 (AP)—Bob Ferris and Mel Wright combined their pitching talents to allow Montreal only two hits tonight as Kansas City won the fourth game of the Little World Series, 4-3. Montreal now holds a 3-1 lead in the series.

Robinson, All-Stars Ready to Go on Tour

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Jackie Robinson and his All-Stars will open a 30-day barnstorming tour of the South in Baltimore Friday night.

The star Brooklyn infielder-outfielder usually has toured with an All-Negro team but this time he has signed up several leading white players, including Cleveland's Al Rosen, Brooklyn's Gil Hodges and Detroit's Ralph Branca.

Also on his squad are Cleveland's Luke Easter and Bob Trice, Philadelphia A's rookie pitcher. The position is a team made up of Negro league All-Stars, including most of the Indianapolis Clowns.

Not the Public, But Officials

RICHARD E. Lindauer, chief of the Pottstown fire department, is worried about the public's apathy toward fire prevention week. Said Chief Lindauer:

"The public is not taking it seriously. Probably we'll have to prosecute some persons for violation before they will awake to the danger."

Chief Lindauer is one of Pottstown's most conscientious public officials. He is sincere, hard-working, so earnest in prosecution of his duty that he'll knock himself out to do it. He has disregarded his own safety many times, has injured himself seriously going to fires and at fires.

If Pottstown had more public officials of the Lindauer ilk, Pottstown would be a better, safer, cleaner place in which to live.

We have no criticism of Chief Lindauer's sincerity. But we feel the apathy does not lie with the public entirely. It is Pottstown's lack of law enforcement that causes public laxity.

Chief Lindauer indicates this himself in his statement when he declares: "We'll have to prosecute some persons before they awake to the danger."

Go ahead and prosecute them! That's the only way to obtain respect for the law.

Pottstown has one of the finest fire ordinances in the State. It is well written, has plenty of sharp teeth in it.

The Mercury is proud of this ordinance, because The Mercury campaigned hard for its passage. The fact is, The Mercury's fire prevention campaign, culminated by the writing and passage of the ordinance, won this newspaper a national fire prevention gold medal award in competition with much larger metropolitan newspapers.

All this ordinance needs is enforcement. Chief Lindauer is the man who can enforce it!

Pottstown officialdom, and this includes police and firemen, know there are too many fire law violations here. They know where they exist.

They know where junk and refuse is piled in store cellars.

They know where lives are endangered in garages, where gasoline and other inflammables are not guarded safely.

They know where lives are endangered in rickety "apartments" over garages and stables and shanties.

THEN WHY DON'T THEY CRACK DOWN ON THEM?

Because there's a sad disregard to sworn duty from the burgess right down through the building inspector's office, through the health officer's office and into the police department.

Pottstown has been treated to a most ridiculous, yet laughable attempt by the borough to clean up an alleged junkyard in a residential district. Citizens complained fire-hazardous, rotting lumber was thrown willy nilly adjacent to costly and beautiful homes. They said rats, snakes and insects infested the lot. They asked borough authorities to have the lot cleaned.

Although the alleged violator was a close relation to the commander-in-chief of the police department, the burgess could not prevail upon the alleged violator to listen to reason. He ignored pleas to rid the lot of weeds, so the health bureau could get no action over a period of years! No other borough enforcement agency got anywhere, if it tried, to gain cooperation.

So it is with other violations. Who's job to crack down? Call the police about them and you're likely to get a surly retort like: "Swear out a warrant yourself. We got nothin' to do with it!"

It is an open secret that the approach to fire ordinance compliance in the past was to frighten violators into obedience. That was done by having a policeman accompany Chief Lindauer on his tours. When Chief Lindauer pointed out violations, the cop would back him up with "Yes, you gotta do that to comply with the law."

Whereupon, all was forgotten usually by the lawbreaker and by the police. Nobody but Chief Lindauer worried about the fire hazards. He'd most likely go back in succeeding years to find the same hazardous conditions existing.

Why, Chief Lindauer, don't you crack down? You have the authority, and Pottstown knows you have the spirit and the courage. Surely, you'll tread on some toes, but what's a little illwill compared to saving some lives, much property.

Pottstown would give you its blessing and would praise you as a conscientious public official if you'd do this.

Grampaw Oakley

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by The Mercury where long distance telephone calls are going up in price. The thirty no doubt will prefer "Hi" to "hello" as a greeting. It's 50 percent cheaper.

A Pottstown High school teacher says debating is a lost art. The prof, apparently, never has seen two football players trying to figure football pool selections!

And say: The pessimist is the guy who sees only the frost on the pumpkin. The optimist visualizes the pie crust under it. Hopin' you air the same.

Jointure Study by Stowe Board Urged

Put Away Fears

To the Editor: I wonder when West Pottsgrove township school board is going to name a committee to study jointure with the Pottstown and Lower and Upper Pottsgrove boards.

I hope board members put aside their personal fears in handling this delicate problem.

It is, I believe, their duty to look far in the future and do what they consider wisest for the district, even though this may result in a decision unpopular to many voters.

It will take courage for the board to come to the proper decision and indeed it will take courage for all board members in the three districts to stick to the job and come out with the proper decision.

It may very well be that the solution will be different than any previously suggested or discussed.

But I believe it is the obligation of every director in each of the four districts to carefully consider all aspects of jointure and merger.

I think directors should cast aside traditional feelings. Basking in the sunshine and glory of the past will get them nowhere. They must think of the future and especially of the children, whose education and well being are at stake.

A NEW RESIDENT

Book on Burgess

To the Editor: "What Makes Billy Run?" This would be an excellent title to a book on our borough chief executive.

I mean by that why is he running for re-election? Especially when he knows he's going to get rolled up at the polls, when he knows in his heart he's done nothing but delay and straddle in his two terms in office.

I wonder who he's trying to spite. Is it that he's trying to shove the rotten schedule down the throats of police for another four years?

Does he think the people are unaware of the ill feeling on our force created by his inept administration?

I saw in the paper he admitted he's in charge of only the police department.

Well, why doesn't he do something about the inequalities of the force? You know why. He's so deeply indebted to certain guys he can't move.

Pottstown FORMER FOLLOWER

Happy Over Accord

To the Editor: I want to congratulate both sides at Spicer's for settling their differences without a strike.

I hope the employment picture there will gradually improve.

I hope that now the union and firm will run along on the same track toward better labor relations, higher production and a long-range operation in the borough.

Throughout the years Spicer's has meant a lot to Pottstown. When the Dana corporation announced it was leaving the borough more than a year ago, it was a bitter blow.

Then when the union and firm came to terms this past October there was general rejoicing in both camps.

This past Summer the clouds of dis-sentiment darkened the picture again, but this past week the union came up with a strong "no-strike" vote and it looks like both sides are now willing to sacrifice for the survival and indeed the revitalizing of this strong industry.

Poor Patching

To the Editor: I'd like to know just what good came of sloshing a lot of tar and stones around on Route 100 a few miles north of town.

I have enough of the tar on my car to pave my driveway at home, and enough stones stuck to the undercarriage to fill somebody's swimming pool, if somebody should want to fill his swimming pool with stones.

Route 100 is now quite smooth—in between the chuck holes, that is. And just wait 'till the next time it rains. There are some patches, especially on curves, where the tar is so smooth a car can't get traction.

And what about the sharp dips and rolls in the road? Tossing stones and a messy adhesive didn't help that, situation one bit.

Then they have the audacity to post 50-mile speed limit signs. Ha!

Pottstown BEDEVILED DRIVER

Hornblowers—Bah!

To the Editor: To me the hornblower is the most inconsiderate and uncultured form of animal on this earth.

When a motorist climbs on my gas tank and blasts away like a child with a new Christmas bugle, I could scream and pull out my fingernails with my false teeth.

Pottstown is filled with this unman-nerly breed.

Someday I'm going to trip up the upholstery and chew on the gear shift handle when a hornblower blasts in back of me.

Honestly, they drive me crazy.

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7—Fantastic, slightly ridic, but true:—That more than nine-tenths of Hollywood's top productions for this year, have opened within the past two weeks or are still playing in local theaters! Why studios see fit to present one whopper on the heels of another, and even to open them simultaneously instead of spreading out "the cream of the crop," we dunno. Before this week is over, film-towners have the choice of "From Here to Eternity," "The Robe," "Little Boy Lost," "Roman Holiday," "S h a n e," "Bandwagon," "Mogambo," the off-beat "Five Thousand Fingers of Dr. T," If these eight don't represent as great an entertainment list as any combined talents could hope for any year anywhere — we'll eat fried celluloid for supper!

RITA GAM is the gal wanted for the lead with Martin and Lewis in "Living It Up," formerly "Hazel Flagg," formerly "Nothing Sacred," Fred Clark, Sherree North (the B'way dancer) and "Morgan," the sad-faced TV pooch are already signed up. Picture starts next week, with Carole Lombard's, old role re-written for Jer' Lewis! . . . Global Gab: Deborah Kerr, with a B'way stage smash in her lovely hands, and spouse Tony Bartley have rented a house in Westchester, N. Y.—but still retain their Beverly Hills manse. Bartley leaves soon for Africa to produce a new flicker . . . Elizabeth Taylor (well mended) and Mike Wilding have "done" Italy and Spain the past week . . . Roman censors are raising youknowwhat with "Streecar Named Desire."

JOANNE DRU flew out yesterday to join John Ireland, busy before British cameras . . . Joanne has paid up the $48,000 she owed Uncle Sam as half of Dick Haymes' taxes—from the days when they were filing a joint report! . . . Despite studio "plants" that the new Esther Williams—Ben Gage baby would be named Athena (after Esther's next picture), the girl-child will be tagged Susan . . . Van Johnson, a beat boy after doing six in a row, gets five days off before starting "Panther Squadron 8" Oct. 19. Walter Pidgeon, Dewey Martin, Keenan Wynn and Frank Lovejoy are in it too. . . . Personal Piffings:—Listened to a soap commercial by Joan Weldon and think she read those lines just like Lucella! . . . Born in San Antonio, Tex., March 23, 1908, she began her career under the name of Lucille Le Scur, dancing in a Chicago stage production. She received her education at Stevens college. Her first film was "Pretty Ladies," in 1925, and, in 1945, she won the Academy Award for her role in "Mildred Pierce." Now single, she once was married to Douglas Fairbanks Jr., and to Franchot Tone. Her most recent picture is "Sudden Fear."

2. A British author and playwright whose works have been popular in the United States, this man was born in Mostyn, North Wales, Nov. 26, 1905. He is a graduate of Christ Church college, Oxford university, and is married, with two children. He began his career as an actor in 1927, the same year writing his first play, "Full Moon." Among his works for the stage are "A Murder Has Been Arranged," "Vessels Departing," "Spring, 1600," "Night Must Fall," "He Was Born Gay," "The Corn Is Green," "The Light of Heart," "The Morning Star," "The Druid's Rest" and "The Wind of Heaven."

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

YESTERDAY I was explaining the technique by which young people can start conversations and win friends. You may recall that I had urged Sarah to smile first when her companion happened to meet her gaze.

Then, if he failed to break the ice and say anything, she could tactfully let a magazine slip off her lap upon the floor. If he is worth cultivating at all, he'll try to retrieve it.

With another smile, she should say, "Thank you. You are very gallant."

To which he'll probably grin and possibly add, "You're welcome."

But this still leaves Sarah with the job of getting the conversational machine into high gear.

To fade out with a question is a neat way to bring your companion back into the dialogue.

"It's a pleasure to meet such a considerate boy as you are," Sarah can say sincerely. Then, with a questioning inflection she can conclude:

"You must have a fine mother, to be so thoughtful?"

MANY PEOPLE unintentionally are verbal Silas Warners. They heard words instead of using them to produce friendships.

That's often due to timidity, plus lack of a surefire formula or technique.

So please remember that winning friends usually involves gay, effortless conversation.

MOREOVER, if an awkward pause intrudes later on and begins to make the machinery "drag" so that it threatens to stall the motor, then think of the magic word "H-E-L-P."

Each letter thereof stands for a broad field of conversation. For example, the "H" stands for "Hobbies." Deftly probe around till you find whether he is a baseball enthusiast or a hockey fan.

If this "H" category runs low, then you can shift to the "E," which indicates "Entertainment." This may range from movies to opera, the legitimate stage, or TV, radio, athletics, etc.

Then you can move onward to the "L" letter in your key word, which represents "Literature." This includes comic books and detective stories, as well as poetry, Shakespeare and the Bible.

As a last resort, you still have the "P" which covers "Politics" in the broad sense.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Allentown & Back in Day..

Famous Name Back . . .

★ TIME FLIES—The talk got around to automobiles, as if it wouldn't when Charley Nagle was the other half of the conversation. Nagle has been one of Pottstown's leading automobile magazines for 30 years, so he's well versed in that business. His first ride? He remembered the incident with clarity. "I'll never forget the day," he said, looking dreamily into the distance. "It was in 1913. That morning I'd gotten a postcard from a friend in Allentown. It pictured the Allentown public library. Being young and impressionable, I admired the beautiful picture of the imposing structure. I inspected the picture time after time. That afternoon I was invited to take my first trip in an automobile. My friend drove to Allentown, and one of the buildings we passed was the public library. I remember how awed I was. To think that I'd get a postcard in the morning and that same day I'd see the pictured edifice in a town 30 miles away! What a wonder!" What an age when distances were annihilated! . . .

NAGLE glowed over that reminiscence. Then he beamed over the wonders of his lifetime (he's 57). "HENRY FORD just observed his 50th anniversary of his famous automobile. In a little while we'll be celebrating the 50th anniversary of the airplane. Think of all that in the space of 50 years, not to mention radio, television and all our other blessings. We of this generation surely have been fortunate! A few years ago I was astonished by the airplane's speed when I made a two-hour flight. I thought the airplane couldn't be improved. This year I flew twice as far in the same amount of time. This is the age of wonders!"

★ OLD NAME BACK—Keck, a name famous in Pottstown political circles, is back in the ring. Oldtimers will recall the long length of service John and Wilmer Keck put in as Pottstown borough treasurers. They were stalwarts in the Democratic party that ruled Pottstown for many, many years. Then there was David J. Keck, who was Ninth Ward Democratic councilman for a long period when his brothers were treasurers. Now another Keck has his hat in the ring. He's not exactly a newcomer, for he has had a taste of politics. He's Elmer C. Keck, 19 West Third street, who's running for tax collector. Elmer Keck was a borough councilman in 1927 when he was named to finish the unexpired term of his father. He was elected to a full four-year term in 1928, re-elected in 1932. He wouldn't run in 1936, the year the Republicans swept into power after a long period of Democratic domination.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

OVER-EAGERNESS in self-treatment of skin conditions probably causes more headaches than the original disease ever could.

Too much treatment may further aggravate the disorder and make it even more difficult to clear up.

The different drugs used in treating skin diseases have probably caused more visits to skin specialists than any single skin disease by itself. Frequent culprits are substances which people apply to minor scratches, cuts or burns.

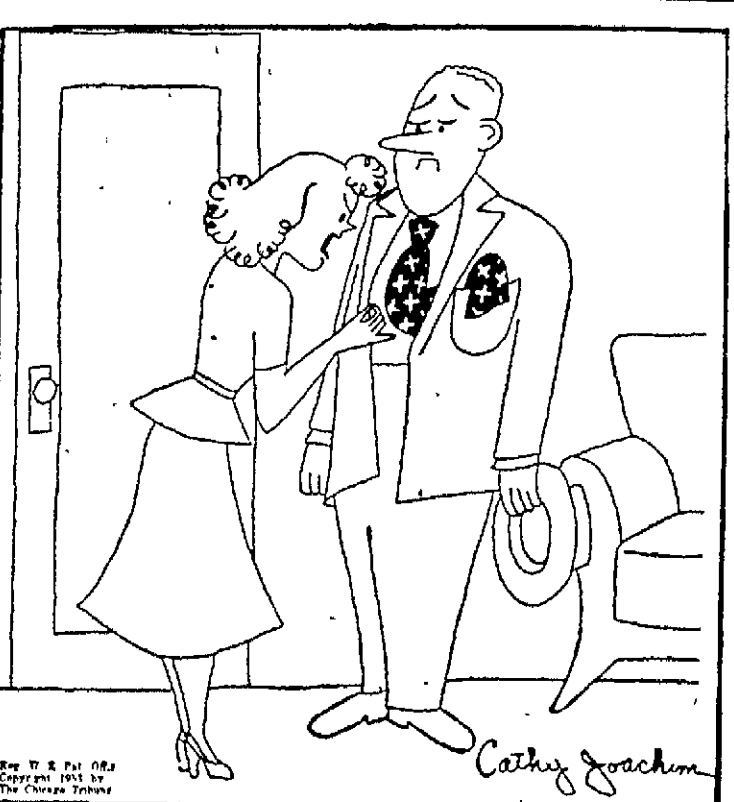

An even greater offender is athlete's foot. In fact, it has been said that the majority of all cases of athlete's foot are complicated by a skin inflammation due to irritation of the skin by the drugs people put on to cure the condition without medical advice.

Skin diseases of the hands resulting from over-treatment are now four times as frequent in occurrence as acne.

Drugs that usually do not hurt normal skin may have a disturbing effect on the abnormal skin. Thus, the ointments or drugs applied to skin that is cut, scratched, or diseased may have a further disastrous effect.

A major drug causing skin rashes is the sulfa drug. Others are local anesthetic agents such as penicillin, mercury, phenol and camphor.

Richest Horse Race Features Season at Garden State Park

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 7 (AP)—Garden State park opens a 25-day racing season Friday with these incentives: (1) Seating capacity in the grandstand has been increased 46 percent and (2) the world's richest horse race, "The Garden State," will gross a quarter of a million dollars and will earn about $150,000 for the winner.

The meeting runs through Nov. 11, with no racing on Mondays except for Oct. 12, Columbus Day. The new grandstand seating will permit the track, the oldest of New Jersey's three racing ovals, to accommodate crowds of 50,000.

"The Garden State," a mile and a sixteenth test restricted to two-year-olds, is set for Oct. 31, and a total of 236 horses from all parts of the United States and including the British champion, The Pie King, have been nominated. Track officials report that new entries are being received for this fabulous stake race, at $7500 an entry, and it is possible that the gross value might hit $270,000.

Besides "The Garden State," six other stakes features, worth $170,000 in added money, are on the track meeting program.

The richest of these is the $50,000-added Trenton Handicap set for Nov. 7. The closing day feature is the $40,000-added Vineland Handicap.

Friday's opening day feature is a six-furlong scamper for three-year-olds and upwards, known as the $10,000 Glassboro.

Spartans Drill For TCU Contest

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 6 (AP)—Michigan State football coaches are trying to guess what kind of a defense Texas Christian will use next Saturday.

Iowa, the Spartans' opening game opponent, used an eight-man line and Michigan State passed its way to victory. Minnesota, last Saturday used mostly six linemen up front and one linebacker so Leroy Bolden ran through the line for three touchdowns.

Freshman coach Danny Devine, who scouted Texas Christian's 13-6 defeat at the hands of Arkansas, said the Texans fumbled a lot to help account for the loss.

Third Victory in 15 Starts

La Corredora Wins Ladies Handicap by Five Lengths

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Marian W. O'Connor's La Corredora took the lead near the top of the stretch and pulled off to a five length victory today at Belmont Park in the $59,000 Ladies Handicap—oldest race in this country for fillies and mares.

Overlooked by many in the chilled crowd of 18,036, La Corredora paid a fat $23.80, $8.80 and $4.90 as she scored an easy victory over Isador Bieber's No Third Chance in a field of 11.

In third place, three fourths of a length behind No Third Chance was Herman B. Delman's How Who won this race last year and was the 5 to 2 favorite this time with Eddie Arcaro in the saddle.

La Corredora, a bay 4-year old daughter of Little Beans—Nellie Mowlee, was ridden by the veteran Ira Hanford, and picked up $40,900 for taking the 83rd running of this event first raced at Jerome Park in the Bronx in 1868.

Mrs. O'Connor is the wife of a Washington D. C. attorney and lives at Chevy Chase, Md.

THE TRACK was still wet from last night's rain but was called fast and La Corredora traveled the mile and one half in 2:30 2/5. The fastest Ladies Handicap was 2:29 2/5 by Next Move in 1950.

C. V. Whitney's Carry The News set the pace going into the first turn and held the lead all the way around until La Corredora took over about a quarter of a mile from the finish. La Corredora was content to stay back in fourth place and moved up easily when Hanford said "go."

This was the first stakes victory this year for La Corredora and only her third victory in 15 starts this season. Last year she won the Monmouth Oaks and the Gallorette Stakes. Her winnings today boosted her all time total to $134,895.

Fourth place went to Mrs. John W. Haynes' Devilkin, followed by Constance Morabito's My Celeste.

ALL-STAR MATCH

American Ryder Cup Team Defeats Collection of European Golf Aces

PARIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—The American Ryder Cup golf team had little trouble defeating a collection of European all-star professionals today despite a hole-in-one by Dutchman Gerard De Wit and some surprisingly good play by his teammates.

The Americans won the two day match, the first ever to pit the Ryder Cup team against non-British Europeans, by a 12-3 margin. Leading by a 4-1 score yesterday at the end of best ball play, the Americans picked up eight more points while yielding two in singles competition.

A crowd of some 2000 fans, including King Leopold of Belgium, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, and bearded, be-turbaned Indian Ambassador Sardar Malik, trooped around the beautiful 18-hole St. Cloud course under menacing skies to watch the play.

De Wit, who has won the Dutch professional tourney for the past four years, scored his ace on the 130-yard eighth hole, using a seven-iron. His opponent, Jim Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y., put his tee shot four feet from the pin and went down in two for a birdie.

Turnesa came from behind to beat De Wit, 3 and 1.

THE DAY'S best individual score was turned in by Ryder Cupper Fred Haas Jr., of New Orleans, who toured the par 70 course in 66, just two strokes over Britisher Jack Adams' course record. Haas beat the Belair Stud's Sabette, David Paper's Sunny Dale, Carry The News, Martin G. Doherty's Grandma Josie, James Cox Brady's Plummed and the King Ranch's Mac Bea.

La Corredora carried 118 pounds, the same as 3r How, while No Third Chance ridden by Conn McCreary, had 111.

Victory by Harry A. Kimball's Algaris in the $11,575 Abscon Island Handicap and a dead heat between Mrs. Zelda Cohen's Page-One and Mrs. Alfred Roberts' Thither in the $11,350 Home-Breed handicap featured the closing day program at Atlantic City.

Algaris, a recent arrival from New England, found his initial outing over a grass course to his liking and drove home a two lengths winner over Herman B. Delman's roaming, the favorite and high-weight under 119 pounds of the ten-horse field. Jack L. McKnight's Blue Rhymer was third another half-length back.

Algaris, who earned $7750 for his great Barrington, Mass., owner, paid $13.80, $4.80 and $3.80. Algaris stepped the 5 1/2 furlongs in 1:05 2/5.

IN THE home-bred handicap, Page-One made an effort to steal the race by opening a two lengths lead in the first quarter-mile. The son of Attention began to feel the 122-pound topweight as Thither pulled within a half-length at the top of the stretch.

Jockey Sammy Boulmetis worked hard on Page-One as Thither and jockey Jorge Contreras drew abreast in the final sixteenth of a mile. The two colts battled it out on even terms to the wire as Mrs. F. Wallis Armstrong Jr.'s Granule drove home for the third share of the purse.

GRIDIRON TEAMS SCORE FASTER

Fewer Plays Used Now Latest Survey Shows

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Today's one-platoon football teams need fewer plays to score a touchdown than did the two-platoon specialists of last year.

Through the first 300 games of the present season, the major college eleven have scored a touchdown after 21.5 plays. Last year the same teams needed 22 plays. The survey was made by the National Collegiate Athletic bureau.

The Bureau drew no conclusion as to the cause in the increased scoring. There are football experts who say the present one-platoon style, in which players technically are expected to go the full 60 minutes, has weakened the defense. There are others who insist that a player constantly in the fray will do better on offense.

The survey also shows that each team is passing approximately four times less in each contest than a year ago.

NORTHWESTERN of the Big Ten, has the best average in moving the ball so far this season. The Wildcats crushed Iowa State 10 days ago by sticking to the ground. Last Saturday, they defeated Army 33-20 by moving the ball 223 yards through the air.

The Big Ten darkhorse has averaged 466.5 yards a game. The runner-up is San Jose (Calif.) State which has averaged 400.7 yards against three victims.

When it comes to moving the ball along the ground, Wyoming's unbeaten Cowboys set the pace. They have ground out 1001 yards for an average of 33.7 yards. Princeton is the aerial leader with 214 yards on passes in each of its two triumphs.

Michigan, which belted Washington by a 50-0 score and then beat Georgia Tech only 33 yards gained in 32 plays.

Jack's Column FOOTBALL

The football season is just about to get underway. After the World Series has faded a little bit, football will be the king of sports up until the time Santa Claus begins to take over. There will be some interesting games this season, but my main interest is in what effect the change in rules will have on the game. How this change will either benefit or hurt teams who used the platoon system.

The coaches will be looking for material which will be just as good on the defense as on the offense. I am no expert on football having only an average knowledge of the game; but it seems to me that the football of the first 25 years of the century was a lot different from the football of the last 10 years.

The automobile business has been a lot like football. The cars of 25 years ago are a lot different from the late model cars. A little change from year to year does not show very much but in 25 years the change is quite noticeable. There is only one thing that doesn't change with us and that is our policy in doing business. We aim to be courteous and square and to give you the most for your money. Try us out and I'll bet we will make your team.

Guard Keeps Tech Coach Happy

ATLANTA, Oct. 7 (AP)—Franklin Delano Brooks crossed the street to play college football and Bobby Dodd has been happy about it ever since.

Brooks is a sensational sophomore guard at Georgia Tech, where Dodd holds forth as head coach and athletic director.

The youngster—he's only 19—won the Associated Press' lineman of the week honor for his terrific play against Southern Methodist Saturday. To Brooks goes much of the credit for a scary 6-4 victory over the Mustangs which kept alive Tech's 29-game unbeaten string.

Brooks was an outstanding guard at O'Keefe High school in Atlanta. O'Keefe's football field is just across the street from Tech's practice field, so Brooks was right at home when he shifted to Tech.

Named for the late President Roosevelt, he is called "Squinch" by his teammates because of the

Semple Family Dominates Tourney

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Oct. 7 (AP)—The golfing Semple family of Pittsburgh continued their triumphant advance today in quarter-final annual play of the Homestead's 41st Annual Invitational Golf tournament.

R. H. Semple Jr. downed Stanley McGivern of Toledo, 5 and 4. His brother, H. S. Semple, won his match from Fred Todd of Youngstown, Ohio, 4 and 3.

There will be one fewer Semple in the running after tomorrow's round, however, for the brothers meet each other in the semi-finals then over the difficult par 71 Cascades course.

Today's closest quarter-finals match saw John Rice of Roanoke nip Beverly Shriver of Pittsburgh, 1 up on the 19th hole. Rice, one down at the end of the first nine, went down two holes on the 11th—then rallied to even the match on the 18th green, and finally win it.

Knox Young, Pittsburgh insurance man and the tournament medalist on qualifying day, whipped another Pittsburgh entry, Tom Martin, 2 and 1.

Spangler Outstanding

Al Spangler, Duke's outstanding center fielder during the past baseball season, led the team in hitting with a .384 mark. He also led in runs, hits, home runs and stolen bases.

First Grade Pupils Aid One Another, Help Plan Autumn Nature Study Table

By Mrs. Esther B. Diener, faculty

The children in our Grade 1 room are busy little helpers. They are not only learning to take care of themselves in a new situation, but are very anxious to help each other. They all share in making our room a place where they will be happy in their work and play. Many outdoor nature secrets are brought to school. They form part of our nature study and Autumn table arrangements. Sally Acker brought a pair of plaque pheasants. They found a place above the table. Three squirrels and a deer found their place among the acorns, beautiful colored leaves, corn and pine cones.

A horn of plenty, or cornucopia, is filled with fruit and encircled with squashes that were brought by Robert Reber and David Yost, Darlene Nace, Cheryl Howe and Nancy Sovizal. Paul Fitzcharles and Douglas Weidner brought bouquets of flowers for all of us to enjoy.

Warm and cool colors are studied in connection with the Autumn unit. The drawings on the wall are an outgrowth of this work. They too contain many warm colors.

PLANTS THAT are placed on a low table also present an opportunity to observe the growing plants and watch for flowers. Sharon Moses' African Violet has buds.

We are beginning to read and learn to do many things together that will include both home and school.

We are very thankful to the fathers and mothers who helped us win an award at our first Parent-Teacher meeting.

The names of the children in this room, who help in so many different ways, are: Sally Acker, Donna Beacraft, Evelyn Clary, Alana Frey, Patricia Gephart, Cheryl Howe, Sharon Moses, Darlene Nace, Claudia Paules, Andrea Rumler, Nancy Sovizal, Katie Wilkerson, Douglas Weidner, David Yost, David Hauseman, Wilmer Banks, Mickey Brown, Sylvester Clary, Frank Donofrio, Paul Fitzcharles, James Galloway, Teddy Garry, Stephen Guss, Ron-

Local Pupils Study World Geography

By JOHN MILLER

In our Fourth grade we studied about the many places we live in. The town we live in is Pottstown. The township we live in is Lower Pottsgrove. The county we live in is Montgomery. Bigger than Montgomery county is the State we live in, and that is Pennsylvania. We found out we also live in the United States of America.

There are four oceans in the world. They are the Pacific, Atlantic, Indian, and Arctic.

There are seven continents in the world. They are North America, South America, Antarctica, Africa, Asia, Australia, and Europe.

The continent we live in is North America.

We studied the Eastern and the Western hemispheres.

Fourth Graders Design Posters on Tooth Care

By PHYLLIS NEIFFER

In Miss Bucholtz's Fourth grade we saw a movie called "Teeth are to Keep." Then we decided to draw posters about teeth. Some of the children made posters about good food to eat. Some made posters that said "Do Not Eat Too Many Sweets."

Others wrote posters that said "Birthday's Once a Year, Dentist Twice a Year". Some decided to say "Brush Your Teeth After Every Meal." Since we made the posters, we learned how to keep our teeth nice and clean and white.

Leaves Hard to Find Due to Dry Weather

By GEORGETTE KINGSTON

Our Fourth grade made a chart of Autumn selections. We have bickory nuts, walnuts, acorns, red berries, pine cones, horse chestnuts and chestnuts. We also have pictures of Autumn.

John Miller brought in a pumpkin. We have brought in many leaves even though it is hard to find them since the weather is so dry. Because of the weather it seems like we are not having a nice Fall.

Congressman Treated For Burned Wrist, Hand

RICHMOND, Calif., Oct. 7 (AP)—Rep. Robert L. Condon (D-Calif.) was under treatment today for burns to his right wrist and hand. The congressman was burned while barbecuing steaks for his family at their home in Walnut creek. Condon was burned in his efforts to extinguish flames from grease which caught fire. His office here said he would not be able to use the hand for several weeks.

One of Quadruplets Born To Grandmother Dies

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 7 (AP)—One of the quadruplets born to a 38-year-old grandmother died today. The other three are doing well, according to doctors at Gilgandra hospital, 326 miles northwest of Sydney, where they were born. The dead baby, Margaret, was the last of the four born to Mrs. Ethel Hudson, wife of a fence builder and mother of eight other children.

Slowest Airplane Given Test Flight

SINGAPORE, Oct. 7 (AP)—While Britain and the United States are trying to outpace each other for the world's air speed record, the Royal Air Force tested the world's slowest airplane here today—the Prestwick Pioneer which can fly slower than 30 MPH. Flight Lieutenant N. E. F. Hicknott who flew the plane for its first test flight outside Britain, said "she handled beautifully and gave no trouble." The plane is designed for use on short landing strips and has a wingspan of 50 feet. It is capable of climbing at 700 feet a minute with a top speed of 130 MPH. California uses about 16 percent of the hired farm labor in the United States—more than any other state. Two have been assembled here for communication and other state.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

OSCAR LEVANT, who has made much out of being a surly bird, admits he's a controversial figure, explaining, "people either dislike me or hate my guts." Before he discovered there was gold in being repulsive, he made an indifferent living out of playing the piano (which he does superlatively well) and dashing off an occasional "pop" tune ("Lady, Play Your Mandolin" was the most popular). He liked to visit well-heeled friends, and stayed on and on... After a month at the home of Playwright George Kaufman, Mrs. K. told him, "I thought the servants were beginning to look at you peculiarly, so I gave them each five dollars and said it was from you." "Five dollars!" snarled Levant. "You should have given each of them at least ten. Do you think I want them to go around saying I'm stingy?"

KIDNAPER IS REMEMBERED AS NE'ER-DO-WELL

Hall's Father Was Prosperous Attorney

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—Carl Austin Hall, kidnaper of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease, is remembered in Kansas City as the ne'er-do-well son of a prosperous Kansas attorney, the Post-Dispatch reported today.

The newspaper reported in a dispatch from Kansas City that Hall went through a $200,000 inheritance from his father in just four years.

The father, John Hall, made his fortune at Pleasanton, Kan., and died there in 1946. The son, having spent the inheritance by 1951, went to Kansas City from Kingman, Kan., where he had been charged with armed robbery.

The Post-Dispatch published the following account of the life of crime that was climaxed by a confession from the 34-year-old Hall today that he planned the kidnapping and collected the ransom after burying the dead boy a few hours after he was abducted 10 days ago.

Kansas City police arrested Hall on Oct. 19, 1951, on suspicion of holding up eight taxi drivers.

HALL pleaded guilty of robbing two of the drivers, saying he obtained only $33 in all, and was sentenced to five years in the Missouri State prison. The Kingman, Kan., charge was dropped.

At the time of the sentencing, Hall's attorney pleaded Hall needed a psychiatrist rather than imprisonment, but was told by Circuit Judge Thomas R. Hunt: "This is a very poor time to come in here and ask for an examination."

Kansas City police said Hall told them he attended Kemper Military Academy at Booneville, Mo., for three years and from there went into the US Marine Corps. Police files show him as having been absent without leave from the Marines.

Hall was quoted by the Kansas City police as saying he spent much of the $200,000 in operating liquor stores and playing the stock market, "both of which ventures didn't pan out."

When arrested in Kansas City in 1951, Hall was carrying a pistol. Police quoted him as saying he had planned to rob the Plaza Bank of Commerce in Kansas City but was arrested before he could make the robbery.

'No Idea' He Was Arresting Kidnaper

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—Police Lt. Louis Shoulters, the St. Louis officer who made the original arrest in the kidnapping of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease, said today he had no idea he was picking up a kidnaper when he arrested Carl Austin Hall last night.

The six-foot police officer, who has had a long and active career in the department, told newsmen he had been tipped by an informant that "a man is spending money around the Congress hotel who doesn't look the type."

"I just thought he was some crook with money to spend, probably from a holdup," Shoulters said.

Shoulters and Patrolman Elmer Donlon made the arrest. Hall, alone in his room at the Town House hotel near the Congress, offered no resistance.

Shoulters took a revolver from Hall and opened two new suitcases which contained the ransom cash in $10 and $20 bills. The money amounted to $293,992.88.

Shoulters said he questioned Hall, who appeared "mad because he had been caught so easily," about the money and Hall almost immediately admitted participating in the kidnapping.

BIRTH OF SON HAD FULFILLED FATHER'S DREAM

Greenlease as Boy
Sweet School for
Nickel a Day

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7 (AP)—A boy earning a nickel a day sweeping out a country schoolhouse—a multi-millionaire whose dreams were fulfilled with the birth of a son when he was 65.

Such, in brief, is the story of Robert C. Greenlease Sr., whose kidnapped son was found slain today, ending ten days of suspense for the grief-stricken grey-haired father.

Old friends of the Kansas City motor car dealer recalled that he had hoped for a son of his own, on whom he could lavish his affection, the best of everything.

Today his once-fulfilled hopes were shattered—by kidnapers who killed six-year-old Bobby before they even collected ransom of $600,000.

Greenlease was born on a farm in Saline county, Missouri. At six—the same age as that of his son—he was sweeping out the nearby rural school. He often recalled how he looked forward to winter so he could make five cents a day extra building fire in the school stove.

BY 12 HE was doing a man's job on the farm. To augment his earnings he traveled the country-side on horseback selling biographies of William Jennings Bryan.

With a turn in the family fortunes, the family moved to Kansas City where young Greenlease had to quit school in the sixth grade to go to work. He was the only boy among the six children in the family.

He began as an office boy in a packing plant, rose to mail clerk and spent his nights studying at a commercial college.

A job at an engine factory stirred his interest in horseless carriages, the field in which he made his fortune.

WITH A PARTNER he manufactured three cars, known as the Kansas City Hummer. But after making three of them they found the venture unprofitable.

He then became an agent for another motor car company, selling and renting autos. In 1907 he sold 50 Thomas cars, quite a feat of salesmanship for those days.

But the company failed. Greenlease, now 25, headed for Detroit, where he received the Cadillac franchise for Kansas City.

To show his faith in the car he was selling, he entered a five-day auto race through Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas. He won the 750-mile event and a silver trophy he received still stands in his office.

From there he went on to become one of Kansas City's richest businessmen.

Haas Plans Special Studies for Amish

HARRISBURG, Oct. 7 (AP)—The State Department of Public Instruction today pushed plans for a special study course for Amish children to overcome objections of their parents to secondary school education.

"We hope to work up a course of study in which the Amish children can do their school work at their homes," said Dr. Francis B. Haas, public instruction superintendent.

Though he declined to discuss the school plan, Haas said the course would take as much time for studies as attendance at a public school would require.

"We hope to have the curricula set up within a few days," Haas said.

CHARLES S. NAGLE

STORES PLANNED IN EAST END

Work to Start Within a Month

individual alcove for parking. The shopping center will be on the other side of Moser road from Sunset pharmacy, owned by Richard G. "Dick" Leh and Maurice "Murry" Kressen, and from Westbrook Dress company (and its Rosemont shop), of which William J. Boden Jr. is president.

NAGLE'S announcement is the third major piece of East End development news in the past few months. The first was the opening of a branch bank at High and Wilson streets by the National Bank of Pottstown.

The second was that a big Firestone store would be built at High street and Firestone boulevard, a store that now is under construction.

The East End's period of expansion began during World War II. Since then, several hundred homes have been built there, most of them by Stanley Swinehart, Pottstown contractor.

Spurring development of retail businesses was the heavy flow of workers to and from the huge Firestone Tire and Rubber company, just out of the borough.

THE EAST End long has been the site of large automobile agencies and service stations. Nagle Motors has been at 1340 High street for nearly 20 years.

The 57-year-old Nagle, a native of Pottstown, has been in the auto business a total of 30 years. Before he entered it, he was in the sales department of Nagle Steel company during World War I.

His wife is the former Marian Lewis, who was a Pottstonian before her marriage. They have three children, Janet L. Nagle, a bookkeeper at Memorial hospital; Charles S. Nagle Jr., a recent graduate of Pennsylvania Military college; and Robert L. Nagle. Both sons now are in the Nagle Motors business.

The father has been treasurer of Searles Memorial Methodist church for the past 25 years. His fondness for figurework is indicated by the fact that during this period, the church's audit was never off a penny.

In addition, Nagle is president of the Pottstown YMCA and is a past president of Pottstown Rotary club.

To The Professional Woman

Now, while you are indispensable to the business, is the time to save a pre-determined fraction of your salary — both in War Bonds and in the savings bank.

Pottstown's Finest

Hope for the future lies in Pottstown's schools. The Mercury is publishing pictures of Pottstown's finest, the children in our schools. Every day a new room of school children will be shown here. Save the series, and enjoy them anew in future years.

Fifth graders at St. Peter's parochial school show here how many different kinds of smiles can turn up in one picture. Take a look—you'll see shy smiles, ready smiles, slow smiles, calm smiles, and maybe even a few that take away the teardrops if it made you sad to have to get up this morning.

Pupils in first row are Joseph Tokarski, Richard Wisniewski, James Forciano, Maria Chomyn, Walter Lewisky and John Binczak.

Second row, Edward Adamski, George Ondik, David Heslin, Louise Frederick, Dolores Deloplane and Edward Wozniwicz.

Third row, Larry Istenes, Cecilia Adamski, Jo Ann Karnish and Sandra Woyton.

Fourth row, Sister M. Bertilda (teacher), Teddy Pawlowski, John Tarczynski, John Mata and the Rev. John A. Naja (rector).

Area Man Appeals Driving Suspension; Admits Going 65 mph

A Douglassville man, caught speeding on Route 422, is appealing to Berks county court the State's 90-day suspension of his driving license.

Joseph Sendeki claims that while the State has it in its discretion to suspend a license for speeding, his violation was not serious enough to justify a suspension.

He admits he was driving 65 miles an hour, but pointed out that it was on a dry, clear stretch of four-lane concrete highway, in the morning.

Sendeki is a truck driver but it was while in a pleasure car that he was arrested for speeding.

He paid the fine before Justice of the Peace Charles E. Templin, Douglass township (Berks county). His license was suspended after a hearing in Reading.

After receiving his appeal, Berks

county Judge Warren K. Hess set Nov. 20 for a court hearing. In the meantime, Sendeki's suspension will not be in effect.

Representing him is Goldstan and Goldstan, Reading law firm.

Meeting Slated Tonight By Stowe GOP Group

A meeting of the West Pottsgrove Republican organization has been called for 7:30 o'clock tonight at 335 East Vine street, Stowe, by President Herbert Stauffer.

A program for the coming elections will be planned. Everyone is invited.

Lions Club Renders Iceboxes Harmless

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 7 (AP)—The Lions here today went hunting for death—death-dealing old iceboxes which in other parts of the continent have claimed 14 lives in recent months. By nightfall, 225 had been dealt harmless in one of the most successful civic drives ever staged in Huntington in a single day.

Club members and their wives got help from dozens of other people and had the co-operation of the city Fire and Police departments.

Chairman F. J. White said 75 old refrigerators and iceboxes—about half of each type—were hauled away and destroyed, 40 were stripped of doors or latches, or otherwise made harmless on the owners' premises by firemen and policemen, and 110 others were "given the works" by their owners.

North Carolina's 1953 lamb crop is estimated at 39,000 head, compared with 34,000 head in 1952.

ESTATE DISCLOSED

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Playwright Ferenc Molnar, who died in April, 1952, left a net estate of $110,687, estate tax appraisal figures disclosed today. Beneficiaries of the estate are his widow, of New York City, and a daughter who lives in Hungary.
